STUART R. PADDOCK

The historical society tells us that it is 125 years since the family of Asa Dunton and his two sons took up a homestead from the government on the land on which Arlington Heights is located. This was three years after the treaty with the Indians.

It is interesting to know that two homes erected by the two sons of Asa Dunton, William and James, are still being used. The original home was a log cabin.

We wonder if homes erected in this day and age will be able to withstand the next 100 years.

While the southern states are celebrating the 100th anniversary of the civil war, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ewert, 412 S. Belmont, entertained Mrs. Ewert's aunt, Bertha Echert, of Woodstock, who is celebrating her 100th birthday this year.

She says her parents, who entered this area along the Des Plaines river, did not like the Indians because they stole potatoes out of the fields.

She says she is proud of the fact that she has been a Republican all of her life. Such pioneer spirit is how the northwest suburbs became a Republican stronghold, in the days before the invasion of the Democrats.

Arlington Heights slogan, "City of Good Neighbors" came into existence 40 years ago according to Way Back When of this issue. We think it is as good a slogan as it was then. At least it has not been outdated.

The same story tells of an offer of a lot and home in the area east of the present high school for $1,000.

April 18, 1961 was the scene of a hot election. There was also a hot one the same date fifty years ago with three tickets in the field.

Thirty years ago the late Herman Garms, highway commissioner, defended his action in buying stone delivered at $2 a ton by saying the suppliers were willing to wait three years for their money.

He added that he had found local laborers were unreliable and demanded their money every month, which was impossible in the depression years.

It will be rather difficult for Palatine people to accept the report that the majority of residents between Hicks road and Plum Grove av. prefer to become a part of Rolling Meadows than of Palatine.

The referendum has not yet been held but evidently R. M. has done a good selling job.

Palatine two years ago, by annexing Arlington Crest, built a wall that prevents Arlington's extension west.

Elk Grove Village is thinking about extending its corporate limits north of the tollway, in which area Arlington has been interested.

Turn about is fair play. Arlington Park District in a referendum Saturday annexed the Kirchhoff farm industrial area that is located within the village of Mt. Prospect.

Five years ago Arlington Heights village turned thumbs down on the same area that the Arlington park district has now acquired.

It would not surprise us if Schaumburg village made an effort to extend its limits north toward Palatine.

As we see it the village of Palatine can still go south, west and north but how long it will be virgin territory remains to be seen.

The municipality of Barrington Hills, with 30 square miles within its boundaries, is an example of good foresight. It lays claim to being the largest village in area in the United States, although it has only 1700 inhabitants.

WHERE DO WE GO FROM HERE?

VILLAGE CAUCUS IN CLEAN SWEEP

Glantz Top Vote-Getter

The hard-to-beat combination of good candidates and superior organization turned the tide in favor of the Village Caucus party Tuesday.

Some 7,200 Arlington Heights voters — 50 per cent of those registered — streamed to the polls to elect a village president, clerk and three trustees. Caucus candidates swept the field.

Elected president was 39-year-old John G. Woods, 501 N. Windsor dr., an attorney employed as general counsel for Universal Oil Products co., Des Plaines.

Winning the office of village clerk was Mrs. Alberta Foerster, 56, of 1541 N. Ridge.

NEWLY ELECTED trustees are Richard H. Glantz, 38, of 202 S. Stratford rd., Norval B. Stephens, 32, of 330 S. Bristol ln., and William J. Moore, 30, of 6 S. Waterman.

Finishing surprisingly strong were candidates of the Good Management party. Also making a good showing, but pulling up third, were representatives of the Citizens party.

The election served notice the caucus system is here to stay. Introduced to Arlington Heights in 1957 by the late village president Edward G. Carlisle, the caucus public meeting method of selecting candidates has won wide support.

In a statement to the Herald late Tuesday night, Robert H. Bukowski, 810 N. Dunton, Good Management candidate for president, promised to "maintain a continued active interest in village government."

JOSEPH SCHNELLER, 212 S. Dwyer, presidential candidate on the Citizens ticket, said: "I extend my hearty congratulations to the winners. Theirs was a hard-fought victory."

Unofficial vote totals are as follows:

Clerk: Mrs. Foerster, 2,549; Irving A. Johnson (GM), 2,414; Mrs. Doris Jarvis (Citizens), 2,007.

Trustee: Glantz, 2,877; Stephens, 2,642; Moore, 2,521; Kurt F. Meyer (GM), 2,377; Mrs. Gladys Carlisle (GM), 2,350; Barney V. Erickson (Citizens), 2,218; Henry P. Wist (GM), 2,205; George T. Coker Jr. (Citizens), 1,910; James W. Sutton Jr. (Citizens), 1,869.

GLANTZ POLLED the highest number of votes — 162 more than Woods. Johnson captured the most votes of the Good Management candidates and Erikson led the Citizens slate.

Woods, being advised of his election, said: "Now let's direct our efforts toward the creation of a better Arlington Heights."

He pointed out that he will encourage constructive criticism and indicated an anxiety to get on with the implementation of the Caucus party's 14-point platform.

The platform states the village's largest single problem is its rapid growth, which is complicated by the necessity of maintaining the "basic character of the community" while holding taxes to a satisfactory level.

VOTE TOTALS of Tuesday's village election are examined by John G. Woods (left), newly elected president of the board of trustees, and Richard H. Glantz, trustee-elect. Glantz garnered the most votes of the 15 candidate running for five village offices.

Education— Or Economy

(See "School Board Candidates Used Irresponsible Plea" on this week's editorial page.)

by HELENE BRISTOL

The hottest controversy since it opened its doors to students in the Roaring Twenties now confronts Arlington - Prospect high school district 214 in the Soaring Sixties.

These issues threaten to split the new board wide open:

—Which comes first in a school board's consideration, economy or education?

—How much control should a board exercise over the routine administration of high schools?

—Should Harold Slichenmyer be retained as superintendent?

WITH A TAX rate now down to $1.32 (compared to $1.52 in 1958), some board members continue to cry poor mouth, watch the pennies, and honor the "sacred" budget. Meanwhile, class sizes have swollen, faculty salaries have lagged behind the median for this area, and students and faculty are compelled to finance such things as speech activities by selling popcorn.

Painstaking probes are made of even the most minor administrative matters.

Recently, individual board members requested comparison of the number of tape recorders, typewriters and library books at Prospect and Arlington buildings. In curriculum sessions, teachers have been subjected to intense questioning of ability grouping in classes, even though this is the accepted school program. Board members have demanded investigation of routine extra-curricular activities, recently changing the evening science seminar plan.

These matters are not normally considered school board areas of control although this is not true in all districts. The basic problem with district 214 school board's "super supervision" is an attitude of criticism and lack of confidence, rather than one of cooperation with the school administration.

In the meantime, school enrollments swell, further complicating the regular work burden of the administration. The additional load of unnecessary school board interference makes efficient operation difficult.

CLIMAX OF the growing controversy came just before the recent school board election, when board members met in executive session to undertake annual rehiring of administrative personnel. A three-to-three split almost cost Slichenmyer his job.

The threat by some board members to take the issue to the Herald before election was successful in forcing reconsideration of the vote, and Slichenmyer was assured of at least another year in office.

Ranged in one camp — brandishing a banner of low taxes and "protection of voters" from academic frills— are Daryl Oldaker, George Laubenheimer and William Spomer.

Supporting the need for "quality education" and the present administration is Kenneth Dougan, former board president. His supporters in the past—Dr. Keith Wurtz, Orville Rumrey and Charles Lockwood — are no longer board members.

LOCKWOOD resigned on moving from Prospect Heights, and his seat was taken by John Haas, an avowed "middle of the roader."

The other new board members are Mrs. Eugenia Chapman and Charles Fyfe.

Mrs. Chapman, a former teacher and an active civic worker, is expected to lean toward Dougan's emphasis on "quality education" rather than "low taxes for low taxes sake."

Fyfe campaigned on a dual ticket with Oldaker, but his action at the first business session of the new board indicated a possible independent attitude. During discussion of keeping all schools in the district completely comparable in all details—a Spomer - Oldaker - Laubenheimer theme — Fyfe spoke strongly for upgrading new schools in opposition to Oldaker.

A POSSIBLE disadvantage for Fyfe in the future is that he is sitting on the board with Spomer. Both men are employed by Pure Oil company, where Spomer holds higher position in the firm.

Both Dr. Wurtz and Rumrey believe the Oldaker campaign was aimed, at least in part, at them. They term it a "successful effort to eliminate our opposition on the board."

Pressure on the new board members has started to shape the battle lines.

The new 1961-62 budget is already in the hands of the finance committee, composed of Spomer and Mrs. Chapman. Consideration of the budget will spotlight the controversy before the board.

Future educational standards and tax rates will rest on settlement of the basic issues by the seven-member board.

Unique Meeting

Inter-Faith Panel Sunday

"Bridges to Understanding," inter-faith discussion forum sponsored by 17 suburban churches, will be held Sunday at 8:15 p.m. in Arlington Heights.

The general public has been invited to attend the unique panel program in Recreation Park fieldhouse, 500 E. Miner st. No admission will be charged.

The forum will probe lay developments in Protestantism, Roman Catholicism, and Judaism in northwest suburbs.

CHARLES E. HAYES, executive editor of Paddock Publication newspapers, will act as moderator for a panel of experts including:

—Dr. Martin E. Marty, noted Protestant theologian, writer and lecturer, who is associate editor of Christian Century magazine and pastor of the Church of the Holy Spirit, Elk Grove Village;

—Dr. Paul Mundy, prominent Catholic lay leader and associate professor of sociology, Loyola university; and —Rabbi Hillel Gamoran, rabbi of Beth Tikvah congregation in Roselle.

CHAIRMEN of the program are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O. Grisell, 620 N. Highland ave., Arlington Heights, who head a planning committee of 19 suburbanites representing 17 congregations from the three major faiths.

The discussion will include the following areas of interest, according to the Grisells:

—relationship between clergy and laity;

—role and responsibility of laity, lay activity and developments;

—what is happening to the layman, how is his role changing, and is there a new concept of lay activity in the three religions;

—challenge of the laity in a suburban situation;

—responsibility of a suburban laity to the community and to broader social concerns; and —the future of lay activity, both at local level and in relation to world-wide lay developments.

MRS. GRISELL said this forum is the first of its kind ever held on an area-wide scale in the northwest suburbs.

Sunday Club Card Party

The first card party to be sponsored by the Sunday Evening club of St. John Church, Arlington Heights, is scheduled for April 21 at 8 p.m. in the fellowship hall on Evergreen and St. James sts.

There will be refreshments and prizes. Tickets may be obtained by calling CL 3-3851 or CL 5-0089 for a donation of 75 cents.

Despite Protests

Board OKs Rezoning Of Treatment Plant

An outspoken — sometimes unruly — group of Arlington Heights residents attended Monday's meeting of the board of trustees to object to the creation of an M-2 conditional manufacturing district.

But the board voted unanimously to create the district and to zone the village's inoperative sewage plant under the new classification.

Before concurring with recommendations of the plan commission, trustees heard property owners' representatives deliver eloquent speeches in opposition to creation of the district and the new zoning.

THE SPEAKERS' oratory was marred, however, by audible moaning and groaning from the audience of some 50 residents. One man yelled out, "How much are you (the trustees) getting paid?"

Village president Harold E. Carlson was forced to gavel the crowd to order several times.

In voting to amend the comprehensive zoning ordinance, trustees knocked down all but one barrier to the relocation of Consumers company, a ready-mix firm, from its present location at 301 W. Northwest hwy. to the old sewage plant.

THE FINAL barrier is the signing of a lease with the company. The lease will probably be considered Monday at an adjourned board meeting at 8 p.m.

Voicing objections on behalf of about 650 residents Monday were John Lynch, 433 S. Forrest; Charles R. Barton, 321 S. Windsor dr., and Warren G. Peterson, 118 S. Prindle.

The spokesmen objected to the relocation of the concrete company to their neighborhood on the grounds it would lower property values and cause health and traffic hazards.

LYNCH, an attorney, said his constituents "intend to see that taxpayers' lawsuits are filed" against the board's action.

George Jirgal, who represented Lauterbarg and Oehler funeral home 2000 E. Northwest hwy., predicted serious traffic hazards will come about if the company moves to the sewage plant in the southeastern section of the village.

The plan commission voted 6 to 1 Saturday to recommend to trustees the zoning map be amended. The lone negative vote was cast by William Hannum, who said he feared more traffic problems.

A MOTION to create the M-2 district was made by Trustee Samuel Wit and seconded by Trustee William Sauer. Trustee Eugene Schlickman moved the sewage site be zoned under M-2 and Sauer seconded.

The village has been fighting for more than five years to remove Consumers company from its busy Northwest hwy. location.

Scarsdale Estates Out

Voters Split on OK Of Park Annexations

Residents of the Scarsdale Estates subdivision voted 72 to 28 Saturday against annexing to the Arlington Heights park district.

Those in the Park Manor subdivision, however, voted 46 to 3 in favor of annexation.

The affirmative vote by Park Manor residents means that subdivision and Kirchhoff's subdivision to the east will be integrated into the park district. The latter tract includes Charles Bruning Company, Inc., 1800 W. Central rd., Mt. Prospect.

A BRUNING company vice president told the Herald he is unhappy with the annexation, indicating if the company "has to be in a park district, it would rather be in the Mt. Prospect district."

Thomas Thornton, park district director, said he understood a Bruning attorney had met with the park district attorney, but that he has heard of no official protest by the company.

"Geographically, it would be impossible for the Mt. Prospect park district to annex the Bruning plant," Thornton noted. He added that Mt. Prospect park officials have known about the annexation plan for several weeks.

RESIDENTS OF the Arlington Heights park district, voting at Pioneer and Recreation parks Saturday, agreed 199 to 20 to annex Scarsdale Estates and 205 to 21 to annex the Park Manor and Kirchhoff's subdivisions.

Approval of both park district and subdivision voters was needed for annexation success.

The refusal of Scarsdale Estates residents to approve annexation was attributed to the comparatively few children in the area and the economic ability to utilize private recreational facilities.

Award Contract

Arlington Heights trustees voted Monday to award a contract for the extension of street light poles to Frank L. Frabel of Chicago, low bidder at $3,337.

Village to Oppose Rezoning Requests

One of the village's biggest headaches — the Arlington Heights Gardens subdivision — leaped into the news again this week.

The Cook county zoning board of appeals served notice Monday it will hold a public hearing Wednesday, April 26, to deal with two rezoning requests by the project's developer, Realty Company of America (RCA).

The subdivision, contemplated to have 300 homes, is located south of Central rd. and west of Arlington Heights rd. It is not a part of the village.

RCA IS asking for rezoning of 23 acres south of White Oak st. from R-3 to R-4. The company also wants one-third of an acre zoned for special use to permit construction of a second water pumping station.

Village manager L. A. Hanson told the Herald he intends to oppose both rezoning requests.

He explained that streets platted in the subdivision will not coincide with streets adjoining to the north and south and that another pumping station will "further complicate the village's position."

Village officials have been wrangling with the developer since September, 1960, when the board of trustees voted to deny water to the subdivision. The two parties then began unofficial negotiations.

MID-STATES Utilities, Inc., Schaumburg, hired by the developer to supply water, announced January 27 that "all negotiations with Arlington Heights are over."

The county zoning board approved the subdivision's independent water installations February 6. Since then, there has been little or no contact between the developer and the village.

The village board originally denied the project water in the hopes the developer would be compelled to seek annexation to the village, thus insuring compliance with the village's high building and zoning standards.

BUT THE developer decided to avoid annexation by sinking wells, therefore complicating the village's southward expansion to the toll road as envisioned by the master plan.

Gardens' homes are going up on lots with 40 and 50 feet frontages, village officials point out. Arlington Heights zoning code requires 70 foot frontages. The only way the village can control the development is to annex it.

Next Wednesday's hearing will begin at 3 p.m. in the Mt. Prospect village hall. (AF

PAINTING UP NEW OFFICE of Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce are Edward L. Mills (right), chamber director, and Donald Hess, executive manager. The chamber office was relocated to 11 S. Vail over the weekend. It was previously situated at 104 N. Evergreen. The chamber's telephone number, CL 3-1703, will remain unchanged.

Vote Extra-Duty Faculty Increment

After months of delay, extra-duty increments for the Arlington-Prospect district 214 faculty were adopted by the school board Monday night.

The increments are token payments made to teachers for supervision of extra-curricular activities such as band, chorus, drama and sports. It also includes extra allowances for department heads, counselors and teachers who are heads of families.

ADOPTION of the extra-duty increments will mean release of teacher contracts, normally completed before spring vacation.

Sport extra-duty increments are for team coaching. These range from $550 to $200, depending on the amount of extra time required of the faculty member.

Some of the delay in adoption of the increment schedule was prompted by a board desire to strengthen the academic extra-duty program in relation to the sports program.

Added to the schedule was a new assistant director of chorus, a second assistant dramatics coach, freshman debate coach and assistant individual speech events coach.

THE NON-SPORT extra-duty increments range from $700 for chairmen of large departments and $1,000 for dean, down to $100 for the new assistant chorus director.

In all cases the increment payments are given to cover extra time spent by faculty members in promoting extra-curricular activities. (AF

Two High Schools Set Spring Plays

Fire and poignancy are the ingredients of a theatre weekend announced by high schools of district 214.

The fire is the feud and romance of William Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet." The poignancy is Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett's "The Diary of Anne Frank."

The two plays are scheduled for presentation in a single weekend.

ALTHOUGH THE two plays will be presented almost simultaneously, theatre fans can attend both. "Romeo and Juliet" will be presented in Arlington's Little Theatre May 4, 5, and 6. "The Diary of Anne Frank" is scheduled for Prospect's Theatre May 5 and 6.

Chosen independently by directors at the two neighboring schools, the two plays present more points of likeness than their degrees of fame. Both are serious with touches of comedy. Each has a story of young love marred by man's inhumanity to man.

"THE DIARY of Anne Frank" concerns the plight of a group of Jewish people hiding from Nazi tyranny during World War II. The play won the Pulitzer Prize and the New York Critics' Award. Leroy Hollenbeck is director of the Prospect play.

"Romeo and Juliet" is one of the theatre's most famous love stories and the source for some of Shakespeare's most often quoted lines. Douglas K. Murphy is directing the Arlington high school production.

No Contest In Library Board Vote

Mrs. Nathalie H. Wallace and Robert D. Dibble, the only two residents to file as candidates for the Arlington Heights library board, were handily elected Tuesday.

Mrs. Wallace, of 120 S. Kennicott, received 3,672 votes. Dibble, of 817 N. Chestnut, an incumbent, was accorded 3,585.

AMONG MORE than 50 residents receiving write-in votes were Mrs. Blanche Ashton, Thomas J. Houser, Doris Jarvis, Paul Kindler, Joe Boder, Roger Burke, Wendell Prunty, P. K. Ladas, Curt Kenyon and William Stull.

The library board meets next at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday, April 25, at the library, 112 N. Belmont. (AF

Annual Opinion Poll Is on Way

Representative Marguerite Stitt Church (R), 13th District, announced this week that 89,742 copies of her annual questionnaire on significant national issues were mailed from Washington on April 15.

Once again the poll sheet will be mailed to every fifth person on the list of registered voters within the district so that, by dropping down one name each year, it can be hoped that the entire district will have been polled within a five year limit.

Constituents not receiving a poll through this scientific sampling method can obtain a different colored copy of same by writing to Mrs. Church. Such additional poll sheets will be carefully noted, even if they cannot be tabulated with the original sampling.

"THE RESULTS of our 13th district poll in former years," said Mrs. Church "have received national attention." "Again I repeat that the responsibility for decisions remains my own but that I seek to know the thinking of my district on the very important issues listed. Some questions are inserted from earlier polls because still most pertinent. I hope that everyone who receives the poll will answer it in whole or in part and return it in the self-addressed envelope which is enclosed with each questionnaire. A four - cent stamp must be placed on the envelope before mailing."

"All those who return a signed questionnaire before May 10, 1961, will receive from me an individual tabulation of the results." (B8

Survival Film To Be Screened

"Seconds for Survival," a film presentation, will be shown at the next meeting of the Wheeling Township Democratic Woman's Organization. R. A. Duda, Illinois Bell representative, will show the film.

The meeting will begin promptly at 8:30 p.m. at the Democratic headquarters, 111 E. Davis, Arlington Heights.

FOLLOWING the film, Mrs. Mary Tribby will speak on parliamentary procedure. At the March meeting, Mrs. Irene Widner was elected vice president of the organization. Mrs. Widner is taking the place of Mrs. Maribell Peterson, who moved to California.

Refreshments will be served. Attendance prizes will be awarded. (B8

Bill Cook Elected To Council

W. E. Cook of Bill Cook Buick, Arlington Heights, has been elected to the Chicago Zone Buick Dealer council.

Cook was named to the 16-man council by fellow Buick dealers in his district. The zone council is the first stage of a 3-stage nationwide organization chosen by Buick dealers to discuss retail phases of the automobile business.

Cook has been an Arlington Heights Buick dealer since 1957. He is a member of the Lions and Elks clubs, and the Chamber of Commerce. He is also president of the N. U. Auto Dealers association.

He lives at 1502 E. Fremont, Arlington Heights. (BB

Blind Since Birth

UPI Focuses Camera On Palatine Teacher

A major news service this week took time out from space flights and international incidents to focus a camera on a Palatine elementary classroom, where a blind teacher was leading 25 students in discussion.

Miss Barbara Winters, believed by Palatine - Rolling Meadows district 15 administrators to be the first blind teacher in elementary classes, will be completing her first teaching year when the June bell sounds summer vacation.

SHE THINKS she's been successful and so does George McKown, principal of the Stuart R. Paddock grade school where she teaches.

Marion Jordon, district superintendent, stated "I think she's been darn successful . . and you can quote me on that."

Miss Winters, blind since her birth 23 years ago, walked carefully between the desks of her children, leading, provoking discussions on the Orient. Meanwhile, United International Movietone Newsreelmen and reporters trained their cameras on her.

LEANNE MARKS, feature writer and reporter for UPI radio news said her office has been attempting to arrange a filmed interview since last year when it was learned Miss Winters was teaching in the school system.

Paul Sisco, UPI Movietone newsman, said the filmed account of the classroom activities Tuesday probably would be shown on newscasts throughout the nation in several days.

The thing impressing newsmen most was the way children seemed to be oblivious to their presence while setting up camera and sound equipment.

Miss Winters majored in English and was graduated from the University of Illinois with a B average after completing elementary and high school education at the Illinois Braille and Sight Saving school in Jacksonville.

A UNITED PRESS International Movietone cameraman, left, trains lens on Barbara Winters, blind teacher at Stuart R. Paddock school. News agency filmed report which will be distributed nationally to television news casts. Miss Winters completes first year as teacher in the Palatine-Rolling Meadows district 15 school system this June. (A-14

Mental Health Reform Bills Are Submitted

Reorganization bills to create a new Department of Mental Health and codify statutory provisions for mental illness have been introduced in the Illinois House of Representatives.

The legislation, designed along lines Governor Otto Kerner outlined in a March address before a joint session of the General Assembly, would streamline treatment of mental illness in Illinois, proponents of the bill say.

The bill to establish a new Department of Mental Health by July 1, 1961, would supersede and replace the present Department of Public Welfare.

THE MEASURE requires that the mental health director be a psychiatrist with clinical and administrative experience. It sets his salary at $27,500. The bill also creates a statutory Mertal Health Advisory commission of seven members appointed by the governor for overlapping six-year terms.

The codification bill would combine statutory provisions on mental illness now scattered throughout the statutes in one section, and would eliminate obsolete and inoperative statutory provisions, the drafters of it say.

Kerner also has approved release of $147,000 to the Illinois Department of Public Health for allocation to the Highland Park hospital in Highland Park, and $15,838 to the Department of Public Welfare for use at the following state institutions: Dixon State school, $293; East Moline State hospital, $1,145, Kankakee State hospital, $14,400. The money is for repairs and improvements.

THE GOVERNOR also proclaimed April 30 through May 6 as Mental Health week, with emphasis on the employment opportunities in the field of mental health.

It will be the third year of "Operation Friendship' in the 12 Illinois state mental hospitals.

Nearby Kankakee State hospital, which cares for 4,000 patients, will have an open house on April 30, and guides will be available for conducted tours of the facility. (A-14

Policy of Austerity

Kerner's Budget Message Raps Revenue Handicaps

by DICK HOFFMANN

Reading Governor Otto Kerner's budget message on Illinois' financial status is something like listening to an apostle for the Salvation Army exhort a beggar to mend his ways and reform.

The governor, who delivered his financial "report now" speech Wednesday before the 72nd General Assembly, was especially bitter about the revenue restraints under which the state operates.

Calling the Revenue Article now in use (of 1870 vintage) an "Article of Inadequacy," Kerner made a point of mentioning at the outside of his address that he had appointed a commission to "develop a revenue structure for this state which will meet our needs for the next generation."

(The rural legislators of 91 years ago were quite specific about the ways in which revenue could be raised, but the plow that broke the plains is apparently too rusty to turn up sources of money to meet current needs.)

KERNER ADMITTED to the General Assembly that the "total sum of the budget placed before you is staggering." But he blamed this on a budget which covers not 24 months, but 30 months "for it carries over into the next biennium monies which we have borrowed to pay for the deficits of the last six months of this biennium. For the next two years it therefore reflects a policy of austerity in some of our most vital programs."

There is nothing austere, however, about the total budget of the state of Illinois for the next biennium (two years). It is — counting the $345 million bond issues — a whistle - provoking $3,493,737,127.

Of this amount, about 27 per cent of the proposed budget is federal funds or an estimated $850,598,359.

Said Kerner: "The means by which we will pay for these services in the next biennium are basically extensions of existing taxes. They do not necessarily represent the best accommodations of our needs in relation to our resources."

And the governor added the warning that Illinois is in a situation similar to one recently faced by Michigan "with general revenue depleted but funds available for designated uses." The state actually has cash reserves in the amount of $232 million specifically earmarked for certain purposes.

ONE STARTLING example of how Kerner's budget proposal actually does represent belt-notching is in the field of public assistance. The governor recommended that the appropriation for the Public Aid Commission be limited to the amount of money expended during the 71st biennium — $486,206,193. Kerner explained the reasoning behind this recommendation by noting: "Changing economic conditions have materially altered governmental requirements for the biennium now ending. It is my considered opinion that an expansion of our economy, improved economic conditions, lien laws, improved and extended unemployment benefits and vocational training will reduce public aid requirements in the next two years."

But this is about the only area, and an unexpected one, where there will be any reining in of services. It is estimated that final appropriations for the closing 71st biennium will total $2,864,047,200, out of $2,745,777,600 originally appropriated by the 71st General Assembly. The $118,269,600 in additional funds was appropriated by a special session of the 71st General Assembly and the 72nd General Assembly to complete the current biennium.

Kerner hopes to raise needed revenue by upping and broadening taxes within the existing tax structure.

THE CORPORATE franchise tax rate will be increased to 6/20 of one per cent of stated capital and paid-in surplus, and is expected to net $60 million.

Another $119 million yield is expected to be harvested from increasing the Retailers' Occupation and Use tax rates from three per cent to 3½ per cent.

There is $153 million which the state would raise by broadening the bases of the Retailers' Occupation (sales tax) and Use tax at 3½ per cent rate.

Other sources where the increases will be felt are: increase in the cigarette tax rate from 3 cents per package to 4 cents expected to raise $28 million; 1 cent tax per cigar for $6 million, and tax hotel and motel rentals at 5 per cent of gross rental receipts for an anticipated $12 million.

USE OF THESE increased taxes would bring an estimated $378 million into state coffers.

Kerner pointed out that 73.7 per cent of the total budget will be exhausted on schools and universities, mental health and other welfare institutions, assistance to the needy aged, dependent children, the blind and unemployed, and construction and operation of roads and highways (the largest single percentage figure of 28.6 per cent).

"I do not think anyone would suggest abandoning any one of these programs," Kerner told his legislative audience. "We can economize in areas of state government; we can become more efficient; but we cannot turn back the clock to a society of fewer people and less expensive programs."

Kerner also had some bitter words to say about the administration from whom he says he inherited a few of his financial headaches. "The previous administration incautiously approved appropriations at the beginning of the last biennium which, when added to supplemental appropriations, exceeded by $206 million the resources available for the 71st biennium, as estimated at the beginning of the biennium.

"For the first time in memory, the state is ending the current biennium with its working capital completely exhausted. It has substantially no general revenue funds to pay the day-to-day bills of the state. We must borrow money to replenish the working balance and, in addition, we will have to make up a projected cash deficit of $12 million."

THE GOVERNOR said one measure to counter this is by borrowing money from the Service Recognition Bond Fund, and that additional transfers will be made.

Of the $195 million universities bond issue and $150 million mental health bond issue, Kerner said that they will be backed "by the excellent credit of the state . . . supported by taxable property assessed at an aggregate valuation in excess of $33 billion."

Maximum estimate for retirement of principal and interest of these bonds will come to about $54 million by the next biennium, he added. Amplifying on the handling of retiring these incurred debts, the governor said that this money has been included in the budget to be appropriated out of general revenue.

"If we had not provided for the bond issue costs in the general revenue fund," he asserted, "under the terms of the acts approved by the voters, a state property tax on all real and personal property would of necessity have been assessed to provide for these charges."

KERNER ENDED his budget message where he started it, chiding his listeners over the "presentation of a budget dictated by an Article of inadequacy."

"Now—today, is the moment we must take off the blinders of the unrealistic fiscal program inherited from the past," he declared.

Winter's Surprise Blast Has Suburb Cars Skidding

Old King Winter donned his fearsome mask again in the middle of April to send northwest suburban cars skittering into each other and to fill the hospitals with injured.

On Illinois 72 at the Northwest tollroad overpass, Joseph T. Pawlowski, 34, of 1229 Sacramento, Carpentersville, found his car disabled on the left side of the road.

A second car, driven by Edward G. Holzmeister, 41, of 158 Sioux ave., Carpentersville, struck this on the left rear fender. Holzmeister lost control of his vehicle when he applied his brakes on approaching the scene.

Patricia H. Holzmeister, 44, a passenger in his car, was injured and taken to Sherman hospital. Rita N. Pawlowski, passenger in the first car, was unhurt.

DAMAGE to the first car was listed as $250, to the second car as $1250. A guard rail was broken with damage estimated as $1500.

Holzmeister was charged with driving too fast for conditions and damaging state property. The accident happened at 12:15 a.m. April 10.

In a second accident, at the same spot, six hours earlier, Rose Bers, 50, of 716 Jackson, Carpentersville, was traveling east when her car struck the same strip of icy pavement.

Her car ran off the road, struck the guard rail, plowing through this and plunged into a hollow enbankment. Injured, she was taken to the Sherman hospital. The car suffered $1100 damage, the rail, $400. A passenger in her car, David Bers, 59, was unhurt.

Again, at the same spot, 15 minutes later, William F. Lange, 34, of 351 Deleware, Carpentersville, was traveling east.

His car struck the satanic strip of ice, plunged through the guard rail and ended up in the embankment. Damage to his car was $400, to the guard rail, $300. He was unhurt.

DEFECTIVE brakes were the villain in an accident at US 12 at Illinois 53 in Palatine township at 6:10 p.m. April 12, when four cars participated in a chain collision.

When Adrian C. Banas, 17, of Lake Zurich, heading east on US 12 attempted to stop, his brakes failed to hold and his vehicle swerved into the oncoming lane.

His car struck one driven by Frank Cierocke, of McHenry, and ricocheted from the impact to strike both the front and rear of a third car, driven by Danny R. McAllister, 19 of 120 Bonnie Brae, Mr. Prospect.

A fourth car, driven by George Graunke, of Wauconda, coming up behind the second car, which was forced to come to a sudden stop, collided with the second car.

INJURED were Pat Cannon, 15, of 397 Bernard, Buffalo Grove, a passenger in the first car. Orval Culp, said to be a hitchhiker in this car, left the scene and could not be found. Also hurt were Vera Cierocke, a passenger in the second car, and Bessie McAllister, 47, a passenger in the third car. Larry McAllister, 12, also a passenger, was unhurt.

Damage to the first car was $150; to the second, $400, to the third, $200, and to the fourth, $150. The injured were taken to the Northwest Community hospital.

Banas was charged with improper lane usage and having defective brakes.

Dolores Woods, 35, of 981 Berkely, Carpentersville, was driving on Illinois 59 about a quarter mile south of Illinois 62 at 8:15 a.m. April 13, when she lost control of her car.

Her vehicle ran off the road and turned turtle. The driver and two passengers, Sharon Smith, 20, of 525 Maple, Carpentersville, and Mabel White 26, of McHenry, were unjured and taken to Sherman hospital. Damage to the car was listed as $1200.

IN ANOTHER accident, on April 13, Ruth N. Barach, 28, of 509 Thorndale, Elk Grove, stopped for a traffic light on Illinois 72 at Mt. Prospect rd. two miles west of 45.

Coming up behind her car was that of Allen E. Ross, 38, of 244 Harrison st., Carpentersville. When he attempted to stop, his brakes failed to work and his vehicle plowed into the first one.

Injured was Jean Ross, 27, who was taken to Resurrection hospital. Another passenger, Julie Ross, 61, was unhurt.

Ross was charged with having improper brakes. Damage to the first car was listed as $300, to the second as $400.

An attempt to outwit King Winter ran up a tally of three cars in an accident, when Verner E. Erlander, 50, of 3108 Owl dr., Rolling Meadows, heading north, was plowing snow.

This incident occurred on Illinois 53, a quarter mile north of US 14. It happened at 3:30 p.m. April 16.

A CAR driven by John M. Cunniffe, 20, of 8826 S. Dante, Chicago, struck Erlander's vehicle, and turned sideways in the road, blocking it. Third vehicle to enter the fray was that driven by Arnold C. Larsen Jr., 34, of Northbrook, coming up behind him. Larsen's car struck that of Cunniffe in the side.

Injured was Elizabeth Kammey, 20, of Ingleside, a passenger in the Cunniffe car. was taken to the Northwest Community hospit a l. Gottfred Herzog was a passenger in the Erlander car.

Damage listed for the second car was $500, to the third as $75. No damage was listed for the first. (B8

Scout-o-Rama Set For This Weekend

The Northwest Suburban Council's annual Scout-O-Rama, an activity filled panorama of booth exhibitions and demonstrations by Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers will be staged Friday evening, 7:30 to 10 p.m. April 21; Saturday afternoon 2-5 p.m., and Saturday evening 7:30 to 10 p.m. April 22, at O'Hare Field.

Besides the booth exhibition by the individual scout groups, a continuous stage show will be offered throughout the three performances. The show will feature scouts in a variety of Indian dances and pageantry; and a cub scout pantomime group.

A SCOUT and Explorer water show will be a highlight of the entertainment. Arrangements have been made for the use of two large plastic pools which will be assembled and filled with the required 28,000 gallons of water.

A specialized group of explorers are presently being trained in the modern techniques of skin diving. Small boat and craft manipulation and safety will be a further exhibition in the pool area, as will be Scout techniques of swimming and life saving methods.

The portion of the huge T-6 building at O'Hare Field, the former Douglas Assembly Plant, will be transformed into a decorated and lighted show place for the estimated 65,000 persons who will attend Scout-O-Rama.

THE CAST OF performers throughout the three performances is expected to reach 15,000 scouts and their adult leaders. Between 12 and 15,000 automobiles can be accommodated.

General admission tickets, at 50 cents each, have been on sale since March 6.

Scout units participating in the ticket sales program benefit through the receipt of a commission which normally goes towards the purchase of new equipment, or is used to send boys to summer camp in Wisconsin. (B8

Children's Art Display Planned

In observance of National Hospital Week, May 7 to 13, grammar schools throughout the area served by Northwest Community hospital have been invited to participate in a children's art exhibit at the Community hospital.

An invitation has been mailed out by Alan B. Campbell, hospital administrator, to principals of public and parochial schools in 14 communities outlining plans for the exhibit. All art work shown would have relationship to hospital activities and would picture some of the people or some services commonly associated with hospitals.

ART WORK received will be displayed around the walls and lobbies of the lower floor of Northwest Community hospital, and the public will be invited to view the pictures during the May 7 to 13 period. With displays confined to specified areas on the first floor of the building, there will be no interference with the regular routine of hospital service.

Already a number of schools have notified Campbell of their intention to participate and others interested are urged to fill out the entry blank sent them and to bring their pictures to the administration office of the hospital prior to April 30.

Questions should be directed to Mrs. Harriett Abernethy in the office of the administrator at Northwest Community hospital. (B8

County Overhaul Proposed

Metro Government Issue Facing Its Severest Test

Metropolitan government — the political octopus with the thirsty tentacles or the streamlined epitome of governmental purpose — depending upon your persuasion, is facing its severest test where it is strongest: Dade county — Miami, Fla.

While arguments about political influences and duplication of services is still no more than verbalized and a gleam in the planner's eye in the Chicagoland area, the Florida resort county's four-year old marriage to metro government is wearing thin.

With the honeymoon over, a move is underway to repeal the metro charter by referendum. Only 10,000 signatures out of a total of 300,000 registered voters are required to force the referendum.

THE CRISIS has been created by the forced resignation of the county manager and the inclusion of 45,000 new property owners' names to the tax rolls.

The government raised property on the tax rolls from a former 40 to 60 per cent of full cash value to the legally required 100 per cent. It brought under taxation for the first time an estimated 45,000 parcels previously assessed at or below the $5,000 homestead exemption limit.

But if this move has created 45,000 new enemies of metropolitan government, it will also allow tax breaks for others, including the plush resort hotels and industries which were previously among the foes of consolidated government.

The Miami-Dade county metropolitan government, headed by 13 commissioners, has a trump which could put down the abolition play.

This is the metropolitan transit system which should be operational by mid-summer; it welds the county's seven bus lines into one functional whole under metro control. A transportation authority created to administer the program is negotiating a $10 million bond issue to pay for the private bus lines.

WITH THE abolition threat looming, another pressing decision facing the metropolitan commissioners is whether they should move in the direction of consolidating functions of the 27 Dade municipalities under central control or instead act as instructor in setting minimum standards to which the communities conform by means and costs of their own councils' choosing.

So far, the country's central government has carried out three consolidation programs: it integrated the traffic courts; it took over licensing of building tradesmen; it absorbed all traffic engineers.

About three years ago, county, city and suburban officials from Milwaukee, Wis., spent a week in Miami studying the new Dade county metropolitan government. But the Milwaukee officials subsequently decided to streamline the county government to prepare it to take over additional responsibiliban, with three members elected at large. White said the Cook county government is "creaking along on 1870 formulae."

HE ADDED: "Behind tax collection lags, assessment inequities, unmanageable jails, wholesale bungling in election processes, gangster defiance and mockery of Keystone Cop protection, there can be found anti-Home Rule statutes geared to the 19th century.

"The easier course has been to castigate incumbent officials rather than to work for legislation which would modernize Cook county government in keeping with the realities of the 20th century."

White's revamping program would absorb all the duties of the county sheriff's office in the welfare and operations departments and the county judiciary.

The present county highway department would be made a part of the state highway department or a new metropolitan police force, and the coroner's office abandoned in favor of a medical examiner system responsible directly to the state's attorney's office.

The superintendent of schools would be appointed by the president of the county board, and clerks of all courts by judges. The president of the county board would be elected from among the three commissioners elected at large by the board.

THE GLENVIEW resident, who is a director with the Better Government associaties.

IN THIS vein, John J. White of Glenview, Democratic candidate for suburban Cook county commissioner in 1958, last month proposed overhauling the county government in an address before an area Rotary club.

White called for elimination of all elective county officers with the exception of the county board of commissioners and state's attorney. He also proposed regrouping on "a functional basis" all duties of county government with the total authority vested in the board implemented through appointed professional departmental directors.

Other points he made called for:

—establishment of a permanent department of metropolitan planning;

—election of six members of the county board from sectors which would be composed of part city and part suburtion, also called for revision of the county election laws so that "exacting standards of non-partisanship" would be imposed upon employes of the election board.

Of the suggestion advanced recently by some Republican suburban leaders to form a county separate from the city of Chicago, White said: "Suburban secession in 1961 provides a no more sensible solution than the Southern secession in 1861. This is no time to play 'Run, Sheep, Run.' "

Advocates of metropolitan government say it would eliminate duplication of effort by police and fire departments, in transportation, and other governmental fields.

FOES OF the proposal see it as a means by which Democratic-dominated Chicago would extend its political influence throughout the suburban area.

So far, about the only form of super government which has taken shape in the Chicago area is the Metropolitan Sanitary District of Greater Chicago which serves the sanitary and sewage needs of much of the metropolitan complex. (B8

Grade School Named in Honor Of Ex-Teacher

Lake Zurich residents recently honored the mother of Mrs. Charles K. Bobinette, 308 Drury ln., by naming a grade school after her.

Mrs. Bobinette's mother, May E. Whitney, graduated in the first Barrington high school class in 1888. She taught in the area and maintained high interest in academic achievements until her death in 1949.

Her daughter, Almira, taught in Lake Zurich schools for many years, and her grandson, Frank Heybeck, is assistant superintendent of schools there. (A

Students Score High in Science, Math Competition

Arlington high school science and mathematics students scored highly Saturday in the District Junior Academy of Science Exposition Fair at Highland Park.

Five science projects and four mathematics entries were awarded first place ribbons.

SCIENCE WINNERS were Nancy Bohac, for a study of proteins; Patty Faust, who examined the "Effects of Chemicals on the Growth Rate of Bacteria;" Jay Lemke, for a study of "Cosmology, Summit of Astronomy;" Ted Milliken, who submitted a study of "The Effects of Environment Temperature on the Metabolic Rate;" and Tim Hunter, for "Spectroscopic Studies."

Second place science awards went to Diane Lake for "The Sextant and Experiments Employing It;" Charles Read, for "Comparative Anatomy of Vertebrate Hearts;" and Phil Craig and Richard Yoder, "Measuring Gravitational Red Shift."

Third place awards were given Conrad Neumann (Binary Digital Computer); James Bliss (The Relationship Between Precession and the Gyroscopic Effect); and Greg O'Brien, (The Millikan Oil Drop Experiment).

Janet Sauer, Bob Conti, Steve Cains, Gerald Reinwaldt, and Pat Tansey combined talents for a study of mathematics "Og to Googolplex," a first place winner. Janet Sauer's individual project, "Sets-Inequations," also won a first place award.

A BINARY computer, constructed by Larry Schmidt, Tom Hewitt, Richard Yoder, received first place recognition, as did Robin Auld's and Jim Kivi's mathematic models.

Second place mathematics awards went to Dennis Whiteside, Michael Masney, and Bob Conti, for "Binary-Key to Games;" and Kathy Casteel for "The Golden Number, Tau." (ACM

Music Group Nominating Report Set

A nominating committee will present a slate of officers for the 1961-62 year of Music-on-Stage, Inc. at their next regular meeting, April 24 at the home of Mrs. R. H. Dietrich, 13 S. Parkway, Prospect Heights.

As this is the first gathering of the members since the April 7, 8 and 9 presentation of the musical stage play "Rose-Marie" in Palatine high school, on the agenda will be reviews by the production selection committee of various plays and operettas that will be considered for next year's production, the sixth annual.

VOTING FOR officers and the 1962 spring presentation will take place at the May meeting.

As is customary, welcome at each of the meetings are any adults of the area interested in participating or in learning more about the activities of Music-on-Stage.

Next Monday's meeting will start at 8 p.m. (B8

Legislative Trickery Is Exposed by Peskin

by REP. B. M. PESKIN

Remember the furor that was raised over the motor scooter bill four years ago? If you recall, that bill was passed by tacking an amendment onto another bill on the last night of the Legislative session and it passed without opposition, since no one knew what the amendment did.

Well, the same trick was pulled on June 30, 1959, with another measure and only last week the Illinois House took steps to rectify what had been done.

AT THE LAST session of the Legislature, a bill was introduced amending the Medical Practice Act to require a person to be a citizen of the United States before he could take the examination to be licensed as a doctor of medicine. The statute at that time required only that the applicant announce his intention of becoming a citizen.

This bill was overwhelmingly defeated in committee, failing even to reach the floor of the House. It had been introduced at the request of the Illinois State Medical Society.

On the night of June 30th, when some 600 bills were passed in that one day, the Senate passed another House bill which made some changes in the Medical Practices Act. In so doing, someone in the Senate tacked on an amendment with the identical language of the bill we had defeated earlier. This amendment was adopted and the bill passed.

A few hours later this bill came back to the House for concurrence in the Senate amendment. There was, of course, no time to print the amendment and put copies on the desks of the House members.

THE HOUSE sponsor of the bill then moved to concur in the Senate amendment and made the statement on the floor of the House that it was purely a technical amendment and made no substantive changes in the bill. This, of course, was a deliberate falsehood and the bill eventually became law.

During the intervening months between sessions, several of us spoke to the lobbyist for the State Medical Society in an attempt to have him initiate a repealer of this change in the law which had been sneaked through the House. When he refused to do so, Representative Paul Elward (D-Chicago) introduced a repealer which the House passed last week.

The arguments on this bill were strange. Those who attempted to keep the law as it is today argued that if a man wants to be licensed to practice medicine in this state, he should be a citizen. I have no quarrel with this argument. What the bill's opponents failed to realize was that the honor of the entire House was at stake with this issue.

IF WE ARE to permit the members of the Legislature to stand on the floor of the House and deliberately mislead the rest of the members as to the contents of an amendment when he has the only copy of that amendment in his hand, then our entire bill making process must deteriorate into a contest to see who can be the greatest deceived.

With the great number of bills piling up in the last weeks of the session, and the necessity for adjourning on June 30th, unless we can take the word of a fellow member as to the contents of any measure or amendment, then we must necessarily refuse to vote for bills unless and until the printed amendments are in our hands. Since it is impossible to print last minute amendments in time to have them in our hands before we vote on bills, we must rely on the good faith of the bill's proponents.

I think we can all be proud that the members of the House at least, irrespective of their feelings on the merits of the legislation itself, decided that it was more important to do honor and justice to ourselves.

I am hopeful that our actions of last week will serve as an example to those who would seek to pass legislation in the manner in which this was done at the last session. Next time, if there is a next time, the culprit will not be cloaked in anonymity. His name will be announced loud and clear from the floor. BS

COLOR TV FACTS

by ED LANDWEHR

A couple remarks you hear regularly about color television which are not factual are "Color TV sets are too complicated to service" and "the color reception is unreal."

Because the major portion of color TV is black and white, most service problems deal with this part of the receiver. They are mostly routine maintenance jobs. When the color section is in need of service, it gives positive indications making it easy to isolate the stage at fault.

Regarding the color picture, TV receivers produce colored scenes comparable to the finest color films in first-run theatres. In fact, TV color can exceed in range the results obtained by most printing processes.

Although color receivers do contain additional tubes and circuits, statistics show that the need of maintenance is only slightly increased over black and white. Phone CLearbrook 5-0700. The LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, has the finest in this line.

INSURANCE CENTER proprietors Victor Beisler (left) and William Griffith contemplate plans for their business' open house scheduled for this Saturday from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. The center, located at 15 N. State rd., was opened January 1. It contains the offices of Beisler Insurance agency and Griffith Insurance agency.

Insurance Center Sets Open House

The Insurance Center, a cooperative venture entered into recently by two Arlington Heights insurance agents, will have its doors flung open this Saturday for an official open house.

Partners in the center are Victor Beisler and William Griffith, owners of their own independent insurance agencies.

THE CENTER, which started operations January 1, will be open to visitors from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. Refreshments will be served.

Beisler and Griffith decided last year to move their agencies under one roof, thus doubling floor space, acquiring better location and providing better service for the convenience of clients.

The center is located at 15 N. State rd. north of Northwest hwy. It sports 1,000 square feet of working space.

County Board Cuts Forest Preserve Bid

The Cook county board of commissioner Monday has shaved in half a legislative request for forest preserve acreage from 10,000 to 5,000 acres.

The compromise position was suggested by County Board President John J. Duffy after Commissioner Charles F. Chaplin (R., Northbrook) questioned the entire proposal.

CHAPLIN said he wanted to know how much acquisition of the land would cost, where it would be located and how long it would take to acquire the acreage?

Charles G. (Cap) Sauers, general superintendent of the Forest Preserve District, said forest preserve acreage is presently limited to $50,000 acres by the legislature.

Answering a question by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Conkey (D., Chicago), Sauers said: "The state legislature sets the limit on the acreage we can buy and the amount of our indebtedness. The Forest Preserve District is a creature of the legislature which created it (by acts of 1909 and 1911)."

The superintendent said that the limit on the district's indebtedness is set at $44 million, but that present indebtedness is $8 million. "I don't think we'd go beyond $12 million in indebteness (for the land acquisition)," Sauers commented, adding that farm land could be obtained for Norm Smith and Chet Hans-

Chaplin disputed these figures, saying "land in the suburbs keeps going up. We're talking about $70 to $90 million in land purchases."

PRESIDENT Duffy said that it might take up to 10 years to acquire such acreage, and that the purchase of the land would be spread over a period of time.

It was Duffy who asked that the act be amended to request only 5,000 acres from the legislature. Commissioner William N. Erickson (R., Evanston), chairman of the legislative committee, had introduced the bill to the legislature.

The commissioners serve in the dual capacity as the board of forest preserve commissioners. (AF

Haiti Missionary To Speak Sunday

On Sunday, April 23, at 7 p.m., Rev. John Nichols, missionary to Haiti, will speak at the First Baptist church of Arlington Heights, it was announced this week by P. D. Mustric, pastor. The meeting will be held in the Little Theater of the Arlington high school.

Nichols will be showing slides and speaking of the work in Haiti being carried on by the Conservative Baptist Home Missions society. He will also tell something of his call to missionary service and the preparation that has taken place.

HE HAS ATTENDED Fort Wayne Bible college from which he received a B.A. degree in Bible, Western Michigan university which granted him a B.A. in history and Wayne university from which he received a masters degree in education.

Nichols and his wife, who is a registered nurse, have been appointed missionaries to Haiti by the Conservative Baptist Home Missions society, with headquarters in Wheaton. The public is invited to attend this meeting. (A

Eastwood Events

Next-door Lincoln lane neighbors, Jerry Hanner and Ricky Kozakiewicz, both celebrated their fourth birthdays in April. Ricky's actual birthdate is the first, but with all the Easter hubbub he waited 'til April 5 for his party. Games and balloons, and of course, cake and ice cream, all added up to lots of fun for his guests, Scott and David Schultz, Greg and Jerry Hanner, along with their mothers, and his twin sisters, Kathie and Susie.

April 18 is actually Jerry's big day, but last Saturday was a much more convenient date for pony rides for his guests on a farm on State rd. After the exciting experience the children had a hot dog picnic in the Hanner rec room. Ricky, Kathie and Susie and David Schultz shared Jerry's fun-filled afternoon.

Sincerest sympathy is extended to Mrs. Steven Bartolone, 408 N. Hickory. Her 5-year-old nephew died of leukemia, and to add to the weekend of sadness, her grandmother underwent emergency surgery Sunday.

Another neighborhood hospital patient is Frank Soprano of 203 N. Beverley. He has been in Northwest Community hospital since April 1, and had major surgery a week ago Monday. Cards to room 400 would brighten Mr. Soprano's hospital stay.

LESLIE GRACE is the name of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Behm's new daughter. She was born in Ravenswood hospital April 11, and weighed 6 pounds, 6 ounces. The Behms, who reside at 202 Lincoln lane, have two other children, Michele Anne, 6 and Richard Kenneth, 5.

Several junior members of Eastwood society enjoyed an evening of dancing Saturday night. Billy Kasper and George Brinke were among the young people who attended the Stork Club dance at Arlington high school.

Getting ideas for spring planting and floral arranging last week were Nina Hoym, Lor Brinke, Casey Mutti and Helen Kasper. The ladies attended a flower demonstration at Anderson florists. (A

This Week with PTA

The April PTA meetings of the two junior high schools will be held Tuesday, April 25, at 8:15 p.m.

MINER JUNIOR HIGH

"Looking Ahead to College" will be the theme of the Miner meeting. Miss Leotta Hampton, senior counselor and teacher at Arlington high school, will discuss problems of planning and preparing for college. She will also answer questions of PTA parents.

Miss Hampton has visited many of the colleges to acquaint herself with them and has assisted high school students in their selection of colleges and universities.

Election of officers for the coming year will be held at this meeting.

Mothers of eighth grade sections five and six will be hostesses.

SOUTH JUNIOR HIGH

"Off the Record" is the title of a program to be presented by three experts from the school staff. This concerns the records kept by the school on each student, his past performance and potentiality. The information they contain is of most importance in charting the student's course through high school.

Robert Bright will explain the achievement and aptitude tests; Mrs. Ruth Sangster will talk about counseling; and Frank Santelli will discuss the guidance program.

Refreshments will be served by mothers of the sixth grade sections three and four.

End of State Mental Hospitals Foreseen

The day might conceivably come when the burden of supporting state mental hospitals will be lifted from the taxpaying public in favor of a national system of care for the mentally ill on a completely private basis.

This was the revolutionary conclusion reached recently by Dr. Mathew Ross, medical director of the American Psychiatric association, in a speech before the National Association of Private Psychiatric Hospitals.

"Conceivably," Dr. Ross said, "the day might come when most psychiatric services might be finances from some form of voluntary insurance other than from taxes."

Much will depend, he said, on how quickly the nation can come to grips with provision for comprehensive insurance coverage for health care.

ROSS CITED statistics on costs of state mental hospitals to show that a national system of private psychiatric care could be feasible. The state mental health department in Massachusetts, which he cited as an example, now costs each family in the state an average of $48 per year, compared with an average of $200 per year paid by families for all other medical expenses. If this money were paid by families into private insurance plans, complete psychiatric services for all could be provided privately.

Ross paid tribute in his speech to the great increase in community services by private psychiatric hospitals. He said that the private hospitals were taking the lead in explaining mental health to the public, by providing information, and by removing the veil of isolation from their hospitals. He cited the case of Butler Hospital in Providence, Rhode Island. "If you were to stroll around Butler's 136 acres," Dr. Ross said, you might be surprised to find some Boy Scouts camping there. You might see a local young peoples' organization having a basketball game in the gym. A combined patient-staff baseball team plays games regularly with community teams on the baseball diamond. You would discover that many of the Butler buildings, not otherwise in demand, have been turned over to various social agencies for offices. Anyone who happens to be in the area at meal time is welcome to drop in the Butler cafeteria."

Ross praised private psychiatric hospitals for their pioneering role in bringing humane treatment and care to the mentally ill, and for the important role they play providing needed care. "Private hospitals have only two per cent of the mental hospital beds in the nation," Dr. Ross said, but "this two per cent manages to account for 30 per cent of the first admissions to mental hospitals in our country."

"RARE IS THE private hospital," Dr. Ross pointed out, "that does not care for a significant number of nonpaying or partially paying patients." Still others, he added, are providing adolescent care centers, special programs for drug addicts and alcoholics, "weekend hospitals," and youth guidance centers. He told of a California hospital where a new type of residence for elderly men and women has been established. The new type of residence provides, according to Dr. Ross, "a comfortable and congenial place to live, freedom to come and go as they are able, a feeling that they are not in an institution, and some understanding and help with emotional problems." The elderly people are given apartment-type accommodations in an understanding environment, with a full program of group psychotherapy, occupational and recreational therapy.

In commenting on the speech by Dr. Ross, the administrative director of Forest hospital in Des Plaines pointed out that private psychiatric hospitals have an ever growing sense of community obligation. Morris Squire, the Forest hospital administrator, said that governing boards of private psychiatric hospitals were constantly asking themselves this question: "How can our hospital do an even better job of meeting community needs?"

"BECAUSE of this attitude," Squire said, "we have taken every possible step to improve the care provided by the hospital. This has resulted in approval for Forest hospital by the highest hospital agencies in the nation. We have qualified as a Blue Cross - Blue Shield plan hospital, to help make our facilities available to the broadest possible segment of the local community. "Currently," Squire said, "we have embarked on a project of surveying the psychiatric resources of our Northwest suburban area, a project that may take months to complete but which is badly needed."

Squire also reported that a number of community organizations have expressed an interest in the new Forest hospital speakers bureau, and that speakers are still available to fill future requests. (B-8

March Home Building Is 18% Higher

March home building in the Chicago area climbed 18 per cent above the previous year. This is only the second time in the past 19 months that home building has been above the corresponding month of the previous year.

Home permits were 2,442 against 2,057 in March, 1960. Permits in Chicago declined by three per cent while the suburbs registered a gain of 11 per cent and the unincorporated areas rose by 65 per cent.

THE CHANGES in numbers of buildings from March 1960 to March, 1961 are as follows: Arlington Heights, 611,457 to 1,000,580; Buffalo Grove, 74,435 in 1961; Elk Grove Village, 140,775 to 662,855; and Mt. Prospect, a drop from 684,260 to 469,205.

Palatine rose from 231,525 to 239,220; and the number of buildings in Wheeling dropped from 406,600 in 1960 to 382,600 in 1961. (B8

Misspelled Words Are Also Adult Weakness

by MARIANNE SCOTT

So you think the kids nowadays are poor spellers? We have news for you. A recent superficial Paddock survey supports suspicions that nearly 67 per cent of the adults are poor spellers, too.

A note on our desk tells us that a group of local people dined in a local resteraunt, or resturant, whichever you prefer, where they had foods made from dilicious receipes.

An ex-teacher repeatedly reports that residents spend last weekend out-of-town. Others report that neighbours entertained there neice and unkle or extend symthies to a freind. Still other couples have returned from a Europeon tour.

BELIEVE IT or not, many students go on to collage. Congradulations!

And then there was the Wheeling bride whose wedding reception was held in the advents hall and the bridal couple was toasted with champaign. Orchad corsages are popular and many of the ensembles included matching asscories.

Both vails and vales are worn by brides. Skimmer satin is a popular fabric for bridal gowns, but with summer approaching, many will be wearing organdie or lase. Pastors would cringe to see in print that the church alter was decorated with flowers.

However, we hasten to point out that spelling, obviously, has nothing to do with getting married.

In this week's original copy, we found: versital, capitolize, tomatoe, crusing, miniture and upmost degree. Also menues, accomodate, bazzar, weiner, greatful, officiers, comming, feild, auxilliary, and Indianapples.

And paudusoy — we dare you to find that in any dictionary — in any language!

LEST YOU THINK these errors are merely typographical, we must mention that these writers are adamant. Despite the editor's changes each week, they persist in using their own spellings. Which leads us to conclude that they don't recognize that the spellings have been altared, or rather altered.

Worse yet, they don't know that they can't spell so have no need of a dictionary. They will admit, however, that they have difficulty with megalomania or oligarchy and thence resort to Mr. Webster. But then problems arise when they don't know how to spell the word to look it up.

Now we editors aren't actually complaining. It's just that we are constantly astonished with the variance in phonetics and we are sincerely concerned with the future welfare of the country's spellmanship. Imagine a school child asking his parents how to spell anemic: his mother answers enemic, but the father corrects her with aneemic.

O well, maybe they'll altar the dictionery! (B8

Industrial Arts Pupils Attend Meet

Friday, April 28, will be travel day for more than 400 Arlington and Prospect high school vocational-industrial arts students.

The students will spend the day at Northern Ilinois university, DeKalb, at the fourth annual Northern Illinois Industrial Education exhibit.

Student exhibits from industrial arts classes will be divided into three levels, with eight classifications in each level. A fourth level will include projects constructed by students in vocational industrial education classes.

THE EXHIBIT offers pupils who design and construct their projects an opportunity for recognition. Winners will enter the Illinois Industrial Education exhibit at Illinois State Normal university in May.

Instructors of industrial arts classes will accompany students on the trip. Avon D. Reeves, department chairman, will join the group. (ACM

PROSPECT HEIGHTS

Troop 94, sixth grade troop of Mrs. Van Petten, entertained the Scouts, Brownies, parents and friends in this area April 10 with a play at the Prospect Heights Community church. Title of the play was "The Forest of Everyday" by Lindsey Barbee. The audience experienced a real pleasure at this event as it was handled to the utmost degree like a professional performance.

The girls did a beautiful job of acting and everyone who witnessed the play went home with the wonderful thought that the play portrayed. Programs were sketched according to the theme of the play in a unique manner by several girls of the troup. The artistic scenery was also done by the girls themselves. The coloring in the flowers and background was very complimentary to the attractive costumes the girls wore.

The togetherness of the characters of the play, the managers behind the scenes, the artistic contributions and the guidance by the leaders made this play a great event.

To top off the gala evening, cookies, punch and coffee were served after the performance.

SOUTH MOUNT PROSPECT

All Brownie troops are busy preparing for their annual father-daughter banquet to be held this month. Troop 792 has completed its program covers and invitations; troop 212 recently made program covers; and troop 743 has completed Indian headdresses which will be used at the banquet.

Troop 703 dyed and decorated Easter eggs and arranged Easter baskets which were delivered by scouts Janet Johnson, Eleanor Johnson and Cindy Cox to the Catherine Memorial Home in Palatine and the Thorsen Nursing Home in Arlington Heights. The girls were accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Moldenhauer.

Sixth graders in troop 511 and their leaders, Mrs. French and Mrs. Long, worked on posters for the park referendum vote as a recent civic project.

Junior high troop 227 and its leaders, Mrs. Wellborn and Mrs. Kasper, enjoyed a bicycle trip to Camp Pine during spring vacation. The scouts left town at 10 a.m. and returned at 2 p.m. A nosebag lunch was enjoyed at the camp and the afternoon was spent exploring.

FIFTH GRADE scouts in troop 557 are making gift items to be sold at the Country Fair at St. Raymond church. They are being assisted by their leaders, Mrs. Duffy and Mrs. Tangney.

Troop 212 recently conducted a Juilette Low Friendship Fund ceremony and each scout gave a penny for each year of her age. At the same time the girls presented information about four countries which are members of the World Scout association. Mrs. Serafine and Mrs. White are the troop leaders.

Junior high scouts in troop 499 are working to complete their first class rank this year. The girls have set up several nurseries in members homes and will baby sit in on the arts and crafts badge. The troop sent its annual Easter basket to a Chicago couple which they "adopted" several years ago. Troop leaders are Mrs. Montgomery and Mrs. Schimek.

Troop 369 is rehearsing choral reading with the assistance of Mrs. William Stewart. Scouts are also working on their good grooming badge. Mrs. Jewel and Mrs. Appleton are the troop leaders.

NORTH MT. PROSPECT

Fairview's second grade Brownie troop 293 attended a stage production of "Jack and the Beanstalk" at Barrington theatre March 26. The performance was given by the Milwaukee Players for the benefit of the Nurses club. Twenty Brownies, who were complimented on their good conduct, were accompanied by their leader, Mrs. June Brickwood, and co-leaders: Mesdames Kate Dahlquist, Genevieve Koeder and Annabelle Gafford. Mrs. Himebaugh and Mrs. Armenakis also saw the show with the girls and helped with transportation.

During spring vacation, Feehanville school's troop 229 made a tour of Haeger's Pottery, Dundee, Twenty-six intermediate Scouts and leader, Mrs. Caspers and assistant, Mrs. R. Czarnecki, toured the entire plant for an hour and browsed through the shop for souveniers. Mrs. Shrader, Mrs. Joint, Mrs. Bookles, Mrs. Michaels and Mrs. Lea accompanied the troop.

Troop 229 has been concentrating on requirements for second class rank and is proud to be the troop that sold the most cookies on the north side!

TEN FIFTH grade intermediates frm Busse troop 566, braved unpleasant weather for a cook-out in Lions forest preserve Arpil 5. Between a short walk in the woods, skipping rope, playing a game and starting work on lashing for their campcraft badges, scouts and their leaders warmed up over the fire and had "witches' brew" for lunch. Accompanying the troop were leaders, Mrs. Anna Bedford, Mrs. Nettie Plaek and Mrs. Ann Glabe.

Leaders and scouts from Mt. Prospect's north side neighborhood are planning a father and daughter banquet to celebrate the "birthday years," at Prospect high school cafeteria. It will take place Thursday, April 27, at 6:30 p.m. and it is hoped that all northside Brownies, as well as Intermediates and their dads, wil participate in this event to make it a success. (B9

Suburb Industries Have Special Libraries

THE PURE OIL company library in Palatine is cited as one of the company's most "used and useful" departments. Here three employees pour over some current publications. (A14

SPECIAL LIBRARIAN at Charles Bruning, Inc., in Mount Prospect is Miss Lorraine Cibock, posing here in front of the numerous periodicals kept on hand. (A14

Growing Need Is Spurring Field

by TOM EDWARDS

When people think of libraries, they almost invariably think of public and school libraries or a den in their own homes.

But another kind of library, called a "special library," has become widespread, and since this is National Library Week, it is a good time to call attention to them.

Almost every profession or field of study has special libraries devoted to it, but the bulk of them are maintained by industry.

Especially significant about their growth in industry is that it is occurring during a time when millions of dollars are being poured into complex electronic machinery for recording, indexing, coding and filing the reams of data required by large concerns. In fact, there are concerns that do nothing but provide such mechanical service.

BUT EVEN so, there is a greater demand for librarians today than ever before, and there are far more openings for special librarians than there are qualified persons to fill them, according to reports.

Manufacturers and retailers are finding that one of the best means of keeping abreast of the miasma of new knowledge and on top of their respective fields of competition, is by a highly specialized library of their own.

The two prime examples in the northwest suburban area are at the Charles Bruning co., Inc., 1800 W. Central rd. in Mount Prospect, and the Pure Oil co. headquarters at 200 E. Golf rd., Palatine.

The Bruning operation (production of sensitized paper and equipment for reproducing printed material) involves electronics and chemicals. Therefore, its library is devoted mainly to chemistry and physics as well as to merchandising needs.

THE PURE OIL library is concerned primarily with the administrative and legal aspects of the company. (Pure Oil, with outlets in 33 states, has libraries in other areas devoted to research and technology).

Both concerns keep related areas of knowledge on file, perhaps even information on health as related to plant architecture.

Unlike public libraries, special libraries concentrate to a much greater extent on current publications, trends in supply and demand and the latest in technology.

But past knowledge is equally important, and accurate files of the company's own progress and research are maintained as well as information from outside sources.

ONE VERY important reason for these stores of information is to avoid duplication of effort. One large company once discovered, too late, that it had spent $200,000 on a research project that it had done once before.

Also, when an observation of possible import is made during a research project, it often behooves the researcher to find out if he has discovered something new or if the same phenomena has also been observed by others.

A Pure Oil executive called his company's library "one of the most useful and used departments . . . a highly specialized working tool of the company."

LIBRARIAN at Bruning, Lorraine Cibock, explains that each special library is "tailored to the company."

Books are the "least of my problems," she relates. "Internal information is my problem," that is, coding and filing the results of research work done in the plant so as to keep it easily and accurately available for future reference.

Miss Cibock has received questions such as, "What is the vapor pressure of water over an ethylene glycol and water mixture," and "How is a polyvinyl stearate emulsion prepared?"

Not only are the libraries tailored to the needs of the company, but the librarians must tailor themselves to the needs of the company. They must "indoctrinate" themselves with the company's workings in order to be able to sift through the vast amount of current information and new know-how for that which is relevant to the success of their concern.

"We provide a filtering process . . . a technical service department," selecting and accumulating information that might be of value to the company, according to Pure Oil's librarian of 20 years, Mrs. Margaret Sagers.

MRS. SAGERS must constantly winnow through a sundry of governmental documents and periodical publications. She and her two assistants also maintain about 6,000 bound volumes, and may handle between 50 and 75 phone calls a day.

"Too much material has been printed for industry to handle without a library," Mrs. Sagers said.

(Before 1940 there were only 1,500 "special libraries." Now there are 5,000 with many more coming into existence).

Very important to the nation as a whole, special libraries provide a chain of valuable resource material across the country, and they work very closely with one another. "We couldn't get along without each other," both Mrs. Sagers and Miss Cibock report.

THE NATIONAL Special Library Association (of which Miss Cibock is a director) serves as the hub of this library network.

The association provides a pool of foreign translations at the John Curar Library in Chicago for the use of all special libraries.

Neither the Bruning nor Pure Oil libraries are dusty attic archives, but bright, spacious accommodations. At Pure Oil the library overlooks a beautifully landscaped patio in the center of the building.

Both Mrs. Sagers and Miss Cibock hold degrees in library science, express an absorbing interest in t heir work and seem to get a great amount of enjoyment from it.

"You learn something new every day," said Mrs. Sagers. "I get new questions (to do research on) constantly. I've got the best job in the company. It's fascinating. I love it."

MISS CIBOCK is anxious to dispel stereotyped notions that librarians are musty old maids with horn rimmed spectacles. "I enjoy it so much that I can't understand why everybody doesn't want to be a librarian," she said.

She was also a chemistry major, which she finds of much value, particularly in working for Bruning.

Miss Cibock's hobbies are golf and bridge, she has a "tremendous collection of jazz records," follows theatre, and is a member of the League of Women Voters.

Set 'Beatnik' Dance Theme

Members of the senior class of Prospect high school have chosen a "beatnik" theme for their annual party set for 8 p.m. Saturday, April 22 in the high school cafeteria. Only Prospect seniors will be admitted.

Refreshments and entertainment will be in the beatnik theme. Hugh Ralley and Jimmy Taylor will be featured on the program. John Bannister will be the master of ceremonies. (ACM

Two Men Are Injured in $6,000 Fire

Two Arlington Heights men were severely burned last Friday when the pilot light on a hot water heater ignited paint remover, causing a $6,000 fire.

Termed in fair condition Wednesday by officials at Northwest Community hospital were George Gabrielson, 705 S. Chestnut, and Thomas Donohoe, 709 S. Chestnut.

Both suffered second degree burns over 30 per cent of their bodies.

ACCORDING to Fire Chief Harvey Carothers, Gabrielson and Donohoe were removing paint from the basement floor in Gabrielson's home when an explosion occurred at about 8 p.m.

It is believed the pilot light on the hot water heater ignited fumes of the paint remover. Chief Carothers estimated fire and smoke damage to the Gabrielson home at $6,000.

U. S. Labor Secretary Vows Help for Migratory Workers

Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg, speaking for the Administration, has urged passage of "long overdue legislation" to advance the welfare of migratory farm workers.

"The time for study has now passed and the need for effective action is imperative," Goldberg said in a statement April 12 before the Migratory Labor subcommittee of the Senate Committee on Labor and Public Welfare. The subcommittee was considering legislation to bring a number of reforms to the migrant labor field, including protection of children in agriculture and the correction of abuses by some migrant crew leaders.

"Americans have long since learned not to tolerate the production of goods for their homes and offices under such substandard conditions that the workers' lives are filled with privation and insecurity," Goldberg declared.

"NOR DO I believe they will knowingly accept the continuation of farm production by men, women, and children who travel great distances in ramshackle vehicles to find arduous low-paying employment, live in unsanitary substandard housing, sometimes worse than that provided farm animals, are not protected against ill health and accidents, and find themselves at the mercy of unscrupulous labor contractors because of lack of education, with little hope for a better life for themselves and their children."

Goldberg said the remedy for the migrant labor ills "properly lies within the exercise of Federal constitutional authority and responsibility."

"While there is much that the States can and should properly do in alleviating the problems, the nature of many of the difficulties is such that they transcend state boundaries and the States' capability to treat adequately with them," he said.

"Over the years the Congress has concerned itself with all facets of agriculture and its problems," the Secretary declared. "It has enacted legislation time and again to cope with them within its constitutional authority. Hundreds of millions of dollars have been appropriated and spent each year to assist our farmers. We are here concerning ourselves with one element of the total agricultural picture. It is the human aspect. We are concerning ourselves here with our migrant workers, their health, their education and welfare, and the future and well-being of their children."

HE SAID HE therefore urged prompt consideration and enactment of the migrant labor bills, and added: "These are only a beginning on the legislative program that is essential, but the sooner these measures are put on our statute books, the sooner we can begin the difficult task of bringing relief and a better life to these underprivileged citizens."

Goldberg's concern for the problems of migrant workers continues the labor department policy first initiated by James P. Mitchell, Eisenhower's secretary of labor.

Meanwhile, advance work schedules for over 30,000 migrant farm workers who help harvest the eastern fruit and vegetable crops are being developed in Florida, the U. S. Labor Department's Bureau of Employment Security reported.

The bureau said schedules were being worked out during interviews between State employment service representatives and about 500 migrant crew leaders representing the migrant workers.

States planning to participate include Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Maryland, New Jersey, West Virginia, New York, Pennsylvania, Virginia, and the Carolinas. Two Midwestern states, Ohio and Indiana, plan to join the Florida interviews for the first time this year. The interviews, which began April 11, at Sanford, Fla., were scheduled to end at Hastings April 27.

The program through which migrant crew leaders and state employment services develop work schedules in advance, taking migrant harvest crews to a succession of jobs, is known as the annual worker plan. It seeks better continuity of employment for the migrant worker with less aimless job seeking, and better service for the employer since he is assured of the harvest workers he needs at the time he needs them.

SWINGIN' SQUARES

In view of the weekend blizzard there's a bit of unintended humor in a recent reminder from the Swingin' Squares "to enjoy a last fling April 21 before the hot weather sets in." Whether there's weather or not, all club members and friends are urged to make a special effort to attend this last regularly-scheduled dance of the season since the fate of a potluck dance in May will be decided by a vote of all present.

The only Sunday night next month on which Recreation Park field house is available for this special event is May 14, which is also Mothers day. Members and friends will decide tomorrow night if they wish plans to continue or they want to skip the potluck dance this year.

Interested voters unable to attend tomorrow night's dance may call the following committeewomen today or tomorrow: Jean Sloss, VA 4-2059; JoAnne Wuest, CL 5-8099; Ruth Ryan, CL 3-0750. The tally at the end of tomorrow's dance will be final.

TO CELEBRATE a most successful season the club is designating this last regular dance as its "Klondike Dance." Feature dance of the evening will be a Silver Dollar Swing and everyone's big chance to hit pay dirt. It's at the Recreation Park field house, 500 E. Miner, Arlington Heights, with Don Finfrock beginning the calls at 8:30 p.m. Dancing will be till 11 when refreshments wil be served. Everybody welcome, no reservations necessary.

New officers recently unanimously elected to serve the Swingin' Squares for the 1961-62 season are Bob and Madine Luebbe, presidents; Ray and Bette Howes, secretaries and Art and JoAnne Wuest, treasurers.

PALATINE SQUARES

The Palatine club's annual Jamboree is Sunday afternoon, April 23, from 2:30 until 5 o'clock, in Paddock school, Palatine. Keeping Jamboree-ers on their toes will be five callers, all well-known to area dancers. Club regulars Don Finfrock and Art Mathews, plus Clarence Preusen, Ollie Smejkal and "Doc" Heimbach add up to at least five times as much fun and dancing as usual.

Tickets will be available at the door of the school or may be had by calling Bea Hosimer, FL 8-1270; Frieda Lawrenz, FL 8-5679 or Katy Dahlquist, CL 3-7906.

Club members and friends can dance the whole weekend away if they like and many will by attending the club's regularly scheduled dance in Paddock school Saturday night. Guests are welcome to come and "warm up" for Sunday's proceedings. Don Finfrock will begin the calls at 8:30.

Q. At the end of a restaurant meal, when a boy and girl are dining together, which one indicates that it's time to leave?

A. The girl. She places her napkin at the left of her plate, looks questioningly at her escort, and then prepares to rise. If he suggests they linger, she may do so if she wishes.

Thank You

Many of the good people of Wheeling Township worked on my behalf in my recent campaign as a candidate for Justice of the Peace. Although I ran as an independent, I finished a strong fourth in a field of nine. All who worked directly with me will receive a letter thanking them for the work they have done.

Many of you heard about my program, told your friends about it and voted for me. Unfortunately, I do not know all of you.

I would like to take this opportunity to thank you for your support and your unfailing courtesy. It has been a pleasure to campaign among you.

The intense interest you have shown in your local government will serve you well in the future.

Scandinavian Concept

Housewives Have Fun, Feel Better After Fitness Class

Nearly 100 area housewives are having fun and feeling better as the result of a Scandinavian concept of physical fitness being introduced at the new Northwest YMCA near Mount Prospect.

They are enrolled in two Danish gymnastics classes taught by a bubbling and buxom paragon of health, Rita Dose, brought here from Denmark by the Chicago YMCA organization to introduce this program.

The exercises are a flowing and rhythmatic variety of stretching and moving, designed for grace in movements and health of body — and mind.

CONSIDERING the pride and attachment the women have for the class, it is evidently a whopping success. Varicose veins and sagging muscles notwithstanding, they delight in trying to follow the supple movements of their instructor. Many probably wish they had had access to such a program long ago.

It is something, once learned, that can be done in the home or by any neighborhood group.

Although it is only offered for women at the "Y", Miss Dose relates that gymnastics are very popular with both men and women in her country and is one of Denmark's primary sports. (It is the national sport of Russia and has high interest throughout Europe.)

"GYMNASTICS is part of life in Denmark," she said. "Group exercise is very popular." She described in her groping English the "Big show" in which there are mass demonstrations of group gymnastic routines. Demonstrators range from young children to some above the age of 80, for it is something all ages can do.

Gymnastic instruction is begun when children enter school (at the age of seven in Denmark).

Miss Dose's instruction is dependent upon music. Unlike dancing, the music must follow every movement, that is, made to suit the exercise. In dancing, the movements are made to fit the music.

ALONG WITH the concensus of opinion here, Miss Dose feels that "America is behind in physical fitness." We are "standing at the same point," that is, our forms of exercises are outmoded.

She demonstrated the routine one, two, three exercises that most people here picture when they think of group exercise. She pointed out a jerky, non-flowing nature of these routines.

She tells what we always hear from our foreign visitors, that America is moving too fast, too tensely, always in a hurry — for what?

"American women move hard, tense," the 24-year-old lass said. She demonstrated by violently opening and closing a door in a manner which she sees done here.

"You have no feeling when you move," meaning no grace and rhythm, a beauty of motion, an empathy with whatever it is we are doing.

IN REGARD to physical education given in our schools she noted that "all these games are fine, but not all the time." She espoused a little more discipline, and frankly, a more beneficial program for developing and stimulating the body.

"Students think better after nice gym and they have a cold shower." she pointed out in her Danish-English. "It rinse the body, makes the brain work better." (After working out, she believes in a good cold shower following a warm one.)

If her ruddy, healthy glow is any indication of the internal benefits derived, she must be right.

Another comment of hers was that the "very young people here look very sloppy to me . . . and men seem to grow old so early." (Perhaps a lack of exercise has something to do with this, they feel sloppy and old inside and appear so outside.)

But she is extremely pleased with the response of "my ladies" to her class. "These ladies are very nice to me. They try hard to learn exercises, and do them nice."

DESPITE THE shortcomings of our physical fitness program, Miss Dose reports that the American way of life is the criterion for living among aDnish youth. Why? "Because it (America) is so big. Because it is great and rich and money and big cars." And of course, our popular tunes are also the popular music for the Danes.

America is fabled by the Danish youth, according to her accounts. As a result, she has been a little disappointed to find that life in the United States is still life on this earth.

Sometines she is homesick, because she really thinks Danish life is better. And American men, "They say things they don't mean," implying that they put up some rather false fronts and make some empty statements.

In conducting her classes, she employs various moods of voice. Sometines she starts out with harsh sounding commands which have the effect of getting the women into gear.

AS THE CLASS hour progresses and if the class is responding well, her tone changes to one of cajolement and humor — and often praise.

The routine for the beginners starts with a simple, controlled, rhymatic walk around the gym, which progresses into a run and then into sort of a high stepping prance.

Then there are stretches to all sides and angles, and leg kicks in all directions.

RITA HAS had gymnastics all her life, but concentrated in the study of gymnastic physical education for about three years, attending specialized schools. She notes that there are "relaxed" forms of gymnastic exercises and "stronger" methods, all of which she has learned.

She teaches a class on Wednesday nights and Friday mornings at the Northwest YMCA, and also several classes at other YMCA's. (A14

No Word on Route 53 Hearing Date

Public uproar over the manner in which a hearing on the relocation of route 53 was conducted has not yet prompted the Illinois department of public works to schedule a second hearing, the Herald learned this week.

According to both village president Harold E. Carlson and village manager L. A. Hanson, no word has been received from Springfied in regard to another hearing.

THE VILLAGE of Arlington Heights has taken the public works department to task for not making plans of the highway's new route available and for failure to provide notice of a hearing held in Palatine February 16.

The state proposes to relocate route 53 west of the village so that it runs through the Village Green subdivision situated north of Palatine rd. The village filed formal objections to the rerouting early in March.

BUT NO official notification of a second hearing has been received here. A published report of April 9 quoted a state official as saying the date and place of another hearing would be announced in "the near future."

President Carlson said Wednesday the village has contacted State Representatives John W. Carroll, Arthur Simmons and Bernard Peskin, and that each has promised to give attention to the village's protests. (AF

1961 Cancer Crusade Is Under Way

Thomas J. Houser, 416 S. Waterman, Cancer Crusade chairman for the Village of Arlington Heights, this week reported the 1961 fund-raising drive is off to an excellent start.

He indicated the area chairmen "have done a remarkable job of organizing" volunteers for the Crusade which is being carried out this week.

AREA CHAIRMEN include Miss Caroline Elliott, Mrs. George Coker, Mrs. Robert Lollar, Mrs. Leo Hunter, Joseph Tolson, Frank Kams, John Peters, Roland Ley, Mrs. Charles Law, Mrs. Don Jones, Mrs. Robert Hall, Whitney Jansen, Thomas Maver, Paul Knott and Mrs. Houser.

Houser said that those wishing to help in the final days of the Crusade may contact him by phoning CL 5-7789.

Slate Sterling Contest Here

The nation-wide "Graduate to Sterling" contest for 1961 high school seniors has been announced by Robbin Jewelers, Dunton Court, Arlington Heights. The contest is sponsored nationally by the Sterling Silversmiths of America, with 2,715 prizes worth $25,000 in cash and sterling silver to be awarded.

According to Persin, the contest from April 1 to May 31 will be open only to high school girls who will graduate this year. Girls merely have to stop at Robbins and fill out a simple entry blank naming their favorite sterling silver pattern. No essays nor purchases are necessary.

Hucksters Swindle Area Home Owners

Gullible Folk Are Targets

by JOHN REDDY

Con men and bulldozing pictchmen again are harvesting a perennial crop of gullible home owners.

The fast-talking hucksters, a year-around problem for police and honest businessmen, flourish in greater numbers during spring and generally victimize housewives, widows and the ederly — as well as the novice do-it-yourselfer.

Typical of complaints turned into the state's attorney's office, the Better Business Bureau, local police and chamber of commerce, is that of an 85-year-old woman who was bilked of $80 by a persistent rogue and his two cronies.

THE ITINERANT cheat met the woman at the door with a glib story of how her lawn would be saved from disaster by the two bushels of alleged fertilizer his pals were strewing about.

The woman's protests were subdued by fright when the pitchman's two helpers finished their business and stood menacingly in the doorway with their leader. Although they had asked for more than $100 for their services, the fakes settled for $80.

Even though the woman reported the incident she had had it.

The itinerant gypster, like the proverbial moving hand, having made his mark, moves on in perpetual flight from police.

Joseph A. Salerno, assistant district attorney in charge of the Fraud Division for Cook County, said his office is receiving at least two hundred calls a day, mostly from the metropolitan area.

"And the number of complaints will be increasing with arrival of warmer weather," he said, anticipating the annual migration of fast-buck artists.

"These people generally operate just within the limits of the law or strike and move on," Salerno explained, "making it difficult for effective action to be initiated."

THERE'S NO accurate way to determine how many area residents are cheated by fraud and deceit. "Many persons are embarrassed that they've been taken," Salerno said. "I wish they would come forward. Can't help them if they don't."

Harassment procedures by police of northwest suburban communities minimize activities of the quick-deal gyps while permitting legitimate business solicitors to operate.

Salerno explained solicitors' registration has done much to curb activities of the fly-by-nighters in suburban areas.

"But," he cautioned, "the best protection against being cheated is to inquire. Never sign anything until you've investigated the firm, its product or the possibility of getting a better buy elsewhere."

ONE OF the strictist solicitor-control programs is operated by Arlington Heights. Solicitors must be fingerprinted, wait 14 days for investigation of records, register with the chamber of commerce, purchase a business license and wear an identification badge.

Unfortunately, many persons submit to high-pressure salesmen because of sheer fright. Others are trapped by their own desires to obtain something for less than the price charged by legitimate operators.

The public has heard much about the "mortar mice" gimmick, where shrewd salesmen show a dead mouse and tell a homeowner they found it in the brick-work and this indicates the mortar has been eaten and is weak. While the trick has become all but legend in a few short years, new home owners and the unwary still succumb to high-priced remedies without checking with other repairmen.

"Young couples and new homeowners," according to Mrs. Pauline A. Laudenslager of the Better Business Bureau, "are the most naive and consequently the most susceptible to unscrupulous operators."

Preying on the new homeowners, are the landscaping sharks, who "just happen to be passing by" with a truck of worthless soil. A desire to quickly turn a mud-bed into a finished lawn tempted one area resident to purchase a truck load of such soil after seeing "samples."

DEMANDING immediate cash payment, the gyps then unloaded a mixture of sand and clay that was blackened only slightly to imitate the real thing.

Mrs. Laudenslager said the Better Business Bureau currently is investigating the sale of poor grade roses and shrubbery. The inferior products are being foisted off as top grade on unsuspecting novices who know little about yard work.

She explained some "peat moss" products on the market don't meet Federal Trade Commission requirements. Peat moss is generally regarded as a good yard conditioner and inferring that a soil conditioner is peat moss encourages its sale, especially if the price is lower than that charged for regular peat moss.

THE MOST ruthless operators, however, base their entire operation on the element of fear. An elderly father staying at the home of his son submitted to a $300 chimney repair job.

A man at his door convinced him his chimney needed repairing immediately or it would fall, leaving him liable for any damage or injury that might result.

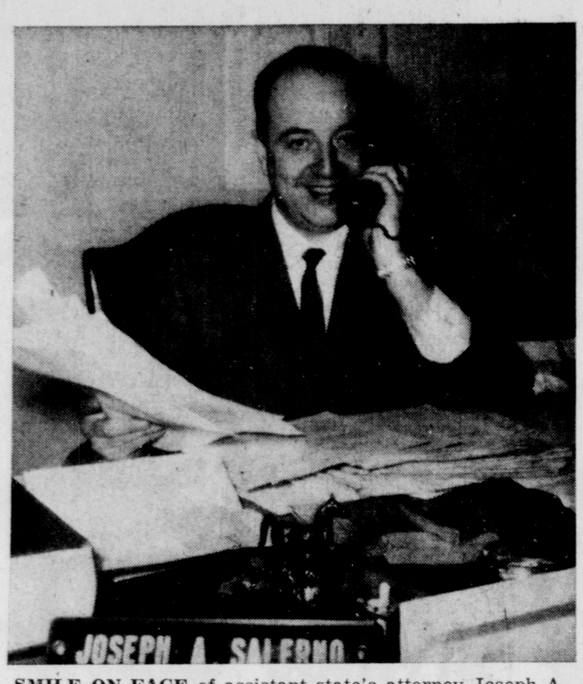
Many of the gyp-men get into homes by stating neighbors recommended they stop by, or by creating the impression they are inspectors from the city or the utility companies. The inspector ruse generally catches the average housewife off guard, but police and chamber of commerce officials urge residents telephone and check authenticity of such persons.

MANY pitchmen tell their victims they can have a blacktopped driveway or new storm windows at a "fraction" of actual costs. All they have to do is sign a contract and agree to line up several neighbors for the solicitor and the price will be reduced —"as part of a commission-discount."

"But the fine print of the contract they sign generally says they agree to pay the original price," Salerno explained. "And there's nothing we can do."

"In some cases," Salerno added, "even where a contractual agreement appears legal, an investigation may show a pattern of attempt to defraud and permit the state's attorney's office to step in and take action.

Authorities believe the only way to fully protect against cheats and gypsters is to inquire. One Arlington Heights police officer put it this way: "The only way people can really keep from being hooked is to do some old-fashioned shopping. Compare price and quality and know the persons with whom you are dealing." (A-14



SMILE ON FACE of assistant state's attorney Joseph A. Salerno, who is in charge of the Cook County division of Fraud, does not adequately reflect the concern he has for phone call from area resident complaining he has been cheated. Salerno explained an average of 200 complaints are registered in his office daily.

MRS. PAULINE A. Laudenslager, of the Better Business Bureau, examines rose bushes of low grade that are being sold in Chicago area as high grade. Mrs. Laudenslager said numerous landscaping cheats prey on the inexperience of new homers, especially in spring. Best way to prevent being gypped, suggests the Bureau, is to investigate materials and firms selling them. (A14

Paddock, along with 14 other heads of state press associations and 400 representatives of daily newspapers throughout the country, will be the guest of Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

THE WASHINGTON, D. C., parley will feature talks by John M. Steeves, acting assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern affairs; James E. Webb, administrator, National Aeronautics and Space administration; Adlai Stevenson, U. S. representative to the United Nations.

Adolf A. Berle, chairman, Task Force on Latin America; G. Mennen Williams, assistant secretary of state for African affairs; Charles E. Bohlen, special assistant to the secretary of state; and Chester Bowles, under secretary of state. (A14

FEPC Leader Raps Exclusion Move

John E. Cullerton, labor advisory chairman of the Illinois Committee for Fair Employment Practices, charged this week that excluding employers with 100 or more workers from FEP coverage would virtually nullify any such legislation.

Citing official Illinois Department of Labor figures, Cullerton pointed out that more than 95 per cent of Illinois firms have fewer than 100 employes and that these smaller companies employ almost half of the privately employed persons in the State.

Senate Bill 362, an FEP measure introduced last Monday by Senators A. W. Sprague (R.-LaGrange), W. R. Arrington (R.-Evanston), R. R. Larson (R.-Galesburg), and J. P. Meyer (R.-Danville), would apply only to companies which employ 100 or more workers.

THE BILLS endorsed by the Illinois Committee for Fair Employment Practices, H. B. 406 (which passed the House 115-42) and S.B. 195, would apply to employers of more than 10 persons, Cullerton said. This figure would exclude approximately 60 per cent of the state's employers, but only 10 per cent of the total number of employes, he added. All three of the FEP bills are now being considered by the Senate Industrial Affairs committee. Hearings on the bills will resume next Thursday.

Cullerton added:

"Of the nineteen states with FEP laws, only Pennsylvania exempts employers with more than 10 employes and their standard is more than 11 employes. Three states, Alaska, Delaware and Wisconsin, exempt no private employes and the average exemption figure for all FEP states if five.

"The substitute bill that is offered is legislative folly. It would nullify any effective anti-discrimination program by exempting practically everyone." (A14

Dead Sea Scrolls, Fellowship Topic

Dr. Major Younce will be the speaker for Countryside Unitarian Universalist Fellowship this Sunday. A member of the Fellowship, Dr. Younce will speak on "The Implications of the Dead Sea Scrolls." Dr. Younce returns to complete his account of how, despite the denials of traditionalists, the scrolls undercut supernaturalism in Christ.

INCLUDED will be the nature of the proofs, examples of the literature of the controversy and the relation of the Essenic sect to Jesus and early Christianity. "Concluding the talk will be an examination of the alternatives available to sincere, well-meaning, thinking folks seeking some assured guidemark to a good and better life for themselves, their loved ones, and the wider fellowship of mankind," commented Pat King, a member of the Fellowship.

Coffee and discussion will complete the Sunday morning meeting of Countryside Unitarian Universalist Fellowship. (A14

Ridge Park–Sherwood

FROM SHERWOD

Among those confirmed in the First Methodist church Sunday was Johnny, son of the Henry Moores, 1303 Watling. His grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Erskine, came from Cambridge, Ohio, for the occasion and the Tom Butlers of Chiago also joined the family for the day.

FROM RIDGE PARK

Two Ridge Parkers had adjoining rooms in Northwest Community hospital last week. Jeff Platt had an emergency appendectomy and made such a speedy recovery that he returned home Tuesday. While his parents, Ruth and Dick, 806 N. Kennicott, were visiting him the patient in the next room, Jean Vetter, 931 N. Fernandez, overheard their conversation and discovered they were the Platt family she knew. Jean is at home now and recuperating nicely after minor surgery on her foot.

When the Pokerettes bowled their last game for the season Thursday, Barbara Smith, 1014 N. Race, helped her team come up in first place. Barbara can't look forward to playing with this group in the fall either as she and her famiy moved to Des Moines Saturday.

When Charlotte Ronayne set Noreen's birthday cake before her Saturday it looked like springtime itself, complete with an array of delicate flowers, and all of them edible. Two sets of grandparents, Noreen's Uncle Ed, Aunt Mickey and Uncle Joe were there to watch her blow them out after a birthday dinner in her honor. Her brother, Jimmy, and cousin, Joe, were a little young to know what was going on, but they came in for their share of attention. Charlotte, Jim and their children live at 1011 N. Kennicott.

Over the weekend, the Kenyon Larkins, 1021 N. Patton, hosted her cousin, William Rudisill of Cincinnati. He has just returned to the States after having spent two years in Japan and entertained the Larkins for hours with interesting tales of the Orient.

Due to the snowstorm, the Cas Nastals, 701 N. Kennicott, slid all the way home from Fox River Grove Sunday after having spent the day there in the home of her brother and his family, the Karl Mackos. The family got together for dinner and to celebrate all the April birthdays, including Frankie Nastal's. He was 11 April 5.

ALTHOUGH Jay Lawrence was 5 April 10, he waited until the following Saturday to have a party. Friends who helped make his party a success were Patty and Todd Shumate, Christopher and Jonathan Bone, John Oertel, Marjorie Phillipp, Susie Inselberger, LeAnn and Nancy Niell. Jay and his family, Sgt. and Mrs. Carl Lawrence, are newcomers to Ridge Park, having moved to 719 N. Salem from France in February. Sgt. Lawrence is SFC with the 45th Artillery brigade at the nike base. They also have an 8-month-old girl, Rebecca.

Dr. George Oliver, 705 N. Kennicott, drove to the Wagon Wheel lodge with Dr. Frank Faber last Wednesday to attend a 2-day pedodontia meeting.

Father Lane officiated at the christening of 6-week-old Kathleen Mary Benson in St. James Sunday. Godparents for the daughter of the Robert Bensons, 947 N. Fernandez, were James McNicholas and Bernice Estka. After the christening there was a family celebration at the home of Mrs. Benson's parents in Franklin Park.

While the Robert Schulers, Cindy and Jeannine, were here from Carol City, Fla. for a 2-week visit with his folks, the Elmer Schulers, 922 N. Kennicott, the weatherman obliged with a small snowstorm. Cindy and Jeannine were delighted because they had never seen snow. They left for home Thursday and missed Sunday's storm.

Now that the Charlie Eglis, 814 N. Patton, are home from a 12-day trip south, they look back on their visit to Florence, Ala., as one of the highlights of their trip. They lived in Florence for two years while Charlie was connected with the Vitro Engineering company working at Muscle Shoals, and after being gone eight years, Mary says it gave them a wonderful feeling to have people come up and address them by their first names, as though they had just been gone for the weekend.

They worked their way down to Natchez and Vicksburg before heading for New Orleans, where they saw friends from New York. While they did some sightseeing there, they avoided the usual tourist attractions and sought out the unusual eating places. In fact, Teddy claims that he "shrimped his way through the south."

AMONB THE babies christened at St. James by Father Lane on Sunday was month-old Steven David Kovacevich. Godparents for the son of the Peter Kovaceviches, 919 N. Chicago, were Mrs. Ann Cavallone and David Kovacevich. The family celebration afterward, which included 24 relatives, honored Steven and also his brother, Peter, who was 4 April 11.

The Glen Rubenkings, 948 N. Fernandez, drove down to Beason recently for the new baby's first trip to see her grandparents. They spent part of the week in Jacksonville, visiting Barbara's sister and her family, before driving to Champaign to display the newest Rubenking. Part of the weekend was spent in Paxton with the Wallace Judkins.

Ridge Park extends a welcome to the Richard Wood family who moved to 729 N. Fernandez from Milwaukee. There are three girls in the family: Judith 12, who is at South junior high, Susan, 10, and Katherine, 6, both at Ridge. The move came about as a transfer for Mr. Wood, who is connected with America Fore Loyalty group.

The N. Fernandez ave., folks had one of their famous parties Saturday night in the home of Al and Marie Schmidt. It was a farewell party for Marie who is leaving for California some time next month. As a going away gift, the group presented her with a pin and earring set. Everyone had a wonderful time—they always do—singing along with Mitch and his records, playing games and dancing. Everything came to a halt at 12:30 when a buffet supper was served. Lynn and Len Sundquist were there, as well as Doris and Jim Kelly, Dottie and Bob Chaplin, Myra and Don Brandt, Sophie and Sig Splitberger, Fran and Gil Stebbins, Jeannette and Bob Helfers and Dorothy and Sam Ungaro. Arlington Greens

Arlington Greens round robin bridge tournament games were played April 7. Hosting for the month were the Seymour Rechts, Don Helblings, Tony Tomasos, Walt Browns, Paul Hoods and the Bill Lebsocks. The top three scores to date are held by the Lebsocks, with 29,460; Howard Wolfmeyers, 25,580; and the John Mundells, 25,080.

Mrs. James Finn, sister of Mrs. Charles Barnes of 1155 N. Hickory, ended a week's visit Monday afternoon with a flight home to Mountainside, N. J. Mrs. Finn joined the family for a busy week of preparation for the wedding of their son, Charles, last Saturday to Darleen Harrington in St. James Catholic church.

An after rehearsal dinner in the Barnes home Friday evening was attended by the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hanrahan, and members of the bridal party, Miss Jan Godey, Miss Arlene Barnes, Miss Terry Newmes, James Wille, Ken Platt and Charles' brother, Ron, who travelled home from classes at Wesleyan university in Connecticut for the occasion.

RECENT GUESTS of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Saflarski, 647 E. Clarendon, were an aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coffey of New Orleans. They were on a vacation trip north, visiting relatives in Chicago and the suburbs.

Mrs. Robert Foreman of 1111 N. Pine ct. hosted members of the Pine ct. canasta club last Wednesday evening. Prizes for the evening's efforts went to Kay Hedberg and Sylvia Damiano.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Art Fredericksen, 1160 N. Beverly lane, for three days last week were Mrs. Fredericksen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thierman, and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Bauer, a sister and brother-in-law of Augusta, Wis.

The Henry Korffs, who lived at 1179 N. Beverly lane for almost eight years, moved last Friday to their new home at 309 S. Burton pl.

Grandfather John Exum of Sparta has been a guest in the Anthony Wirtz home at 1148 N. Douglas for the past two weeks. Mr. Exum plans to visit for another week before returning home.

Mrs. Dan Chase, 634 E. Clarendon, hosted a surprise birthday luncheon for her aunt, Miss Marie Raupp of Buffalo Grove, April 12. Guests were Mrs. Helen Obrest, Mrs. Sue Herff, Mrs. Mrs. Mabel Raupp, her children, Pam and Perry, and Mrs. Sandy Herff and son, Tony, of Rolling Meadows.

ELEVEN-YEAR-old Mark Keller of 1155 N. Douglas shared a birthday dinner party with Godfather Al Mied in the Keller home Sunday. Attending were Mr. Mied's family and Mark's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gentile, who recently returned from Deerfield Beach, Fla., their home for the past six months.

Nine-year-old Joseph and 5-year-old John Bengal of 1117 N. Haddow ct. celebrated their birthdays Sunday at a dinner party. Grandparents Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Elias, Mrs. P. Bengal and aunt, Mary Alice Bengal, all of Chicago arrived to help celebrate the occasion despite the unseasonable snowstorm.

Susan Radcliffe of 1204 N. Hickory celebrated her fifth birthday last Friday afternoon at a party for neighborhood friends, Kevin and Colleen Gerrard, Beverly, Stephanie and Carra Hood. Sunday afternoon her grandmother, Mrs. Edna Scheck, aunt, Lee Scheck of Chicago, and uncle and cousin, Glenn Westmann and son, Glenn, of Mount Prospect were guests at the dinner party held in the Radcliffe home. Hear Talk On Grasses

Arlington Heights Garden club will meet at 8 p.m. April 24 in Pioneer field house to hear Eldon Miller of the University of Illinois speak on "Lawns." A graduate of the university, Mr. Miller currently is in the extension and research division of the department of horticulture. He will have specially grown flats of lawn grasses to show and discuss.

A report on the progress of plans for the club's plant sale will be given. The sale will be held May 26 and 27 at Railroad park, Evergreen and Davis, with longer hours to accommodate the garden-shoppers with whom this sale has been popular in the past.

HOSTESS for the social hour following the business meeting will be Mrs. Otto Lisec, Mrs. George DeBriae, Mrs. Edward Bauly and Mrs. Ethel Jensen. (A

IT TAKES KNOWLEDGE TO TREAT THE SICK

Despite great advances in medical knowledge, there are still some people who depend on old fashioned self-treatments. Some let persons with no drug or medical training advise them what medicines to take.

When door-to-door peddlers or mailorder opportunists presume to tell you what to take when you are sick—be wise. In order to treat sickness a diagnosis of the cause is needed. No one but a physician has this knowledge.

YOUR DOCTOR CAN PHONE US when you need a medicine. Pick up your prescription if shopping nearby, or we will deliver promptly without extra charge. A great many people entrust us with their prescriptions? May we compound yours?

Burke Is School Board President

Roger J. Burke, a five-year veteran of the board of education of Arlington Heights school district 25, was elected president of the board last week.

Reappointed board secretary was Peter R. Bakas and seated for the first time were new board members George A. Harris, Charles O. Bennett and Ralph G. McGee.

The April 11 board session found members agreeing to change their regular monthly meeting night from the second Tuesday to the second Monday.

BURKE, OF 438 S. Vail, is manager of branch operations for Wilson Sporting Goods company. He was first elected to the board in 1955.

His interest in education stems from a close association with a private secondary school in San Francisco, of which he has been a trustee since 1945. He is married and the father of two children.

Since moving to Arlington Heights in 1951, Burke has been active in the Toastmaster's club, Village Theatre, Little League, Boy Scouts and church work.

Park Manor Plans Slated for Airing

After a two-month layoff, the Arlington Heights board of local improvements will consider next Thursday details of the proposed major improvement project for the Park Manor subdivision.

Discussion of the $1 million program was tabled February 23 when the board decided to meet privately with the subdivision's property owners in an attempt to reach a tactical agreement.

Implementation of the program has been held up because members of the Park Manor Homeowners association have objected to the project's high cost. They claim the contemplated assessments will bankrupt some, force others to sell out.

THE PROGRAM encompasses the installation of storm and sanitary sewers, water main and streets. The 50-home area is now served by septic tanks and wells.

Village president Harold Carlson appointed Trustee Samuel Wit March 13 to serve in a liaison capacity with the homeowners, plan commission and improvement board.

Representatives of the four groups are reported to have had several informal meetings.

Display Portrait Of Noted Resident

The portrait of a longtime Arlington Heights librarian and educator—Miss Irene Russell—is on display this week at the public library, 112 N. Belmont.

Painted by 30-year old William Utterback of Chicago, the portrait will be on display for two weeks. The artist's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Utterback, live at 116 S. Pine.

MISS Russell was librarian in Arlington Heights for 32 years and principal at the South school. She now lives in Hinsdale.

Utterback, who studied art at the Chicago Academy of Fine Arts and the Los Angeles Art Center, is a graduate of Arlington Heights schools. He is employed by the National Advertising company, division of Minnesota Mining and Manufacturing company.

BUSILY SHOVELING record snowfall which blanketed the northwest suburbs over the weekend are Mary Beth Funk and Michael Koeppen, who were photographed on Sigwalt st. Monday by the Herald photographer. The snow had disappeared from the scene by Thursday morning.

Officials Attend Briefing Session

Newly-elected Arlington Heights officials are attending a day-long indoctrination program today (Thursday) in the village hall. Another program is scheduled for Saturday.

Today's program, running from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., includes meetings with village trustees, village manager, village attorney, chairmen of boards and commissions and all department heads.

DISCUSSED will be policies and attitudes of village government, liabilities, responsibilities, organization, reference materials, functions of advisory bodies and operation of departments.

Saturday's program will deal specifically with special studies, reports, master plan and municipal code. Village manager L. A. Hanson will conduct the Saturday session.

Speakers today are Harold Carlson, acting village president; Stephen Jurco, village attorney; Hanson and heads of the finance, public works, police, fire, engineering, building and public health departments.

Gold Plight Study Topic For Meeting

An authentic antique scale is being used to demonstrate the inbalance of payments at the League of Women Voters' unit meetings next week.

Discovered in the attic of one of Mrs. Marc Law's relatives, the scale will illustrate probems involved in the flow of gold out of the United States.

The national agenda committee's presentation emphasizes three aspects of international economic policy — (1) the inbalance of payments, (2) encouragement of private investment in under-developed nations and (3) effective financing of economic aid.

THE EVENING unit meets on Monday, April 24, at 8 p.m. at Pioneer park; the morning unit meets Tuesday, April 25, at 9:15 a.m. at the home of Mrs. R. B. Yadon, 826 N. Gibbons, Arlington Heights.

Participating in the program will be Mrs. Fred Marks, Mrs. Russell Gardner, Mrs. H. Robert Powell, Mrs. John R. Hoppe, Mrs. Marc Law, and Mrs. Louis Nye, chairman.

Final TPC Meeting at Arlington

A board of education progress report and student talent will feature the final Arlington high school teacher-parent council meeting Thursday evening, April 27, at 8:15 in the boys' gym.

Board member Kenneth Dougan's report and the election of council officers for the 1961-62 year will highlight the 15 minute "business meeting" from 8:15 to 8:30.

A HALF-HOUR of student talent will take stage at 8:30. The orchesis group, cast for Carousel (this year's music department production), and speech groups will perform.

Gym balconies and adjoining classrooms will feature displays of student work in a half hour "show" from 9 to 9:30. Refreshments will follow.

Council president Victor Beisler urges all parents to attend what he feels will be "a most enlightening and entertaining program."

Area Bethel Initiates 6

Bethel 103, Jobs Daughters, initiated six area girls into the bethel after the April 13 stated meeting of Arlington Heights chapter OES. Initiated were Carol and Ellen Cole of Palatine, Linda Gilmour and Judith Takalo of Rolling Meadows, Gail O'Brien of Mt. Prospect and Gail Potts of Arlington Heights.

The ceremonies were directed by honored queen Sue Amy and senior and junior princesses Sue Johnson and Roberta Schuldt.

THE BETHEL membership consists of girls from Palatine, Arlington Heights, Rolling Meadows, Mt. Prospect, Prospect Heights and Des Plaines and meets the second and fourth Wednesday evenings of each month in the Century club building, 1100 S. State rd., Arlington Heights.

All girls with the proper masonic relationship are invited to join and may contact Mrs. Carol Schaetzlein at CLearbrook 5-4875. (B9

Seek Support of Diversion Action

William G. Clark, Attorney General of Illinois, has just returned from Washington, where he met with Archibald Cox, Solicitor General of the United States, to urge him to join with Illinois in opposing the so-called Lake Diversion suits now pending before the Supreme Court of the United States, and being heard by the special Master in Chancery Albert Maris.

Cox, the Solicitor General, is a party to the lawsuit, and his position in the Lake Diversion matter could be instrumental to the final decree entered by the court.

Clark said he explained to the solicitor general that the Lake states are attempting to force the Sanitary District to return the effluent from Chicago waste into the drinking water of the people of the Chicagoland area.

"THERE IS absolutely no credible medical authority that can guarantee that the presence of pollution in the water will not be injurious to the health and welfare of the people of our city," said Clark.

"Unless and until there is unequivocal medical testimony that our drinking supply will not be endangered, a decree of the Supreme court to return it into our drinking water would be unthinkable," Clark added.

The Lake States have almost concluded their testimony before the master and the next hearing is scheduled in Detroit on April 24, at which time Clark will appear before the federal master to ascertain the position of Illinois in this litigation.

Illinois is now preparing its defense to the case, and Clark said that he will start presenting expert witnesses in the near future. (A-14

Snow, Oscars, Elections Cause Week of High Tension

Between the Stanley Cup play-offs, the Oscar awards and the local election, the past week has been one of almost unrelieved tension. Everything else is settled by now but one vital issue remains: If April showers bring May Flowers what does an April blizzard do — besides cancel a lot of springtime ??? social activities?

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Arlington Heights, Scarsdale & Estates, Stonegate

Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

A record number of local youngsters confirmed their faith Sunday afternoon in a special service of the First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights but the weather prevented or curtailed the celebration plans of many. Among them was Carol Frieburg, daughter of the John Frieburgs, 1303 E. Eastman, whose commemoration of the day was limited as out-of-town relatives were unable to join the family here.

Douglas Stoehr, 441 S. Prindle, was another of the 73 confirmands in Sunday's class in the Methodist church. He marked the event with the rest of the family at a festive dinner-out occasion that was just right, considering the blizzard.

DAVE HUNTLEY'S celebration of his confirmation in the Methodist church included Grandfather and Grandmother Huntley of Eldora, Iowa, but not relatives from the Chicago area. The senior Huntleys beat the blizzard here by two days and waited it out at 421 N. Wilshire so that a proposed weekend visit lasted almost a week. Chicago area friends and family members, on the other hand, were snowed out Sunday and their congratulations had to be via phone and mail.

Several hardy Gulbrandson family members came from Chicago and Grandmother Gulbrandson came from Fox River Grove Sunday to celebrate with Joyce her confirmation. A supper party for 16 in the Gulbrandson home, 907 S. Vail, followed the afternoon service in the Methodist church.

The John Farrs, 407 N. Drury, celebrated Charlotte's confirmation Sunday with a dinner-out party at which the young lady received family congratulations.

Nancy, infant daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Carter, 518 S. Dunton, was christened Sunday in Our Lady of the Wayside Catholic church. The occasion was commemorated after church at a small gathering in the Carter home of members of the immediate family and the baby's godparents, Mr. and Mrs. James Dalton of Arlington Heights.

THE END OF an annual winter vacation in the snow-free west and southwest recently returned the Paul Patricks to 319 W. Hawthorne, where they wondered Sunday how long one must stay away from home to avoid snow altogether.

Their vacation began early this year with a first stop in Hot Springs for a few days before beginning a sightseeing tour of Texas. Their final destination was Tucson where the rest of a warm winter season was spent. The Patricks enjoyed a yearly reunion with an old friend and ex-Arlington Heighter, Miss Lois Whipple, who has made her home in Tucson for many years.

A more recent move to that city was made by Mrs. Lucy "Grandma" Rapp and her son, Frank, who now are with the Ray Rapps. A visit with all of them was of course part of the Patricks' enjoyment of Tucson and they returned here with greetings to local friends of the Rapps and Miss Whipple.

THE WIER Swansons, 901 S. Highland, returned Thursday from two weeks in Florida where one of the girls said, "Gee, I hope it snows when we get home so I can go skiing once more." Her mother, toasting in the warm sand at Key Biscayne, said, "Don't be silly, it never snows in the middle of April."

Besides discussing spring weather, the Swansons rested, toasted and enjoyed a visit with Mr. Swanson's brother, Donald, in Homestead, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Taege came home Saturday to 216 E. Euclid after a 3-month stay in Florida and nearly left home again Sunday morning when the winter scene greeted them. They spent the entire winter, except that part waiting for their return home, in Ft. Lauderdale and enjoyed a week's visit in New Port Richey with Mrs. Taege's brother, Paul Busse.

The Albert William family returned to 750 N. Pine Sunday from Sheboygan, Wis. where Mrs. William had vacationed with relatives and friends for two weeks. The return took a few slippery moments longer than usual and climaxed the happy-hectic time Mrs. William had enjoyed with her sister, Mrs. Oscar Langner and her niece, Mrs. Carl Jung.

During her stay Mrs. William attended the inaugural of Sheboygan's first full-time mayor, Emil Camuuss. She also assisted her sister, chairman of an annual church auxiliary event, and reunited with Sheboygan friends at the occasion.

MRS. ROBERT Perschbacher, 310 N. Derbyshire, returned Sunday from a 3-day fun-fest in Wisconsin where she attended a Delta Gamma conference in Lawrence on the campus of her alma mater, and visited with friends in Appleton.

Miss Lydia Hausam recently returned to 116 W. Euclid after a 2-month stay in California that reunited her with family members as well as old friends. After a leisurely sight-seeing and visiting tour in San Francisco, San Diego, San Mateo and Woodland Hills, she settled at Oceanside for a 5-week stay with a cousin.

Miss Hausam returned with greetings to old friends here from her nephews and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Hausam of San Mateo and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Hausam of Woodland Hills.

MR. AND MRS. John Kitch, 1032 S. Dunton, returned early last week from the east where they attended the wedding April 8 of their daughter, Barbara, and Edward Young of Lynn, Mass. Miss Kitch, who has worked and lived in the east in recent years, and Mr. Young were married in St. Theresa Catholic Church of North Redding, Mass. and will make their home in Salem, N. H.

Accompanying Mr. and Mrs. Kitch were their son, John Jr. and the senior Mrs. Kitch of Cedar Rapids.

The bride's mother preceded the rest of the family to assist her daughter with wedding preparations, then all returned here together a week ago Tuesday. During their stay, Mr. and Mrs. Kitch and John visited the campus of Norwich university in Northfield, Vt. and enrolled John for his freshman year.

The senior Mrs. Kitch remained until the weekend with her son and his family after their return from the east. They drove her to Cedar Rapids Saturday, enjoyed an overnight stay with her, then skidded home Sunday through the blizzard that made an 8-hour ordeal of the normal 4½-hour pleasure drive.

SATURDAY guests in the James Hahn home, 919 N. Ridge, were Dr. Tadashi Kawasaki and Dr. Nori Wakayo, Tokyo university professors who are doing research at Northwestern university. The doctors showed slides of their homes in Tokyo and with their hosts' delighted permission, took pictures of Mr. and Mrs. Hahn and their children so that they could show a typical American family to Tokyo friends and relatives.

Dr. Kawasaki is doing research in metallurgy and Dr. Wakayo studying chemical engineering on the Evanston campus.

Mrs. Robert Pauly, 125 S. Burton, and Mrs. Robert Schneberger, 610 N. Douglas, were among the feminine golf enthusiasts of Arlington Heights attending a luncheon of the Thursday ladies' golf league of Rob Roy. The league's first meeting was a gala social affair in Henrici's at O'Hare Inn, where a possible date for the first golf session was optimistically discussed in a wintery setting.

MARGO POULOS was 8 years old Saturday and celebrated at an afternoon party with 10 neighborhood friends in the Poulos home, 1225 N. Dunton. The mothers of Margo's guests joined the party for cake and coffee after the initial excitement of gifts, games and ice cream was over.

Kim Ellefsen, 1221 S. Prairie, aso celebrated a birthday Saturday. Kim was five and received the congratulations of 10 young friends at an afternoon party, and celebrated some more Saturday evening at a dinner party with family members. Sunday he put the finishing touches on the big event at another dinner in his honor as Grandfather and Grandmother Ellefsen and Uncle Richard arrived with birthday best wishes.

Debby Hauser, a confirmand Sunday in the 4 o'clock service of the First Methodist church, was hostess later at a confirmation supper party in the Hauser home, 101 N. Forrest. Her guests were school friends, Merrilee and Jean Unander, and adding their blessings were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Plotner of Gowrie, Iowa. Mr. and Mrs. Plotner arrived here for a visit and Debby's confirmation a week ago Sunday and returned to Iowa Tuesday.

MR. AND MRS. P. G. Shelffo, 423 S. Windsor, celebrated their 30th wedding anniversary Saturday at a reception for 125 guests which was given by members of their family in the Moose lodge in Des Plaines.

The three Shelffo sons and daughter who planned the party were Loren, and his wife of Palatine, Lt. Kaye and Mrs. Shelffo, who made the trip from Syracuse, N. Y., their daughter and son-in-law, the Howard Halversons of Des Plaines and their youngest son, Paul junior.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Miller, 1301 Woodford, gave a birthday dinner party Sunday for Mr. Miller's mother, Mrs. R. H. Miller of Arlington Heights. Joining the family group were Mrs. Miller's parents, the J. M. Lewises of Des Plaines.

A birthday celebration was held in the Jack Swan home, 325 S. Carlyle, Sunday for her mother, Mrs. Phillip Peterson of Grand Rapids, who has been visiting here for the past month.

Guests included Mrs. Swan's aunts and a niece, Mrs. Arthur Gallmeyer and Miss Caroline Gallmeyer, who arrived from Grand Rapids Friday for the weekend. Because the sudden snowstorm Sunday made travelling almost impossible, they extended their visit for several days.

ONE OF THE very young residents of Stonegate celebrating an April birthday was Ted McKown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward O. McKown, 206 S. Gibbons, who marked his sixth birthday Monday at a party for 10 friends. A cowboy theme was used for the party and highlight of the afternoon was an outdoor lollipop hunt.

Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jurco, 217 S. Windsor, was Jack Savage of Rio de Janeiro, who served in the Counter Inelligence Corps with Mr. Jurco in World War II.

Mr. and Mrs. Ian MacLachlan, 1030 Woodford, and their daughter, Laurie, returned to Arlington Heights Saturday after a 3-week vacation in Redington Beach, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ryan, 116 Wilshire, returned home Sunday from an 8-day vacation in Miami Beach and Ft. Lauderdale.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Lockwood, 312 S. Derbyshire, and their elder daughter, Cynthia, on spring leave from her teaching assignment in a Glencoe school, vacationed for 10 days in New Orleans and the Sun and Sand resort in Biloxi. A pleasant interlude in their vacation was a chance meeting with two Stonegate neighbors, the Charles Tullys and the Vernon Heims, who were also vacationing in the south.

Mrs. Lockwood returned home in time to attend the Mothers club bridge party of the Delta Upsilon fraternity at Northwestern university Friday. Her guests were Mrs. Ralph Clabaugh, Mrs. Jack Carstens and Mrs. Z. R. Rogazinski.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Coobs, 401 S. Carlyle, were hosts at a farewell dinner party Saturday for the William Spilmans who are being transferred to Bethlehem, Pa.

Sunday, all the Spilmans' Belmont neighbors gathered at their home for a farewell party.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Myer have moved to a larger house in Scarsdale and will live at 819 S. Bristol.

MRS. ROBERT Skamfer, 437 Banbury, recently flew to St. Petersburg, Fla., where she joined Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Clancy of Arlington Heights, spending a week vacationing at Duck Key and Ft. Lauderdale.

Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Faner, 615 Mayfair, and their children returned last Sunday from Mt. Doro, Fla., where they were the guests of Mrs. Faner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George McConley. During their stay, they visited Ft. Meyer and Captiva Island, where they collected shells.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stauber, 833 S. Beverly, and their three children, Mr. and Mrs. James Sutton and daughter, Shelley, 627 S. State, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hitchon of Northbrook met recently in Palm Beach, Fla., for their annual spring vacation, dividing their stay between Palm Beach, Daytona Beach and Singers Island. Swimming, sun bathing and deep sea fishing filled their days and the Suttons were having one of the colorful fish they caught mounted for their home.

MR. AND MRS. John Russell, 628 Bristol, returned Saturday from San Francisco, spending 10 days with their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Maher. Mr. Maher is currently attending graduate school at the University of California in Berkley. Before returning home, the Russells visited Los Angeles and Las Vegas.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lilleberg, 314 E. Rockwell, and their daughter, Vicki, are home from a 3-week vacation, during which they motored through Mexico with stop-overs in Padre Island, Texas and Monterey.

Mrs. Walter Kunzie, 534 S. Lincoln, accompanied her husband on a recent 3-week business trip to Europe.

They flew to London from Boston, and then flew to Stockholm, travelling to southern Sweden by car. Leaving Sweden, they flew to Germany, visiting Frankfort, Munich and touring through the Bavarian Alps, from whence they travelled to Paris for the flight home.

During their stay in Europe, the Kunzies' two daughters remained home with their paternal grandmother, the senior Mrs. Kunzie of St. Paul. (A

Q. When a woman is paying her first call on a woman who has recently moved into the neighborhood, how long should she remain?

A. From 15 to 20 minutes should be long enough. Usually, a woman who has just moved into a new home has loads of work on her hands and she might resent (justifiably) a too-lengthy visit.

Contrary Mary 'Discovers' Hawaii

First Hula Lesson Taken

by MARY PADDOCK

Wednesday—

Up betimes and to breakfast in a hurry. Today I take my first hula lesson and I'm still rather pale and wan. Must to the beach right afterward to fry some. There is more to this hula business than meets the eye. I find it a little like rubbing my head and patting my stomach at the same time. A feat that has always proved difficult for me. Cathy and Emmy and Betty G. are much better than I but I console myself with the fact that they took a lesson Monday.

How did Cathy get so sunburned when she sat under an umbrella all the time she was on the beach? Undaunted she is hulaing all over the place. What courage. Dad and Gus get in everyone's way zooming in on our more or less undulating hips. We keep yelling that they are to keep their eyes on the hands.

INTO OUR SUITS warning each other to be careful of burning and out to the ocean where we proceed to burn but good. It may be painful but we would, rather be bright red than sort of off white. Must do this fast and grab a quick lunch as we are off to Pearl Harbor this afternoon. In a pink catamaran, which is a double hulled something or other that looks like a big sled. With sails. Practically everyone stocks up on Dramamine and away we go. It is nice to see our leader in chief again. He sort of hides out between trips but is always there to count our noses. This reassures us of his love.

Off on the bounding main which is bounding. It is with difficulty that we keep Dear Father out of the rigging. He seems to feel he is Cecil B. DeMille and is after odd shots. He got some pretty odd shots too. As we are about to enter Pearl Harbor, the Captain announces that a boy will pass among us and gather up all our cameras. Which they do. Gives me a sort of cloak and dagger feeling.

As we tour the area of our Day of Infamy, we all get more and more silent. When we reach the sunken Arizona, that memorial to the 1002 men still entombed on her, a complete silence falls over us all. It is hard to realize what December 7, 1941, must have been like as we sail past the spot in this beautiful sunshine and blue sky.

BACK TO THE catamaran mooring complete with small brown boys who are in the water yelling "Howabouta coin, Mister." Then they dive and proceed to stuff their loot into their cheeks, chipmunk fashion. Dear old Dad cautions me against throwing too much money in. I feel that as all I have thrown is a nickel, I'm not exactly overdoing it.

Bob is the leader for tonight and has decided that we shall dine at the Queen's Surf hotel. Which we do. I again caution Father that he is blowing up right in front of my eyes with all this divine food. Do you think he cares? I can't say that I blame him.

Thursday—

I am not up betimes. It has just occurred to me that I just love to sleep in mornings so today I will force myself. Dad rushes out to have his usual light breakfast of fresh pineapple, macadamia nut pancakes with coconut syrup, two eggs with orchids, hot sweetrolls, ham and coffee. And, I can't sleep. Off to the beach to burn some more although I like to think I am getting a rather nice tan.

AS WALLY, Fred and I are quietly going about our tanning, the strains of hula music reach us from the sundeck and it suddenly strikes me that this is the day that Gus and Father decided to take a hula lesson. This I absolutely can't miss so off I bound. There they are, bless their little brave hearts, complete with grass skirts, compliments of the management, swaying, waving their hands. It's my time to zoom in with the movie camera and it's then I find that Dad should have two grass skirts. He's fine from the front but the back is just plain walking shorts.

Betty and I collapse with laughter. We have never seen such concentration and such face making that accompanies their efforts. At that they do pretty well and, secretly we are proud of them. Notice that Wally has followed from the beach and is in a corner going through the motions too. I tell you this thing is catching.

Vera has succumbed and bought a muumuu. Everyone wears them but I shall remain strong. I think. There IS something about them. Everyone shops and shops and shops but, so far, I am just looking. And, it all looks good. Such colors. I am a shopper and comparer and I haven't seen the Royal Hawaiian shopping center or downtown Honolulu yet.

It's the night of the Night Club Tour and here we are all dressed in our best. Haven't seen the fellas in ties since we came. Off to our bus where we find we have a new leader. Female. We accept her with no questions. First she is pretty. Second, she counts our noses. We feel right at home with her. First stop, the Royal Hawaiian which is a hotel I have heard about all my life. Very snitz. We all have the specialty of the house which is an Orchid Royale. I wonder if orchids have vitamins as I nibble on this one. What a wonderful show with hula girls bounding around on drums which I fear Father and I will never emulate no matter how many lessons we take.

CHANGE OF PACE as to Club Fuji we go to watch the Sumairai dancers. I don't think too highly of them and it is with relief we jump onto the bus once more and go to Don the Beachcombers. Which show is so good we are all beaming as though we had invented it. This is our fun and games week as next week we are off to the outer islands.

Friday—

Up betimes as Betty and I have a rare treat in store for Gus and Dad. As a reward for being such good boys, we are going to take them to a fashion show luncheon in the Ale Ale Kai room. But, first to hula. Then to tanning project. Then off in our mighty leader's Jeep with the fringe on top. We must pick up our tickets to go out on the Matson tug Sunday morning to welcome the Matsonia. I mean, think how the Matsonia will feel if we aren't there to welcome her.

On the way into lunch we gather in Bill and all three of the fellas sit most happily through the parading of the models. To show how happy they really are, every time Betty or I even mildly remark that we like something, Gus and Dad offer to rush right out after the show, and buy it for us. I eye Dad rather quizzically but manage to hush up as I am not one to turn down a good thing.

We find out that it has taken Bill from Monday until today to get up enough nerve to go in the water. What he really needs is a bathing suit. So Gus and Dear Father are saved as Betty and I, the light of battle in our eyes, hie us all out to shop for Bill. We don't really care for whom we shop. Just as long as we shop. At least once a day.

WE HARDLY KNOW which shop to point Bill at first as all of them look yummy. Finally end up in a men's shop, which is pretty logical when you think about it. Poor Bill. All we ask him is his waist measurement and then we take it from there. Finally end up with something that we feel brings out the real Bill. Bill doesn't look as though HE feels that it brings out the real him but he's willing to go along.

Father and Gus have discovered the lava lavas on sale and are going out of their minds. It is suggested that Dad try one on for size. The patient salesgirl tries wrapping it around his expansive middle. The sight is more than the rest of us can bear, we go off into roars of laughter. They both buy one for the luau that is coming up on Sunday and what do you bet that they have the nerve to wear one too.

All of us go and get our suits on. It is high time that Bill learned to swim. We meet Emmy and Wally. When we explain what we are about to do, the light of battle comes into Emmy's big blue eyes. She will fix everything. She is a swimming instructor and never fear, Bill will be out Weismullering Weismueller in just no time at all. She gets him to floating and never did so much determination get packed into one body. If we didn't tap him on his shoulder, he would have floated right out to China without ever coming up for air. He will swim before we go home or his name isn't Bill.

AS A REWARD for being such a good guy, we elect Bill the leader for tonight. Then we proceed to tell him that we are going back to Fisherman's Wharf and Maria. And, of course, fish dinners. On the way out we gather in Arne and Ginny. They have eaten but will manage to down a steamed clam or two.

As we come out of the restaurant, the fishing boats are just coming in loaded with tuna. Gus says to the doorman, "Call me a cab," so the doorman says, "All right, you're a cab" which causes us to break up.

Health Care for Poor- Aged in Senate Bill

By W. R. ARRINGTON

I am sponsoring in the Illinois senate a so-called medical care for the aged bill. This legislation is now under consideration before the senate public welfare committee.

This measure, as you may recall, has the full support of the Illinois Medical society and a host of other groups interested in this program.

The significant feature of my proposal is that it limits governmentally-financed medical care only to those of our aged who are in need of such assistance.

THIS LEGISLATION becomes increasingly important as it begins to appear Congress will not at its current session modify the provisions of the Mills-Kerr act adopted last fall.

There is a move in Congress to provide medical care for the aged only for those on the Social Security rolls. Such an approach has the unfortunate effect of excluding literally hundreds of thousands — indeed, millions — of our aged who would fail to qualify under such a program because of never having been on Social Security.

Even if Congress should at this session adopt this latter scheme, which seems highly doubtful, there would still be real need for the measure I am sponsoring.

The Senate public welfare committee last week held a rather extensive hearing on my bill. A multitude of witnesses appeared on its behalf and, rather surprisingly, no one appeared in opposition to the substance of the bill or its manner of approach.

True, representatives of the Illinois Hospital Association and the Illinois Nursing Association aked that the concept of medical care be defined in terms that will state explicitly that hospital and nursing services are included therein.

THIS PROVIDES some technical problems inasmuch as the practice in the past has been to avoid detailing specifically any one of the various components of medical care. Administrative practice and policy always has recognized hospital and nursing services as constituting elements of medical care. But there are many other elements also. There is some question as to the wisdom of naming hospital and nursing services explicitly as components of medical care when all the other numerous elements of such care are not individually described.

Both the foregoing associations, however, endorsed the principle and philosophy of my bill.

The Illinois Public Aid Commission proposed some purely technical amendments to the bill, none of which is objectionable to me. Actually, I have agreed with the Illinois Public Aid Commission to accept their purely technical suggestions relating to the administrative features of the bill. Further consideration by the committee has been postponed until next week, so that such amendments may be drafted and submitted for consideration.

Mother's Day Giveaway Set

Some lucky mother will receive a special gift on Mother's day.

Ray Lemke, owner of Gieseke's Store, 105 E. Davis, Arlington Heights, has announced a Mother's Day gift award of a $25 gift certificate.

Between now and Saturday, May 11, anyone may register at Gieseke's. The winning name will be drawn at 5 p.m. that day. No purchase is necessary to register for this gift. (ACM

Prospect to Send Delegates to Meet

Three delegates from Prospect high school will attend the annual convention of the Illinois Association of Student Councils to be held April 27-29 in the Sherman Hotel in Chicago.

Dinah Mobus, newly-elected vice-president of Prospect's Student Council, and Doug Vaughn, next year's president, will be accompanied by Lawrence Jenness, assistant principal of Prospect high and advisor of the Student Council.

JENNESS will serve as a discussion leader on "The Brotherhood Among Men." Miss Mobus, a PHS junior, will be a candidate for state second vice-president of the IASC and will be one of the student campaign speakers.

The theme of the convention will be "The World: Main Street of Tomorrow." Discussion groups will include the home, the school, the community, brotherhood, vocations, youth, and the American way.

HIGHLIGHT of the program will be an address by Gerald M. Van Pool, assistant secretary for student activities for the National Student Council European Tours. Van Pool's writer on all phases of student-council activity.

Over 900 delegates and advisers from all over the state will attend. Among the activities will be the election of 1961-62 state officers, a banquet and a dance. (ACM

Vote Report

There was an inaccurate report on the votes obtained by the leading candidates of the April 4 Justice of the Peace elections in the April 6 edition of the paper. The actual vote for the People's Party winners were as follows: Sherman H. Canty, 2,002; and Richard J. Georgen, 1,903. (ACM

Plan Golf Instruction For Adults

Professional golf instruction will be offered both men and women as part of high school district 214's adult education program this spring.

Rob Roy country club will be the site of the six session course, scheduled to begin May 2. Tuition for the class, available both Tuesday and Thursday evenings at 7 p.m., is $7.50, according to director Thomas Shirley.

SHIRLEY points out that the student golfers will receive instruction on an outdoor driving range, plus individual criticism and help in improving stance, swing, putting, etc.

The country club is located at 505 E. McDonald rd., Prospect Heights. Registration for the course should be made in the office at Arlington high school or by phone, CL 3-0200. (ACM

The

By Rev. Don L. Jones, Pastor, The Christian Church of Arlington Heights

Much uncertainty in religious belief results from the neglect of simple religious practices. A man who has not prayed for years should be surprised when he finds it hard to believe in God. The person who has not attended public worship regularly will surely question the value of the church.

Admittedly, much religious practice becomes routine. So do many methods in science and art and commerce. They do not thereby lose their value. There is a meaningful as well as a meaningless routine. The wise person cultivates the former in his religious life and finds it a source of inspiration and strength.

Join us this Sunday at Miner Junior High School, Miner & Dryden. Church school 9:45 a.m., Worship 10:45 a.m. Phone CLearbrook 9-4155.

Suburbanites Head Of Jewish Appeal

Two suburbanites have been named to key positions in the Greater Northwest Suburban Combined Jewish Appeal campaign.

Selected as co-chairmen were Hyman DeWoskin, 21 W. 746 Crest, Itasca, and Abraham "Bud" Bernstein, 332 Charing Cross, Elk Grove. Both issued a plea for immediate support by the Jewish communities of this area to aid the 21 overseas and local agencies supported by the C.J.A.

A GOAL of $5,000 has been set and results will be announced at a Worker's Rally to be held May 10 at Bernstein's home.

Communities comprising the Greater Northwest Suburban campaign include Roselle, Addison, Elk Grove, Hoffman Estates, Wheeling, Wood Dale, Glen Ellyn, Palatine, Arlington Heights, Itasca, Mt. Prospect, Rolling Meadows, Streamwood and Bloomingdale.

The Greater Northwest Suburban campaign is affiliated with the Combined Jewish Appeal of Metropolitan Chicago. Principal beneficiaries are the Jewish Federation of Metropolitan Chicago and the Jewish Welfare fund. (B8

Modern Etiquette

Q. When invited to someone's home and there are small dishes of potato chips and peanuts placed on tables around the room, is it proper for a guest to help himself without being asked?

A. Since these dishes are obviously there for the guests, it is quite all right to help yourself.

Q. When a business letter is addressed jointly to a man and a woman, what is the correct salutation?

A. "Dear Sir and Madam"

County Approves Hospital Zoning

The Forest hospital in Des Plaines, which treats nervous and mental disorders, was granted a special zoning request for a building addition this week by the Cook county board of commissioners.

The commissioners concurred in the recommendation of the county zoning board to permit a special use for a three-quarters of an acre tract for the addition, which will house a gymnasium and indoor swimming pool.

THE BOARD took the action over the objections of the Hawthorne Lane Civic association, which claimed the hospital had outgrown its location, and that the expansion would increase traffic along Rand rd.

(The private treatment center is bordered on the north by Rand rd., the south by the forest preserve, the east by the Des Plaines river, and the west by the playground of the North school.)

ARTHUR L. Erickson, president of the Hawthorne Lane association had also objected to the hospital's close proximity to the elementary school, charging that patients often used playground facilities.

Morris B. Squire, Forest hospital administrative director, however, said that during the eight years since the school was built next to the hospital there "has not been a single incident of any sort."

High School Students To Stage 'Carousel'

Rodgers and Hammerstein's popular "Carousel" will be presented as Arington High school's annual music department extravaganza Friday and Saturday night, April 28-29, at 8 p.m. in the boys' gym.

Between 150 and 175 students are working on the production, which, according to directors Robert Wolff and Vince Ahnquist, should be "one of the most colorful and most enjoyable" ever produced at Arlington high.

IN THE leading roles of Julie and Billie Bigelow are Marge Keller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Keller, 221 Illinois dr., and Lew Ameel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ameel Sr., 810 Lynden.

Other cast members include Martha Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Watson, 302 St. James, Rolling Meadows, as Carrie Pipperidge; Adrienne Ropa, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ropa, 214 S. Kennicott, as Mrs. Mullin; Ryan Peterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. [illegible]kier, 1015 N. Chestnut, as a policeman.

Rich Edelblute, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Edelblute, 209 S. Pine, as David Bascombe; Bonnie Luster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Luster, 704 W. George, as Nettie Fowler; Frank Renner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Renner, 6 W. Fairview, as Enoch Snow.

Jerry Hawkins, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hawkins, 721 S. Chestnut, as Jigger Craigin; Rick Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Bailey, 350 S. Chestnut, as the starkeeper and Dr. Seldon; Carla Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. Anderson, 1105 Mayfair, as Louise.

RICK HAWLEY, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Hawley, 45 S. Ridge, as Enoch Snow Jr.; Tom McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack McGrath, 1222 Woodford, as the principal; Craig McDougall, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. McDougall, 925 N. Patton, as the captain.

Susan Peters, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Peters, 729 S. Chestnut, as Hannah the dancer; Darlene Yahnke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Yahnke, R.R. 3, as Arminy; and Scott Randle, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Randle, 832 N. Kaspar, as the heavenly friend.

Edward Fischer and Arlington high's art department has constructed elaborate scenery for the musical, including a colorful and mobile carousel.

Rodgers and Hammerstein enthusiasts need no introduction to the show's music, which includes the immortal "You'll Never Walk Alone," "If I Loved You," "June Is Bustin' Out All Over," "Soliloquy," and "What's the Use of Wondrin!"

THE SHOW, a broadway hit in 1945, is "pleasantly adaptable to student groups" Wolff feels.

Music department chairman Frederick Schmoyer will conduct the orchestra, which will be supplemented by several adult instrumentalists living in the area.

Tickets for the musical are $1 for adults and 50 cents for students, and may be purchased in advance at the high school or at the door the evening of each performance. (ACM

"CAROUSEL" personnel Marti Watson, Margie Keller, and Jerry Hawkins seem to be enjoying their roles in the popular Rodgers and Hammerstein musical to be staged at Arlington high Friday and Saturday night, April 28-29. Elaborate scenery and costuming promise to make the show a hit. (ACM

Pacific Far East Slides For Presbyterian Women

The Women's association of the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights will welcome Mrs. Andrew E. Kurth as guest speaker when it meets April 26. Instead of the usual luncheon meeting, this will be an evening program starting at 8:15 in the sanctuary of the church, followed by dessert and coffee in Fellowship hall.

Mrs. Kurth will discuss countries she visited last year in the Pacific Far East, Japan, Korea, the Philippines, Hong Kong, Vietnam, Thailand and Taiwan, with accompanying slides. She will be introduced by Mrs. Bruce Graham, secretary of ecumenical missions for the association.

MRS. KURTH, whose husband is executive for the Synod of Illinois, United Presbyterian church, is herself chairman of the world service department of the Springfield Presbyterial and secretary for Ecumenical mission and relations of the Illinois Synodical of the United Presbyterian church.

She has been president of the council of United Church Women in four different cities, including Detroit; was active in the state organization of the United Council of Church Women; and was chairman of the women's department of the Conference of Christians and Jews in Detroit at the time of its organization.

DR. AND MRS. Kurth reside in Springfield and have a son in the ministry, and two daughters who are married to clergymen, one of whom is currently living in Hong Kong, associated with the Board of Ecumenical Mission and Relations of the United Presbyterian Church, USA.

Mrs. Robert S. Read will lead the devotions, and Mrs. Robert H. Huebert from Canada, a new member of the church and community, will sing a solo accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Earle S. Auge. Refreshments will be served by the members of circle seven, of which Mrs. M. M. Born is chairman, and Mrs. Walter Daube is co-chairman.

"BECAUSE OF Mrs. Kurth's prominence and the excellence of her program, an invitation to attend has been extended to the women's associations of the Presbyterian churches in Palatine and Mt. Prospect, as well as to husbands," commented Mrs. Read. Reservations can be made in the church cloister following both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services Sunday, April 23. It is urged that this be done to facilitate serving plans. (AK

Feehanville School Sets Bike Checks

Pupils of Feehanville school have been learning about bicycle safety during the past week.

John McCormick of the Cook County Traffic Safety committee showed a film on the subject to pupils in the third, fourth, fifth and sixth grades Tuesday.

HE WILL return to the school Monday and conduct a bicycle safety check.

Bikes will be checked for proper brakes, lights, horns and general condition of the bike. If bikes are found to be without fenders, horns, lights or brakes, the owner will not get a safety club card.

A child whose bike does not pass the requirements will get another chance to pass the test later, however, when he thinks he has made the necessary repairs.

THE TEST is authorized by the Bicycle Institute of America and all the safety agencies.

Assisting in the bicycle safety program at the school are J. Frank Short, school superintendent and Herman Meners, assistant superintendent. (ACM

Couples Top Y's Bridge Competition

Two married couples were among the four teams winning first place honors in the Northwest Suburban YMCA's bi-weekly duplicate bridge tournament Friday night, April 14.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Kieffer, Arlington Heights, and Mr. and Mrs. John Grayson, Arlington Heights, finished on top of the 41 team competition, along with Mrs. Gerry Werner, Des Plaines, and Mrs. Ruth Harris, Mt. Prospect, and E. A. Bodenstab and Dallas Erickson, both of Des Plaines.

Second place awards all went to Mr. and Mrs. combinations, proving that compatability is possible even at the bridge table. Winners were Mr. and Mrs. Clay MacDonald, Des Plaines; Mr. and Mrs. James L. Quigley, Mt. Prospect; Mr. and Mrs. Walter F. Hahn, Des Plaines; and Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Sunko, Mt. Prospect.

The "Y" will sponsor its next duplicate tourney Friday night, April 28. Chester Rumpf, Arlington Heights life master, directs the game. (ACM

Two Zoning Hearings Set May 3

The Cook county zoning board of appeals announced this week it will hold two public hearings May 3 in the Arlington Heights village hall to consider requests for rezoning and special use.

In a hearing at 3 p.m., the board will hear arguments for and against rezoning from R-3 (single family residence) to B-3 (general business) about one acre located on the south side of Rand rd. near Forest ave. in Mt. Prospect.

THE SECOND hearing will be concerned with a request for special use to permit construction of an electric substation in an R-4 (single family residence) district northwest of Palatine rd. and northeast of the Sault Ste. Marie railroad tracks.

Walter T. Popjoy, board secretary, said all persons interested should attend and will be given an opportunity to be heard. (ACM

Meadows Park Board Results

The Prospect Meadows park district has announced the results of the April 4 park board election as follows: Elected for six-year terms were John Sage Jr., with 47 votes and no opposition; and Wayne L. Wilkins, 46 votes with no opposition.

Total ballots counted were 47. (ACM

CURVED FENCE
A new type of fence has recently been introduced by CONTRACTORS COMPONENTS, Inc., in Wheeling, Ill. Sold under the name "FormaFence," the fence is constructed of curved panels spanning redwood posts. The curved effect allows many different variations for Patio living, to serve as a background for shrubs or flowers, or to provide privacy without enclosing an entire lawn. Straight-line length of the panels is 7 feet, 8 inches, and panels are available in widths from 6 to 48 inches which may be alternated to achieve many different effects. SIMPLE INSTALLATION.

Doomed Elk Herd Gets 'Reprieve'

The 26 doomed elk roving the Elk Grove forest preserve have been granted another stay of execution.

Charles G. (Cap) Sauers, general superintendent of the Cook county forest preserve district, said requests for the animals have come from two tax-supported bodies.

"We intend to see how many more requests from public bodies come in before making a determination," Sauers added.

THE REQUESTS, from a zoo and public park, came from San Diego, Calif., and from Pennsylvania, the forest preserve superintendent said.

The fact that the requesting parties are public agencies qualifies them to receive the elk. The forest preserve district, however, will not honor the requests of private establishments or individuals, since this opens it to charges of favoritism, officials feel.

The recent pleas of a citizen to spare the 26 elk by selling them to private organizations did not sway the forest preserve officials from going ahead with plans to reduce the herd in half.

THE PASTURE which the 51 elk roam is too small to support them all, and the inferior members of the herd were to be shot and converted into steaks for the cat family at Brookfield zoo. The most recent requests have altered these plans, Sauers noted.

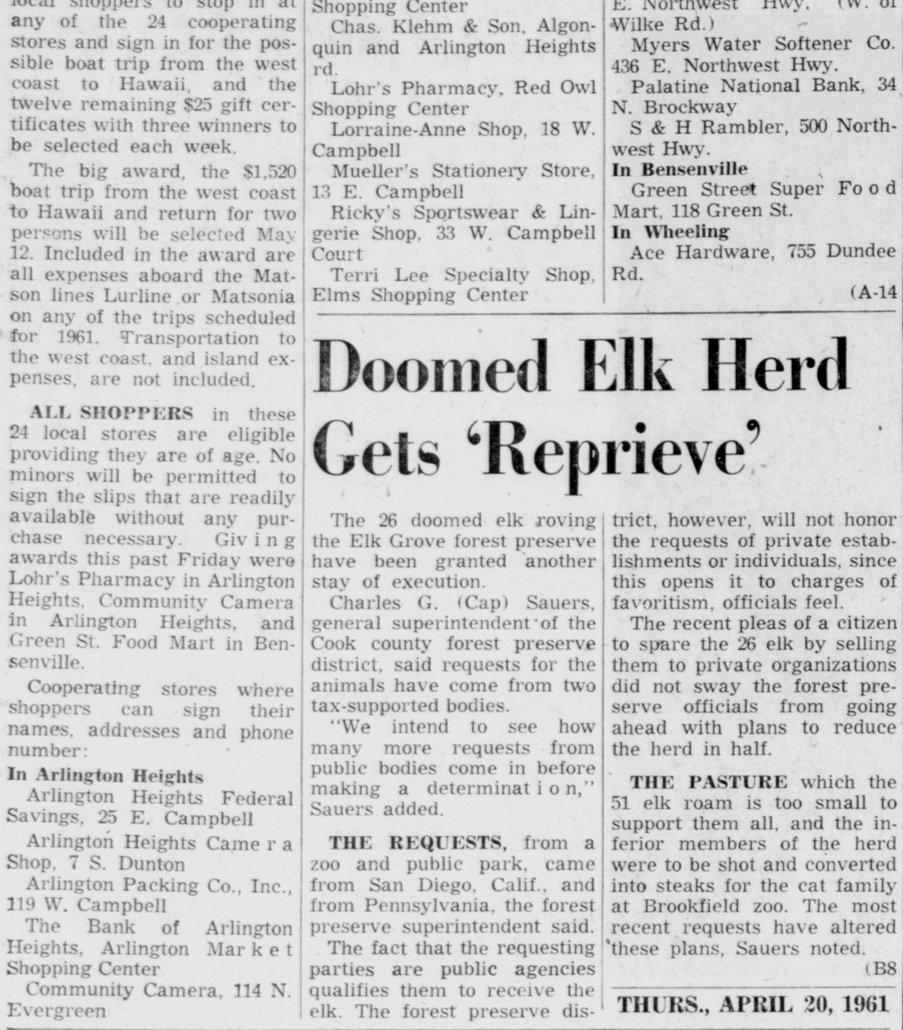
OFTEN MISUSED

The word NONE can be both singular and plural, as for example, "None of the mail HAS reached us," and "None of the books WERE given to me."

Do not say, "I am kind of interested in his story." It is much better to say, "I am SOMEWHAT interested."



AMVET SILVER HELMET Achievement awards were presented during a special program held in the Shoreham hotel. Dwight D. Guilfoil Jr., Arlington Heights, seated in wheelchair, received a Rehabilitation award. Others in picture include, Hon. Leroy Collins, former Governor of Florida, winner of the Americanism award; Leo A. Hoegh, former director of Civil Defence, recipient of the Defense award; Bob Hope who was presented with a special Silver Helmet award for 20 years of unselfish work as Ambassador of Entertainment to America's armed forces; Sen. Edmund Muskie of Maine, toastmaster; Amvet National Commander, Harold Russell, Oscar award winner for the movie "The Best Years of Our Lives" and Guilfoil who is president of the Parapelgics Manufacturing, Bensenville.

Alton High Trackmen Dominate Honor Roll

Alton high school's amazing Redbirds, second in the state track and field meet last spring, appear ready to claim the coveted top rung in 1961.

The Southwestern conference standouts completely dominate Paddock Publications' first outdoor track honor roll with representatives in 11 of 14 events. One boy, Loran Randol, has made the select list in three events.

Published exclusively by Paddock's each week during the outdoor campaign, the state honor roll is the only one of its kind in the Chicago area.

ALTON BOASTS leaders in four events with sprinter B. B. Gater in the 100 and 220, John Trowbridge in the mile run, and the 880 yard relay unit. Moline, the 1960 cinder champion, and Urbana of the Big 12 conference both have two leaders each.

Although the weatherman has tried his best to hinder the trackmen thus far in the outdoor campaign, there are still some outstanding marks on Paddock's honor roll.

Two trackmen in the Paddock Publications circulation area have earned spots in the select rankings. Junior Andy Merutka of Palatine stands second in the shot put with a 55-5¾ effort, and Scott Brees of Willowbrook is sixth in the discus field with a 151-1 toss.

In addition, Palatine's mile relay quartet ranks fourth behind J. Sterling Morton, Alton, and Champaign.

TRACK COACHES throughout the area are urged to contact Paddock's sports department either by phone or letter with any outstanding marks of the outdoor campaigns.

Information should be directed to Bob Frisk, Paddock Publications, Inc., 217 W. Campbell, Arlington Heights. The sports desk number from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday is CLearbrook 3-1520.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

WE ATTENDED A MEETING of the Suburban Press and Radio association last week and picked up some interesting notes on the area sports scene. This young group opens its membership to any suburban area sports writer or editor from Waukegan to Chicago Heights west to Wheaton.

Chuck DeWild, varsity basketball coach at Riverside-Brookfield high school since 1958, has submitted his resignation, effective this summer, to become associate professor of physical education at Rockford College . . . He will serve as athletic director and varsity basketball coach . .. In three years at R-B DeWild's varsity aggregations won seven of 42 and finished eighth twice and seventh once . . . No successor has been named yet . . . DeWild's departure even further illustrates the fact that the WSC will take on a "new look" in coaching next year . . . Dick Haselton of York and Arlington's Frank Bohac, won't be back as varsity cage coaches in the 1960-61 campaign and Bob Trevarthen of Hinsdale is heading for Evanston high in the fall to become soph football and varsity track coach . . . Trevarthen coached the frosh-soph football and varsity wrestling squads at Hinsdale.

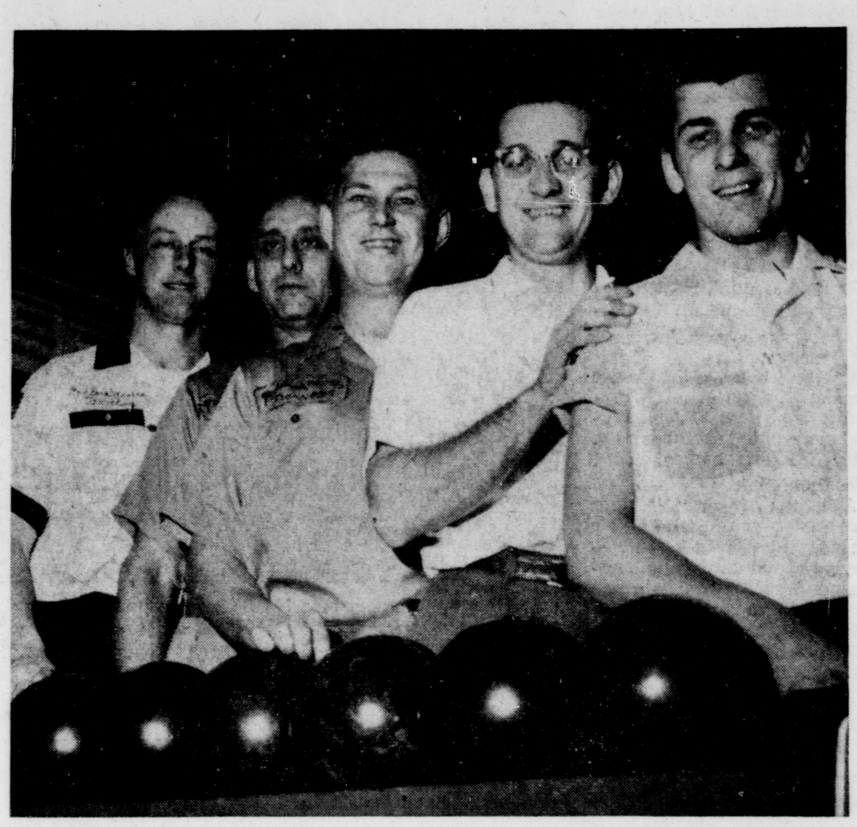
BOB CREVISTON

Also overheard at the meeting: Larry Mack, Morton high's basketball star this past winter, will head for Princeton in the fall . . . The two Niles high schools (East and West) will meet in the gridiron opener in September . . . The schools will meet on all levels in athletics . . . It's expected that always-powerful St. George will replace Hinsdale as New Trier's opening football opponent in 1962 . . . New Trier track coach Ben Almaguer calls his current varsity squad "the strongest" he's ever had, according to Bob Casterline of the Hollister papers . . . The Indians have claimed eight straight titles so that's saying quite a lot.

Elsewhere on the sports scene: Mike Dundy has been shifted to right halfback at the University of Illinois, and the former AHS All-Stater, now a frosh at Champaign, saw some service at the No. 1 slot last week. His hard running, blocking, and tackling have caught the fancy of the football coaches. Bob Creviston, another Arlington high grad who captained the varsity Cards as a senior, was working at No. 2 right tackle so it could be that both local products will be performing in the same alignment for Pete Elliott's Illini in the fall. Creviston injured a knee in Saturday's full-scale scrimmage.

Frosh wrestler Herb Tallitsch, an Arlington high grad, received a minor letter at the University of Chicago . . . Herb held down the first string heavyweight slot most of the season . . . Prospect high mat coach Dick Mudge will be one of the camp directors this summer at the Hid'n Hollow Sports Camp in Eagle River, Wis. . . . A complete sports program will be offered from August 5-19 for high school boys (including incoming frosh) . . . Anyone interested should contact Mudge at FLanders 8-1216 . . . Gaining a junior-varsity basketball award at Northern Illinois university was Fred Kloman of Palatine . . . Arlington high grad Rick Lindstrom fired a 77 for Northern Illinois' linksmen with two unusual nine-hole scores in the Huskies' win over Beloit last weekend . . . Rick covered the front nine in an unimpressive 46, then came back with a blistering 31 over the back nine . . . An American girls basketball team which will play the Russians in Moscow late this month is in for a rude shock when it sees the new Soviet team . . . The Russians found themselves a gal who towers 6-7 and their forwards are 6-5 and 6-4 . . . For what it's worth department: Cost of exclusive TV and radio rights, to be shared by razor and auto companies, for the two All-Star baseball games and world series this year will run a cool $3,750,000.

It's 'snow wonder athletic directors have headaches around this time of year. Our condolences to Wally Grace, Howard Lester, Earl Stutzman, Frank Novatny, and Bill Buckellew as they are faced with re-scheduling the athletic events that were hit by the weekend snow.



REPRESENTING Paddock Publications in the American Bowling Congress' 58th annual championships in Detroit, Mich. will be six of the Paddock Classic traveling league's outstanding keglers. Joining Buck Perkins of Woodstock in the ABC tourney will be (l. to r.) Don Christensen of Arlington Heights, Marv Perry of Arlington, Irv Hahnfeldt of Palatine, Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods, and Bill Radunz of Arlington. The team will open play Friday morning at 8:30 in Detroit's Cobo Hall.

Coming Contests

Knights Test Brooks; Twin-Bill for Cards

Unless heavy rains or another unexpected snow storm visit the midwest during the next eight days both Prospect and Arlington high schools will engage in three crucial varsity baseball encounters.

Coach Chuck Aldrich's Interim league Knights, boasting an impressive win in their only loop outing thus far this spring, will travel to Willowbrook today (Thursday) for a game at 4:30 p.m.

In action next week Prospect will host East Leyden's Eagles, defending conference champs, on Tuesday and Wheaton's Tigers on Thursday.

Dates have also been set for the league clashes that were postponed because of the weather. The Knights will host West Leyden on Saturday, April 29, and will travel to Maine West on Wednesday, May 17.

OVER IN THE West Suburban Coach Bob Baker's Arlington Cardinals are faced with another big doubleheader Saturday and a league test next Wednesday.

Standing 1-2 in league play this year, Arlington will host Hinsdale Saturday in a twin bill at Recreation Park that is slated to get underway at 10 a.m.

On Wed., April 26 the Cards will host Maine township East, defending conference champs and the team tabbed as the pre-season title favorite this spring.

ARLINGTON was scheduled to meet York's defending state champs yesterday (Wednesday) in its fourth conference outing of the '61 campaign.

Tight title chases are shaping up in both the Interim and West Suburban leagues with Proviso West and Glenbard West currently holding the top rungs.

THURS., APRIL 20, 1961

Proviso West's veteran-stocked Panthers bumped Wheaton, 8-3, and West Leyden, 7-0, in their first two Interim games and rank as the only conference squad with more than one victory.

IN INTERIM league action today (Thursday) Proviso West will be at East Leyden, Wheaton at Glenbrook, and Maine West at West Leyden in addition to Prospect's test at Willowbrook.

Firing next Tuesday, April 25, will find Maine West at Glenbrook, Prospect at East Leyden, Willowbrook at Proviso West, and West Leyden at Wheaton.

GLENBARD West's surprising Hilltoppers stand 3-0 in the West Suburban, but most observers still feel that the champ will be determined from among Maine East, York, and La Grange.

However, if Glenbard takes two or even records a split with the Lions this Saturday, it will have to be considered a full-fledged title threat. Maine is favored to take a pair with Riverside while the Arlington-Hinsdale and Downers-York encounters could go either way.

In action next Wednesday Maine is at Arlington, La Grange at Downers, Hinsdale at Riverside, and Glenbard at York.

Arlington Sophs In Diamond Split

Arlington and Downers Grove battled to a split in a frosh-soph doubleheader last Saturday with both teams putting on late rallies to claim victories.

Coach "Bus" Ormsbee's Cardinals pushed across three runs in the last inning to win the opener, 4-3, and Downers came back in the nightcap with five big markers in the sixth and an 8-5 conquest.

The split set Arlington's West Suburban record at 2-1 with the Cards facing Hinsdale in a twin-bill Saturday.

An error, walk, and two hits accounted for the locals' three decisive runs in that lidlifter with Eric Berg gaining credit for the mound decision.

Rus Ward cracked out a double for Arlington's only extra base hit of the contest.

Downers	010	100	1—3-5-2

In the second game Downers took advantage of five Arlington errors in the sixth inning to tally the five runs needed for victory.

Overall, it was just one of those games for the young Cards. They committed nine errors in six innings in dropping their first game of the season.

Roland O'Berg and Ted Staahl worked on the mound for Arlington, and Ken Layden lashed out a homer. Rog Lindstrom contributed a triple for the locals.

Arlington	102	200	0—5-6-9
Downers	000	305	*—8-7-1

SNOW — NO GAME today! The surpising snow storm that swept the midwest over the weekend forced the cancellation of numerous athletic events at the area high schools. Palatine high's baseball diamond presents an unusual picture for a late - April afternoon.

Cards, Pirates In Track Feature

by BOB FRISK

Eight schools, including Arlington and Palatine, will vie for team honors on both varsity and frosh-soph levels Saturday as the sixth annual Lake Shore invitational track and field meet is staged at Libertyville.

Five schoolboy leagues will be represented in the annual track spectacle with entries from the West Suburban, North Suburban, Interim, Suburban league, and Tri-County.

Joining the two area units in the Lake Shore meet will be Glenbrook, Highland Park, host Libertyville, Niles, North Chicago and Waukegan.

TROPHIES will be awarded for the top varsity and frosh-soph aggregations with ribbons going to the top five finishers in all events.

Competition will get under way at 1 p.m. at the Libertyville-Fremont athletic field located on Route 176 one-quarter mile west of Milwaukee ave.

Defending team champions in the Lake Shore affair are Waukegan in the varsity division and Highland Park in the frosh-soph class, and both schools will present formidable units again this spring.

WITH FAVORABLE weather conditions several marks could be broken in both divisions Saturday. On the varsity level at least five and possibly more meet standards are in danger.

If Palatine's Andy Merutka equals his outdoor best of 55-5¾ in the shot put, he'll have a new record. The Lake Shore mark of 55-3½ was set in 1956 by North Chicago's Ron Novak.

Waukegan's fleet Jim Carter, the 1960 champ in the 100 yard dash, is a definite threat to the century standard. Carter has already reeled off a 10 flat clocking and he holds the meet mark of :10.2 set last spring. He should also vie in the 220.

NORTH CHICAGO'S Jim Cosby may flirt with the 120 yard high hurdle mark of :14.6, and he's given a good chance to equal or break the low hurdle effort if the weather man cooperates. The Warhawks' talented senior, runnerup in the heavyweight division of the state wrestling tourney, has a 20 flat in the lows which equals the meet mark.

Palatine's Wayland Campbell has skimmed over the lows in :20.9 and could be a threat in that event Saturday, and Arlington has a good boy in both hurdle events in junior John Latta.

The mile run standard of 4:45.5 is almost certain to fall if Highland Park's Jim Weinert has anything to say about it. Weinert, fourth in the state mile as a soph, set the frosh-soph mark at the Lake Shore test last spring with a 4:45.7 clocking.

ARLINGTON'S Jim Hendricks and Palatine's Jerry Kusek should be two other highly-regarded entries in the mile. Hendricks set a school record for that distance indoors with a 4:40.7.

Another event which could see a new record is the discus. Highland Park's Jim Sternfield has a 154-0 effort outdoors this spring with the Lake Shore standard 153-11.

In addition, Palatine's Bill Smith, though not approaching that mark outdoors yet this spring, did get off a 153-5½ effort in the state last May for a third place finish.

Patberg New Varsity Cage Coach at AHS

Norm Patberg is Arlington high school's new varsity basketball coach.

That was the announcement last week as a change in the basketball coaching assignment became official at the West Suburban conference school.

Patberg, 29, has been the junior-varsity cage mentor and varsity end coach in football for the past two years. He will continue in his football assignment.

He replaces Frank Bohac as varsity basketball coach at Arlington. Bohac coached Patberg when the two were at Potomac, Ill. high school.

In addition to his coaching duties, Patberg is also a history teacher at Arlington high. He came to District 214 from the West Aurora high school system where he was a coach and teacher for four years.

THE NEW Arlington coach attended Potomac, Ill. high school and lettered three years, earning All-County and honorable mention All-State rankings.

With only 40 boys in school Potomac claimed a runner up slot in sectional competition in 1949 and en route to the tourney finale ousted Danville, then accorded the rating as the state's No. 1 quintet.

Patberg also played baseball at Potomac but the school didn't field a football team.

AT EASTERN Illinois State Teachers College he participated in football, basketball, and baseball, earning four letters in the hardwood sport. He was all-conference for two years in basketball and the Eastern squad won the National Small College holiday tourney for two straight seasons.

Eastern won the IIAC championship for the four years in which Patberg played, and Norm owned the highest free throw percentage in the nation as a soph.

NORM PATBERG

Following his graduation from college, Patberg went into the Marines as an officer and was discharged in September of 1955.

DURING HIS service stint he played basketball for Quantico and Camp LeJeune.

Patberg went to West Aurora in the fall of 1955 and stayed until the 1959-60 school year. At Aurora he had coaching experience in football, basketball, and track and was head soph coach for the two years West went downstate. The school finished fourth in the 1957-58 campaign and second in the 1958-59 state cage finals.

In two years of coaching at Arlington Patberg's JV quintets turned in an impressive 21-5 record.

HE WILL have four lettermen back at AHS for the 1960-61 campaign from a club that finished 6-16 this past winter. The monogram winners returning will be Chuck Close, Gary Brodnan, Ross Retterer, and Don Kolstad.

Patberg is married and the father of a six-year-old girl.

MAC SAYS

by G. A. McELROY

WITH TRACK SEASON well underway it might be well to consider the new rule limiting competition. Actually, the state has two rules of which one is for the state series of elimination meets and the other governing all other track competition. The rule in effect for the first time for meets other than the state district is that an athlete may not compete in any meet in more than four events of which no more than three may be track events.

Only two of such track events may be distances of 440 yards or more. This covers relays as well as individual events and where preliminaries are run in an event it shall count as two events.

In the state district meet an athlete may compete in two individual events and one relay except that only one individual event may be the 440, 880, or mile. Also, he may compete in 2 relays and one individual event if it is not the 440, 880, or mile run. The rule states that "no school shall permit," meaning that enforcement is up to the authorities in each school. The purpose of the rule is two-fold, to increase the number of boys competing and to prevent over competition by any boy.

WHILE WE ARE SPEAKING OF RULES it is in order to mention a new wrestling rule set by the National Collegiate Athletic Association at their recent national tournament. This rule is a change good for one year to attempt to force wrestlers into attempting to pin opponents instead of trying to win on points alone. Inasmuch as Illinois high schools wrestle under these same rules it will be expected that they will be in effect in this state next year unless the Illinois committee acts to modify them.

The rule would change from two points to one the award for each take down after the first. It would increase from one point to two the award for a predicament. The first take down would continue to win two points as would a reversal. An escape would be one point and a near pin or fall could be a maximum of three points.

The move is to force more active wrestling with athletes taking more chances and giving the spectators more action to watch. This will mean a change in coaching tactics which may be desirable. Time will tell but at any rate wrestling could increase in fan interest.

PALATINE LAST WEEK took the measure of both Libertyville and Crystal Lake, a pair expected to be top contenders. Barrington, last year's Palatine Relays "B" class champ, will be met soon by the Pirates and that result will give a good indication of what to expect from the conference meet in mid-May. Palatine has a well balanced team except for the sprints and 880 relay with real strength in the weights, pole vault, broad jump, hurdles, 880, mile, and mile relay. The frosh-sophs appear to be one of the best Palatine has ever fielded. Imagine, a team taking the first 5 places in the 880 and the first three in the 440 against the caliber of opposition offered by Crystal Lake and Libertyville. That is what a good cross country program can do in developing runners.

BARRINGTON AND CRYSTAL LAKE are off to a terrific start in baseball, taking their first three games with outstanding mound performances and timely hitting. Palatine has looked good in non-league competition but in the first three league games got a total of just three hits and one run. The Pirates are getting good pitching but the hits to back up the mound talent seem to be lacking in North Suburban games.

THERE ARE SOME GREAT RECORDS on the Palatine Relays list. Over the 28 years it has been run there are few records dating back to the early days of the meet. Kraemer of Woodstock set the "A" class 100 yard dash record of :10 back in 1934 running with a stiff wind and it has not been beaten though tied by Zedrow of Naperville in 1941 and by Jackson of Bloom in 1957. Merwin of Woodstock set a pole vault mark of 12' 7" in 1935 which has stood the test of time. In fact, no athlete has come close to breaking the record. No other record dates back to a time before 1952, the year when Naperville set a "B" class 400 yard shuttle mark of :48.2 and Anderson of Geneseo set a "B" class pole vault mark of 12' ¼". Last year only one record was added when Creighton of McHenry set a "B" class high mark of 6' 1 3/8".

Arlington Heights holds four records and all are outstanding. Dick Winterbauer nailed down great weight records in 1954 when he threw the discus 163' 3½" and put the shot 56' 3¾". Andy Merutka of Palatine who put the shot 57' 10" at the Oak Park Relays will be out to better this shot record. So far he has slightly bettered 55' in outdoor competition. Other Arlington records are a :43 in the 320 high hurdle shuttle and a 400 yard low hurdle shuttle mark of :47.4 both set in 1959. Palatine boasts a "B" class 2 mile relay mark of 8:23.7 and a high hurdle record of :44.1. However, Palatine is now competing in the "A" division.

20 YEARS AGO

Palatine handed Bensenville the first track defeat of the season 66-52. Trepus won the 440 and 880, Cipri the 100 and 220, and Hahnfeldt the shot and discuss for the Pirates while Pomplun took both hurdles and Kiefer captured high and broad jumps for Bensenville—Palatine sophs took 13 of 15 first places to defeat Niles 64½ to 44½ and then knocked off Barrington the same week 77-27, losing only one first place . . . Arlington's Grose coached track team took the measure of Crystal Lake 59-47 with all events the same as those coming up in the Palatine Relays on Saturday. Arlington won all the relays with the following boys competing: C. Niemeyer, W. Rohlwing, E. Rohlwing, R. Niemeyer, Briggs, Bolte, Kurtz, Heinze, Geudtner, Morici, Green, Kamps, Hartha, Ross, and Maseng . . . Ed Mueller and Dick Busse limited Barrington to one hit as Arlington took a 7-0 win over Barrington in baseball.

10 YEARS AGO

Coach Grace's Arlington varsity trounced Hinsdale 8-4 for the first West Suburban baseball victory. Baker and Simmons pitched for the Cards . . . New Trier athletic teams won 2 state championships on the same day last year and repeated this year when wrestlers and swimmers triumphed . . . Palatine took 8 varsity firsts to Leyden's 5 but lost in track 64-49. Jim Schmidt took both dashes and Herrman and Oesterle had marks of 2:10 and 4:49 in the 800 and mile respectively for Palatine. The worst spring in years has hampered the start of all sports on the local front . . . Barrington is favored to win the Northwest baseball title again on the strong arm of Dan Osinski who hurled 2 no hitters in last year's title race.

Cardinals' Frosh A's Rip Downers

Exploding for 17 hits in six innings, Arlington high's frosh "A" baseball team rocked Downers Grove last Saturday, 23-12, in its opening game of the 1961 campaign.

Coach Bob Rees' young Cardinals counted eight runs in a big first inning and scored in every frame but the second as they pummeled the visiting Trojans.

Brian Karp and Ken Peters toiled on the mound for Arlington with Peters claiming the victory.

Bob Speer had a homer for the Cards, John Johnson rapped a triple, and Frank Witter contributed a double. Paul Splittorff banged out four singles.

Arlington frosh "A" unit was slated to meet Notre Dame yesterday (Wednesday) and will travel to Barrington Saturday for a game at 9:30 a.m.

Score by innings:

Downers	208	200	0—12
Arlington	802	157	*—23

Frosh B's Rally, Stop Downers Unit

Arlington punched across six runs in the home half of the sixth inning last Saturday morning, then held on in fashioning an 11-6 frosh "B" baseball victory over Downers Grove.

Coach Art Brownell's Cardinals trailed by one run heading into the sixth when they turned on the power.

The Arlington squad recorded a clutch doubleplay in the fifth inning and Downers loaded the sacks in the seventh but couldn't score.

Dick Rosholt, Dick Teske, and Mike Horcher worked on the mound for Brownell's victors with Teske claiming the win. Dick Faner rapped out a homer and Chuck Fyfe, Ray Gross, and Rosholt had doubles.

Arlington's frosh "Bs" were slated to play Notre Dame yeaterday (Wednesday) with their next game Friday, April 28, against Palatine.

Knights' Frosh 'A' Unit Bows

Notre Dame erupted with six runs in the final inning last Friday afternoon and came from behind to topple Prospect high's frosh "A" baseball team, 9-6.

With Grant Gentry working on the mound the young Knights scored in each of the first three innings and held a 6-3 lead going into that disastrous fifth.

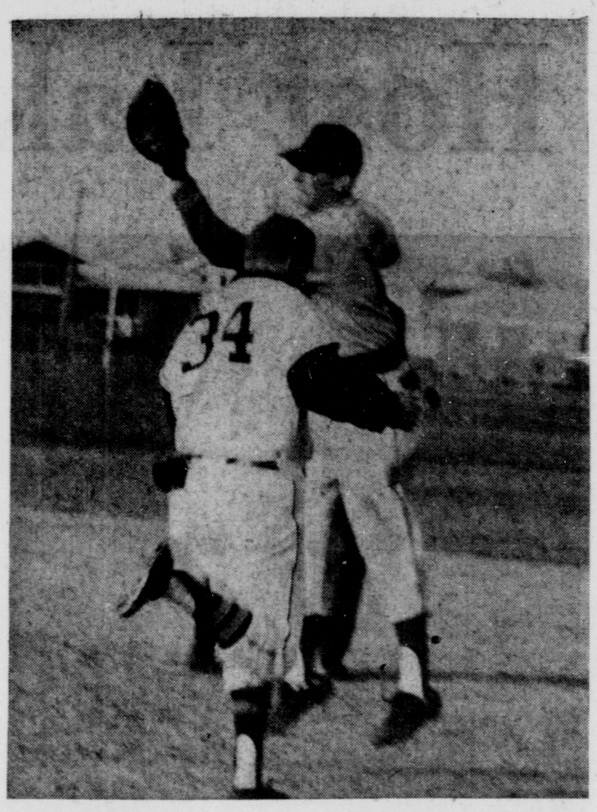
Gentry fanned six and walked four as Prospect suffered its first defeat in two outings this spring. Patt and Haiduke hurled for Notre Dame.

Dave White had four hits for the Knights and Bob Pomplun contributed two, driving in two runs. Ralph Kaspari also collected two RBIs for the locals.

Prospect's frosh "A" and "B" squads were slated to meet Maine West yesterday (Wednesday). A game with Glenbrook is set for Friday for the "As" with the frosh hosting East Leyden next Wednesday.

Score by innings:

Notre Dame	201	06—9-4
Prospect	231	00—6-7



THIS WAS THE start of a big four-run fourth inning for Prospect high's varsity baseball Knights last Thursday afternoon. Catcher George McRae (34) got on via an error to lead off the frame, and Coach Chuck Aldrich's Knights went on to score their four runs of the game in the 4-0 decision over Glenbrook.

Lake Shore Meet

JOEL LEWITZ of Highland Park set a frosh-soph record in the 880 last spring with a 2:06.6 effort and could threaten the varsity standard of 2:02.9 Saturday. Palatine has a good boy in Wayne Cullerton.

Niles' Jerry Zimberoff, now a junior, astounded the meet-fans last spring with a fancy :51.8 clocking in the 440 and with a year behind him the Trojans' flash could approach and break the :50.5 quarter-mile record set by Arlington's Mike Dundy in 1960.

Palatine's Brad McCreery is given a good chance to take the varsity pole vault event as the Pirate's senior cleared 11-6 for a school record last week. However, this event appears to be a toss-up with several boys capable of gaining top honors.

THE HIGH jump is another question-mark event although Arlington's John Burgermeister and Glenbrook's Grant Peterson, who shared second last spring, will rank among the favorites.

A wide-open event is shaping up in the broad jump, and both relay records should stand. Palatine's mile relay unit has the third best clocking in the state at 3:34.6 and it's possible the Pirates could threaten the meet mark of 3:31.6 set by Arlington in 1959.

Niles has turned in the best mark in the 880 yard relay among the competing teams but its 1:35.4 is about three seconds off the Lake Shore standard.

Waukegan Rules Frosh Triangular

Powerful Waukegan captured seven firsts while amassing 73½ points enroute to a freshman triangular track win over Palatine and Libertyville Friday at Libertyville.

Palatine, with five firsts of its own, placed second on the strength of 49 1/6 markers followed by the Wildcats who scored 25 1/3.

Mike Rompala turned in a 2:12.4 half for Coach Ron Helberg's outfit to take top honors in that event. Rompala's time was only two-tenths of a second off the Palatine school frosh record set in '59 by Gary Nagl.

ROMPALA additionally anchored the mile relay unit that triumphed in 3:53.2, only five-tenths of a second off another school freshman mark.

Other Pirate victories were turned in by Scott Sylvester in the 440, Jim Koeppl in the discus and Don Smith in the broad jump.

Palatine's freshman thinclads will host Barrington in a dual encounter Friday afternoon.

Rob Roy Golf League Meets Tuesday

Roy Roy Tuesday night league golfers will meet next Tuesday evening, April 25, at 8 o'clock to review the new rules and regulations of the forthcoming campaign.

The meeting will take place at the Rob Roy clubhouse and will be presided over by the new group of officers: Hap Procunier, president; Bernie Magneson, vice-president; Ken Keppen, secretary; and Dick Hanselman, treasurer.

All regulars and alternates are invited to attend.

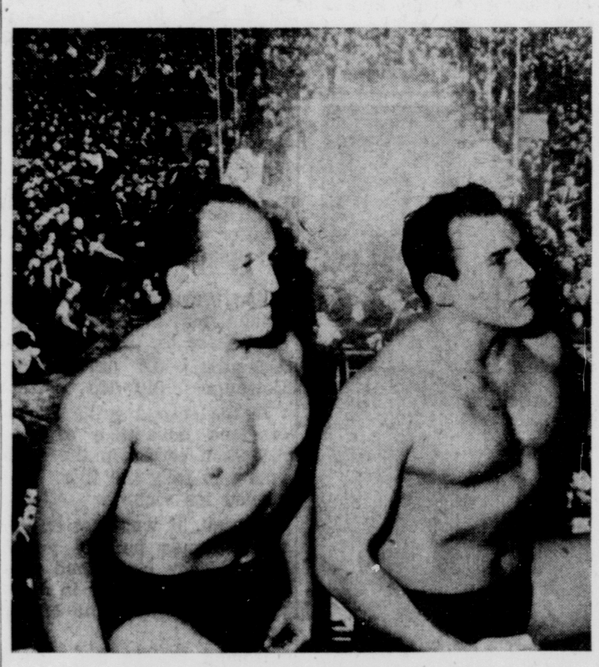
Frosh-Soph Tennis Team Wins Second

Arlington high's frosh-soph tennis team evened its season mark at 2-2 with an impressive 4-1 victory over Waukegan last Friday afternoon.

Coach Rog Steingraber's young netmen claimed two decisions each in doubles and singles play with Waukegan picking up its only win in No. 1 singles.

Racking up victories for Arlington were Rich Wollerman in No. 2 singles with a 6-1, 8-6 decision; Steve Martin in No. 3 singles with 6-0, 6-1 triumphs; Mirrel Kephart and Pete O'Neil in No. 1 doubles at 6-0, 6-1; and Steve Carns and Bob Schuldt in No. 2 doubles at 6-2, 6-1.

Arlington's frosh-soph tennis team will host Elgin today (Thursday) at 4 p.m. and then faces Downers Grove, Proviso East, and Glenbard West on successive days next week.



BILLY GOELZ and Johnny Gilbert are partners in the Australian Tag Team Match slated for the Arlington high school gymnasium on May 6. An all-star wrestling match will be held in the gym, and all main floor seats are limited. They may be purchased in advance by phoning CLearbrook 5-9092.

Locals Win Opener

Cards Record Split With Downers Grove

Arlington fashioned its first win of the conference campaign but couldn't take both ends of a twin-bill last Saturday at Downers Grove.

Coach Bob Baker's Cardinals edged the host Trojans, 4-3, in the opener then were bombarded, 13-2, in the nightcap as Downers exploded for 13 hits.

The split gave Arlington a 1-2 mark in West Suburban action and sixth place in the standings. Downers now owns a 2-1 mark and is tied with three other clubs for second behind pace-setting Glenbard West.

RIGHT HANDER John Lane recovered from a shaky start to twirl excellent baseball in the opener Saturday and rack up his second mound decision of the season.

Lane walked four batters and yielded one hit in the opening frame as Coach Guy Wellman's Trojans jumped off to a 3-0 lead. But John settled down and hurled shutout ball on a yield of only three hits in the next six innings.

The junior fanned seven and walked four in his first route-going performance of the 1961 season.

DOWNERS GROVE'S Bill Gurican, who dazzled the Cardinals in football last fall as a fast-stepping halfback, dazzled the Cards for 4 2/3 innings Saturday before they were able to reach him for that first hit of the game.

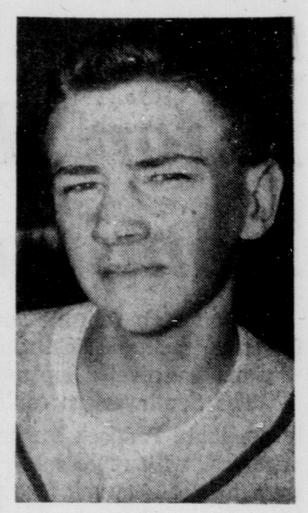
Shortstop Bob Hutchinson rapped out Arlington's initial safety in the fifth and the visitors erupted for four decisive runs and two hits in the sixth stanza.

A hit batsman opened the Cards' productive fifth and a fielder's choice, walk, two singles, and an error followed as Arlington punched over four big runs. Skip Witt and Ross Retterer banged out the safeties and Ray Miller, Tim O'Gorman, Witt, and Retterer rode home with the tallies as the Cards moved into the lead to stay.

DOWNERS GROVE threatened in its half of the seventh and had the tieing and winning runs on base when Hutchinson turned in a fancy defensive effort that enabled Arlington to chalk up its irst West Suburban victory of the season.

Hutchinson, who was 0-for-7 going into the game, rapped out two hits for Arlington.

It was all Downers in the second battle Saturday as the Trojans moved out to a 3-0 lead in the first segment, then proceeded to turn on the power in crushing the Cardinals, 13-2.



BOB HUTCHINSON
Busy Day

THE VICTORS solved "Buzz" Williams and Jim Murphy for 13 hits with third sacker Tom Martinek collecting two singles and a homer and scoring four runs.

Downers scored in every frame but the seventh while the Cards punched over their two runs in the second thanks Hutchinson's home run following Retterer's single. It was Arlington's first four-bagger of the season.

O'Gorman and Miller also registered hits for Arlington, but Baker's crew had trouble with the slants of Fred Mundinger and went down to its fourth defeat in five outings this spring.

Mundinger fanned 12 and walked no one in an impressive performance. Williams worked 4 2/3 innings for Arlington and Murphy finished up with Williams absorbing the defeat.

Knights Gain Two Victories In Links Play

Prospect high's varsity golfers registered their third and fourth straight victories last week as they handled Barrington and Proviso West.

Coach Frank Wright's Knights toppled Barrington, co-champ in the North Suburban golf race last spring, on Thursday, 8½-6½, then bounced Proviso West Friday, 162-172, under the Interim league scoring system.

On a frosh-soph level Prospect lost to Barrington, 9½-5½, then turned around and bumped Proviso West, 182-193.

REG HAWKINSON paved the way for the varsity Knights in the impressive victory over Barrington as he toured the Biltmore country club course in 43 for nine holes and 2½ team points.

Also picking up markers for Prospect were Jim Palmer with a 44 for 2½ points and Byron Wilson with a 47 for three team counters. John Krause and Jeff Louthain alshot 47s for Prospect but Krause was blanked and Louthain collected only a half point.

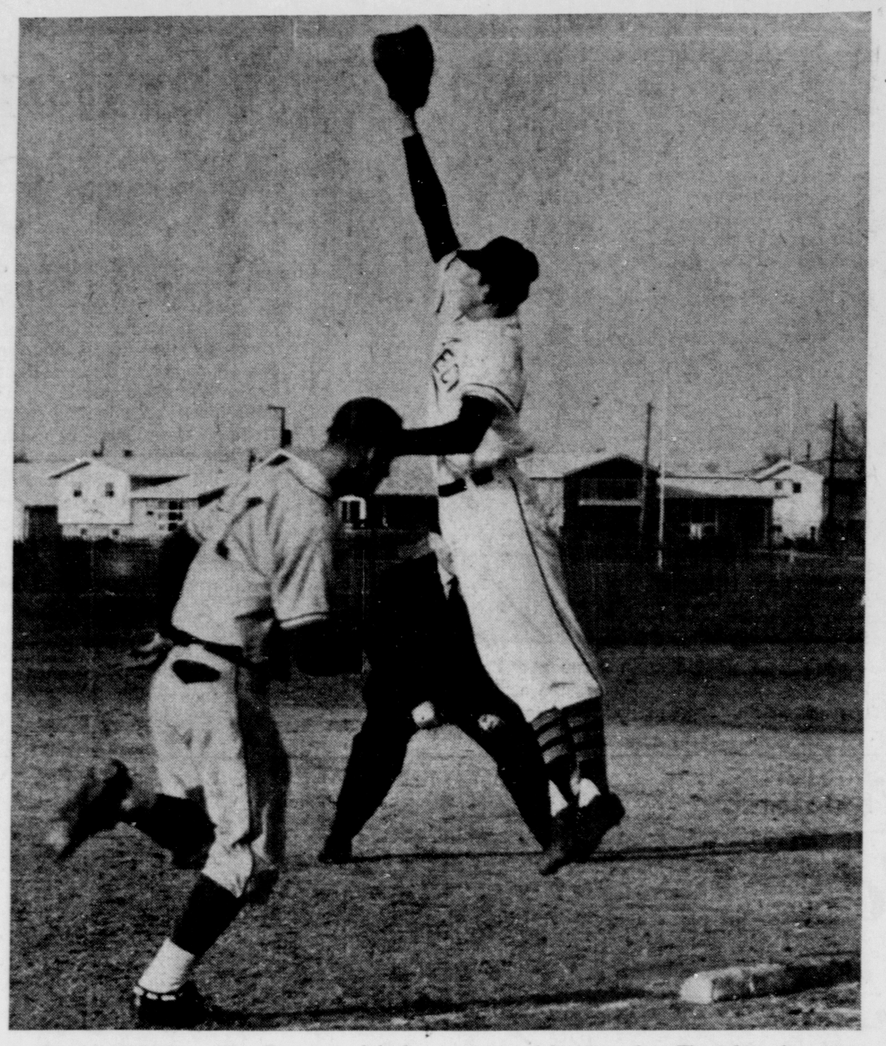
In the Proviso West match the Knights' team total was garnered thanks to a 38 by Palmer, 39, by Krause, 42 by Hawkinson, and 43 by Louthain.

PROSPECT WAS down by three strokes after five holes against the Panthers but rallied for the convincing 10-stroke decision.

In the frosh-sophs' loss to Barrington, Bob O'Day was low man with a 43 and three of his team's points. Don Feige fired a 45 and was able to claim one point and Ed Quirsfeld shot a 47 for 1½. Russ Barger and Warren Luebcke rounded out the Knights' efforts with 51 and 56 respectively.

COUNTING TOWARD the team score against Proviso West were Gary VanDerVoort with a 43, Feige with a 45, O'Day with a 46, and Quirsfeld with a 48.

Prospect's varsity and frosh-soph linksmen will travel to Willowbrook Friday, and the soph squad will host Morton West Monday. Both units will swing back into action on Tuesday and Wednesday with matches against Maine West and Palatine.



A HIGH THROW pulls Prospect high school's Ken Anderson off the bag and enables Glenbrook's Al Rader to reach first base in fourth inning of the Knights' impressive 4-0 victory last Thursday afternoon. Southpaw Mark Thorne handcuffed the visiting Spartans on only one hit in the decision.

Arlington's Varsity Net Unit Triumphs

Snapping a three match losing streak, Arlington high school's varsity tennis team dumped a visiting Waukegan outfit, 4-1, last Friday afternoon.

Coach Ken Schaller's Cardinals took the three singles tests and one doubles match in registering their first victory of the 1961 campaign.

On Thursday Blue Island had edged Arlington, 3-2, with a sweep in doubles clinching the victory.

ARLINGTON'S TOP three singles players, the squad's only returning lettermen this year, each turned in triumphs against Waukegan.

In No. 1 singles senior Bill Thompson dumped Waukegan's Ken Gehrke 6-3, 6-3 and junior Tom Benson registered an impressive 6-1, 6-1 conquest in No. 2 singles for his fourth straight win of the 1961 campaign.

Junior Bob Bohac completed the singles sweep for Arlington with a relatively easy 6-1, 6-4 victory in No. 3 action.

ARLINGTON continued its mastery over Waukegan as Chuck Close and Dave Wollerman combined talents for a 10-8, 7-5 decision in No. 1 doubles, but the team of Gary Elledge and Rusty Walters fell in three sets in No. 2 competition.

In the Blue Island match Arlington claimed two singles wins thanks to Benson and Bohac, but the visitors copped the other three battles for the team triumph.

In No. 2 singles Benson toppled Lee Saucubier 6-2, 6-2 and in No. 3 singles Bohac won 6-0, 8-6 over Rog Freeman.

THAD FERGUSON, who advanced to the semi-finals in the state tourney last spring before losing to the eventual champ Marty Riessen, had some trouble with Arlington's Thompson in No. 1 singles before winning 4-6, 7-5, 6-2.

The AHS doubles combos of Close and Wollerman and Jim Jakubiec and Walters both dropped their matches, but both extended their opponents to three sets.

Arlington's varsity netmen were slated to meet Ottawa yesterday (Wednesday) and will host Elgin today (Thursday) at 4 p.m. On Saturday Schaller's squad will hook up in a quadrangular at LaGrange and on Tuesday Arlington will host Downers Grove.

Following the Downers meet, the Cards will meet Proviso East and Glenbard West.

Cards' Varsity, Frosh Linksmen Fall; Sophs Win

Waukegan high's Bulldogs toppled Arlington's varsity golfers, 8-2, last Friday afternoon in the Cardinals' first test of the 1961 campaign.

With three boys firing 40s the hosts had little trouble in claiming the decision in the nine-hole competition over the Bonnie Brook course.

Arlington had better luck on a frosh-soph level with a 4-2 victory, but the Cards' frosh linksmen fell 6-0 in what is scheduled to be their only match of the season.

LOW MAN for Coach Ralph Meyer's varsity Cards was junior Jerry Peterson who came in with a creditable 41 in the No. 2 slot for the team's only two points.

Rounding out the Arlington competitors were junior Doug Wiborg in No. 1 action with a 45, junior Mike Heyl in the No. 3 slot with a 49, senior Grant Wallhoff in No. 4 with a 46, and junior Tom McGrath in No. 5 with a 49.

Norkus, Dahling, and Gordon all had 40s for the victorious Bulldogs and the trio played in slots 3-5.

PICKING UP two points each for the frosh-soph Cardinals in their victory were Ken Seeger with a 41 and George Brinke with a 44. Jim Wolf fired a 49 for the young Cards.

In frosh competition Fred Devin and Joe Hauser carded 51s and Rog O'Neil came home with a 53 for Arlington.

Arlington's varsity and frosh - soph golfers were slated to meet Palatine Monday at Inverness but the weekend snow storm took care of that. The Cardinals' varsity is scheduled to play Wheaton, defending Interim league champion, next Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. at Golden Acres golf club.

Sophs Win Opener, 5-4

Ken Layden tripled in Ted Staahl with the winning run in the eighth inning last week as Arlington high's frosh-soph baseball team opened its 1961 campaign with a 5-4 victory over Glenbard West.

Coach "Bus" Ormsbee's Cards had tied the count in the visitor's half of the seventh to set the stage for the overtime heroics.

Staahl, who relieved starter Gary Spencer in the fourth, got credit for the win although Eric Berg came in on the eighth to register the final out.

Rog Lindstrom blasted out a homer and double for Arlington with the victors collecting 10 hits in their season opener.

Prospect Wins, 4-0

Spartans Handcuffed By Knights' Thorne

Prospect high's Mark Thorne twirled no- hit baseball for 6 2/3 innings last Thursday afternoon but had to settle for a masterful one-hit, 4-0 conquest of Glenbrook when the visitors' Larry Borre stroked a triple in the top half of the seventh.

Thorne was breezing along on his masterpiece and caught the first two batters with snappy strikeouts to open the final inning. Borre, who had fanned in two previous journeys to the plate, then tagged the Prospect southpaw for Glenbrook's first and only safety of the Interim league encounter.

Thorne got the next batter to pop out, and he chalked up his second mound decision of the 1961 campaign. In 17 innings of work this year Thorne has yielded only five hits. He has yet to give up an earned run and has fanned 34 and walked only eight.

CENTER FIELDER Fred Lussow drove in two runs with his first hit of the campaign, a one base knock in the big fourth inning. Prospect scored all its runs in the fourth thanks to five hits, an error, and walk.

Catcher George McRae got on by an error to open the fourth and with one out Dick Palmer and Mike Francek put together back-to-back singles. Lussow rapped out his safety with two outs and before Glenbrook's Dave Lass had retired the side, Ken Anderson and Fred Empkie also chipped in with base hits.

COACH CHUCK Aldrich's Prospect aggregation collected only one other hit in the game, a first inning single by Thorne, and the visitor's Lass, a fire-balling right hander, struck out 10 in his six inning stint.

Glenbrook had runners on in six of the seven frames but couldn't dent the scoring column off the slants of Thorne. The crafty Prospect southpaw fanned 12 and had at least one strikeout in every stanza.

The victory came in the Knights' first Interim league encounter as the original opener with Maine West was postponed because of wet grounds.

The Maine West tilt will be made up on Wed., May 17, and the West Leyden clash, called off Tuesday because of the weather, will be played Saturday, April 29.

DIRECTOR of this winter's program has been Mrs. Winnie Lohse, 57 S. Brockway, Palatine, a resident certified bowling instructor at Hi-Way.

Tickets for Tuesday's banquet are available to family and friends of the participating bowlers at $2 for adults and $1.60 for children under 12.

Prospect High's Net Squads Drop Pair to Spartans

Glenbrook copped two singles matches and one doubles test and handed Prospect high's varsity tennis squad a 3-2 defeat last Thursday afternoon in a meet on the Knights' courts.

The visiting Spartans turned in an identical victory on the frosh-soph level and handed Prospect its second straight defeat.

The varsity loss gave Coach Rick Farris' Knights a 1-1 standard in the Interim. Prospect had bumped Maine West, 3-2, in its 1961 opener.

CLAIMING victories for Prospect's varsity netmen were Jerry Gehrke in No. 3 singles with a 6-1, 7-5 triumph over Rupp and the No. 2 doubles combo of Newell Krogmann and Gordon Hunt.

Krogmann and Hunt won the first set 6-4 for Farris' Knights but were losing the second 5-0 with Glenbrook serving at set point. The local duo put on a tremendous rally and were leading 6-5 when a Spartan performer twisted his ankle, giving Prospect the victory by default.

Glenbrook's Swayers topped Prospect's Vaughn Kirchoff 0-6, 8-6, 6-2 in No. 1 singles and McLure bumped the Knights' Tom Gewecke 6-2, 4-6, 8-6 in No. 2 play.

In No. 1 doubles the Glenbrook team of Jim and Bob Roberts whipped Prospect's Lothar Hansen and John Heuer 6-1, 6-3.

COACH Maurie Levy's frosh-soph Knights took one singles and one doubles victory during the afternoon.

Ed Schaefer won No. 3 singles 6-2, 6-1 and the doubles team of Don Tibbals and Bob Gewecke claimed their No. 2 test 6-1, 6-0.

Bowing in singles for Prospect were Scott Campbell and Shaw. The doubles unit of Jim Anderson and Dick Anderson also fell in two sets.

Hilltoppers Handle Cards In Loop Play

With right hander Johnny Hermanek working on the mound Glenbard West's Hilltoppers bumped Arlington high's varsity Cardinals, 4-2 last Thursday afternoon in the West Suburban conference opener for both clubs.

The game was originally scheduled for Wednesday at Recreation Park but the weather forced a switch in both playing date and site. The contest was held at the high school diamond.

Hermanek, an all-league selection as a junior, fanned eight and walked five in claiming the decision although the Cardinals came within a whisker — and a debated call—of pulling out the triumph.

COACH BOB Baker's outfit opened up in an explosive third frame after falling behind by four markers. With one out Craig Quackenbush walked to initiate the outburst.

One out, three hits, and a walk later Arlington had two runs in the sacks jammed. Shortstop Bob Hutchinson was at the plate.

The Cards' senior infielder laced one of Hermanek's offerings to right-center to clear the bases and give Arlington what appeared to be a big 5-4 lead. However, it was ruled that time had been called and that Hutchinson had to bat again.

HERMANEK was equal to the task this time and he got "Hutch" on a third strike to kill off the side and check the rally.

Both Arlington and Glenbard collected only one hit in the next three frames and the game was called after six frames with darkness setting in and the Bards on top, 4-2.

Gregg Beckway worked on the mound for the Cardinals and although suffering some trouble in the first three frames, he still turned in a creditable performance. The right hander fanned nine and walked only three.

RAY MILLER, Ross Retterer, Beckway, and Bill Burfeind registered Arlington's base hits with Miller hitting safely for the third straight game.

Shortstop Ross Lane and right fielder Jim Gratteau each had two hits for the visiting Bards. Glenbard had four of its five hits in the first three frames as it scored all four of its runs.

Willowbrook Nine Handles Wheaton, 7-6

by PAUL POTYEN

The Willowbrook varsity baseball team came from behind in the late innings of the game to bail out its first victory of the 1961 campaign in a 7-6 thriller over Wheaton last week.

Again the opposition jumped off to an early lead in the first on a single by Jim Edwards who advanced to third on a bad throw-in. This was followed by a walk and a double by Ed Nelson.

In the second Willowbrook broke even when Bob Zaborowski walked and Dave Jones rifled a double to left-center field, scoring "Zab."

BUT THE TIGERS rebounded for three tallies when nine men batted in the third. The inning began with a pass to Jim MacKay. Everyone was safe when the pitcher threw late to second base trying to get MacKay on a fielder's choice.

Then pitcher John Pfund ripped a single to load up the bases. Brian Grant hit into a force play at the plate, but a sacrifice fly brought in the first run of the inning. Pfund scored on a double steal. Dale Grant was awarded first base on an error on the third baseman and a walk loaded the bases again. The third run came in on a single by Sheiner. Warrior hurler Bill Gable finally got out of the inning with a strikeout.

IN THE FOURTH frame Zaborowski led off for the Warriors with a single. After Bornemann rapped into a fielder's choice, Dave Jones singled sharply to center. Gable hit into another fielder's choice but Harlan Krafft sent a run across with a single.

With Wheaton ahead 4-2 going into the bottom of the fifth Bill Offill started the inning out right for Willowbrook with a walk. He scored on a long triple by Fred Langille. Langille came in on a sacrifice fly, tying up the score. Bill Bornemann then singled, stole second, and came home on Jones' third hit of the day, a long double down the third base line.

IN THE TOP of the seventh Wheaton took a 6-5 lead on a walk, a stolen base, a wild pitch and an error.

But the Warriors, not about to give up, started a rally of their own on walks to Offill and Langille, and a bunt single by Cliff Osborn. Offill came home on a wild pitch, tying the score again. Jones walked, to fill the bases once more, and Osborn romped home from third with the winning run on a boot by the third baseman.

PROSPECT HIGH catcher George McRae (34) raps a grounder in third base to open fourth inning of the Knights' 4-0 victory over Glenbrook last Thursday. McRae got on via an error and Prospect scored four runs in that frame as it registered its first Interim league victory of 1961.

Vernon Hills Gals Near Classic Title

Vernon Hills Restaurant of Lake Zurich bided its time Saturday by winning a pair of games from Northfield Bowl as the noose of remaining games draws tighter on the Paddock Women's Classic Women's Traveling League Leader's two challengers.

Second place Morton Pontiac of Arlington Heights and third-place Steve's Restaurant of Wheeling also won two games, but the number of games remaining in the Paddock Women's Classic has been reduced to six and the number of nights of competition to two.

Only one win by Vernon Hills Restaurant, which bowls out of Country Lanes in Lake Zurich, or one loss by Steve's Restaurant, which bowls out of Jeffery Lanes in Wheeling, will eliminate the first round champions.

ANY combination of four Vernon Hills victories or Morton Pontiac defeats will give Vernon Hills the second half title. Any combination of three assures Vernon Hills of a tie.

What makes the cheese even more binding on the challengers is that they — Morton Pontiac and Steve's Restaurant—meet head-on at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at Northfield Bowl while Vernon Hills Restaurant faces River-Rand, which is tied for last place.

Vernon Hills Restaurant found its home lanes to its liking, rolling high team game, 916, and high team series, 2628. Vernon Hills' 916 game was heart-breaking to its opponent, Northfield Bowl, which had a 911 game. Bonnie Kuhn of Mundelein was the mainstay of the Vernon Hills attack, rolling the night's high series, 635. In the 916 team game, she had a 235 game. This was preceded by a 232 game.

ONLY THE opener went to Northfied Bowl thanks to a 215 game by Fran Feuer of Winnetka. However, she had a better game, 223, in the nightcap to finish next to Bonnie Kuhn with a 581 series. Bonnie's teammate, Vi Douglas of Palatine, posted a 565 triplicate.

Morton Pontiac, representing Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights, after dropping the opener to River-Rand thanks to a 194 game by Ruth Jemison of Des Plaines, took the last two. Morton eaked out a six-pin win on a 184 game by Connie Labo of Rolling Meadows. Then Ruthmary Townley and Joan Lindahl, both of Arlington Heights, bowled 193 and 191, respectively, to capture the deciding game. Ruthmary Townley and Ruth Jemison were high for their respective teams, with 526 series.

Grace Squardo sparkplugged Steve's Restaurant to a pair of victories over Sims Bowl. She rolled 194 to head Steve's opening win and returned with the night's high individual game, 246, in the closer for a 577 series. Only when Pat Patek of Niles bowled a 221 game, which gave her a 556 series was Sims able to conquer Steve's Restaurant.

Paddock Men's Classic

Cook County Mobile Homes Hits 1158 Game, 3187 Series

Cook County Mobile Homes Saturday night waxed hotter than any Paddock Classis team this season.

The Des Plaines based team, rolling on its home River-Rand lanes, bowled a season's high 1158 team game and a season's high 3187 team series. These are among the highest scores rolled by any team in the Chicago area this year.

Every man was in the 600's, ranging from a 661 by Don Oberg of Itasca to a 618 by Ted Zimmerman of Des Plaines. In between were Bob Rogers of Des Plaines, Captain Don Christensen of Arlington Heights and Tony Sasso of Des Plaines with 646, 633, and 629, respectively.

EVEN SO, Cook County Mobile Homes could win only two games from Jeffery Lanes of Wheeling. When Cook County Mobile Homes hit its "low" game, 990, Jeffery came up with a 1048 count for its lone triumph game, 975, in the final backed by a 208 by George Radke of Mundelein and 203 by Earl Nichols of Arlington Heights, but so did Bill Cook which rolled 1003 thanks to a 219 game by Seidel, 213 by Nickol and 202 by Tom Kouros of Barrington Woods. Seidel had the top series in the match, 603, followed by a 602 by Nickol.

Moyle Construction of Barrington ruined Pro Sport Center's bid to take over third place by winning two games via a 2913 team series. The two triumphs enabled Mcyle, rolling out of Ten Pin in Barrington, to break a tie for fifth place with Jeffery Lanes.

Casper DeWitz of Barrington bowled 267 to lead Moyle to a 1057 game and an easy triumph. Teammates Don Bacon of Crystal Lzke and LeRoy Papineau of Lake-in-the-Hills rolled 218 and 202, respectively. Papineau then returned with a 214 game to lead Moyle to its second triumph despite the second consecutive 203 game by John Ribando of Mt. Prospect for Pro Sport Center.

RIBANDO stepped up his pace with a 214 game to give Pro Sport Center, representing Gunnell's in Mt. Prospect, its lone triumph. Helping achieve the triumph were a 209 game by Ernie Koche of Hoffman Estates, 203 by Al Valentino of Rolling Meadows, and 200 by Earl Fenimore of Arlington Heights. Ribando finished with a 620 series but two opponents, Papineau and DeWitz, out-totaled him with 631 and 621, respectively.

Tommy Thomas' Casablanca team, bowling out of Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine, was stymied, losing two to Timroth Plumbing of Des Plaines. Only when Casablanca bowled a 952 middle game was the third place team able to beat Timroth, which represents Beverly Lanes in Arlington Heights. That win was through the efforts of Ron Fogarett of Palatine who had a 221 game.

IN THE OPENER, no one was able to roll well, Timroth coming out on top, 870-826. Monte Arkus of Hoffman Estates, who paced Timroth in the first game with a 192 high, also led his team in the final game with a 203 effort. Arkus was high for Timroth with a 596 triplicate and Fogarett paced Casablanca with 579.

With his 646 series, Rogers of Cook County Mobile Homes moved his average back to 200 for 60 games, remaining atop the Paddock Classic individual's list. Bill Radunz of Arlington Heights remained at 196 and Oberg advanced a pin to tie Radunz at 196. Rounding out the top five are Papineau and Radke who remained at 194.

Kouros dropped from the top five for the first time this season, losing a pin to fall back to 193 where he is tied with Fogarett and Dick Nethaway of Des Plaines.

Outdoor sports fans and participants along with anyone interested in vacation ideas for the coming summer will want to attend the Des Plaines Outdoor Sports and Vacation Show held at Rand Park in Des Plaines, Saturday and Sunday, May 6 and 7.

Admission to the two-day show, open from 2 p.m. to 10 p.m. each day, is free of charge to the public.

A number of special events will be held in conjunction with the show which will meet a wide variety of interests. One of the most popular events is the stocking of Rand Park Swimming Pool with live trout. Persons are enabled to fish for trout in ten minute periods. Tagged fish which are caught will enable persons to receive prizes.

THE ANNUAL Miss Des Plaines Contest will be held in conjunction with the show this year. It will take place on Saturday afternoon and evening at the main stage of the fieldhouse.

Golf pitching contests, Tennis accuracy contests, and baseball batting clinics will also be held at the show. A balloon flying contest will be held for the first 500 boys and girls attending the show on Sunday.

Displays and exhibitions by merchants and community clubs will delight persons in attendance. This will include booths on fishing ideas, outdoor camping ideas, hunting, vacation themes, etc.

STAGE SHOWS will be held Sunday and will include dog exhibitions, bicycle races, dancing exhibitions, casting exhibitions by Bill Cullerton, first aid demonstrations,

Season 'Bests' Rank Second in Loop's History

Although the marks turned in by Cook County Mobile Homes in Saturday night's Paddock Classic traveling league were season "bests," they weren't all-time records in the high-flying bowling loop.

Casablanca's outfit turned in an 1191 game in the 1959-60 campaign for the standard in that category, and Pentane Gas, Classic league titlists last season, registered the high series at 3195 enroute to the championship.

However, the 1158 and 3187 efforts by Cook County Mobile Homes do rank second on the all-time list in the Paddock Classic traveling league.

Prospect Opens Outdoor Track Schedule Today

Prospect high's varsity and frosh-soph track squads will open their outdoor campaigns today (Thursday) when they host Barrington's Bronchos of the North Suburban conference.

The lidlifter will kick off a schedule of five dual meets for Coach Bob Scott's varsity Knights while the frosh-sophs face seven outdoor duals this spring.

Prospect will also be competing in the Palatine Relays on Saturday, April 29; the Maine East Invitational on Friday, May 5; and the Mooseheart Relays on May 6.

DISTRICT AND state competition will follow and the frosh will vie for honors in the Glenbrook Invitational on Monday, May 22. The conference meet is set for Maine West on Thursday, May 25.

Scott's varsity Knights rolled to five straight dual meet victories in the indoor campaign with conquests of Palatine, Niles, Downers Grove, Waukegan, and Libertyville. Prospect fendhisityville. Prospect finished third in a triangular with Glenbrook and Proviso West and tenth in the Evanston Relays.

Prospect's opening opponent has already had some outdoor experience this year with a quad victory and a 55-53 decision over Glenbrook.

TOP BOYS in the Barrington alignment include Brian Ritzenthaler in the high jump, John Egan in the sprints, Chris Baer in the 880, and Frank Lockwood in the hurdles. Lockwood and Egan are both school record holders in their specialties.

The Knights will travel to East Leyden next Tuesday afternoon for varsity and frosh-soph meets with the Eagles and will journey to West Proviso on Thursday, April 27, in the final tuneup before the Palatine Relays.

Prospect's Sophs Bury Notre Dame

Prospect high's rampaging frosh - soph baseball team rolled past a visiting Notre Dame nine, 12-0, last Friday afternoon with Hank LaRocco going the route on a yield of only two hits.

Coach Larry Wyllie's young Knights, 26-0 conqueror of Palatine in the opener of 1961, exploded with five runs in the first inning Friday and coasted in behind the effective slants of LaRocco.

RaRocco fanned seven and didn't walk a man in the seven innings. Dave Leekley contributed three hits for Prospect and now is 7-for-10 this season. Tom Cross, Ron Aukamp, Dick Beck, and Jim Hogarty each collected two safeties with Hogarty rocking out a homer in the first frame.

Prospect's frosh-soph squad was slated to meet Maine West yesterday (Wednesday) and will host Glenbrook Friday at 4 p.m. East Leyden comes to town next Wed., April 26.

The game with Niles that was slated for Monday and called off because of the weather will be made up on Monday, May 1.

Score by innings:

Notre Dame	000	000	0— 0- 2
Prospect	500	142	*—12-16

Loop to Open Play May 9

The opending day of play for the Tuesday morning Arlington ladies golf league will be held May 9.

Flight play will continue this season with both a nine and 18-hold league. The nine hole league will start between 8 and 9 a.m. with the 18-hole league getting underway at 8:30.

The flights are now in the process of being formed. Players interested in joning the league or desiring information should contact Claire Blackwell, CLearbrook 3-0737.

Brooks' Varsity Trackmen Routed

The York varsity cindermen routed Willowbrook last Friday afternoon by a lop-sided score of 82-36 in a meet where the Dukes took ten first places and had two ties for first.

York's runners proved to be the killing factor in WB's defeat. Hurdler Gale Morse copped first in the lows and highs, while Rich Anglickis recieved first places for the Dukes in the 100 yard dash and the 220, and a second in the 880.

However, bright spots on the WB team were Scott Brees, who hurled the discus a record distance of 151-1. Ken Scorza tied York's Kutschke with a pole vault of 11-0.

High jumpers Chuck Shissler and Dennis Twitty tied York's Gianneschi with leaps of 5-6. The Willowbrook mile relay team made a fine showing in coming from behind to win by a one foot margin. Anchorman John Ashenhurst turned in a time of :53.2 for his quarter.

Bodor Competes In Knights of Columbus Meet

Joe Bodor of Arlington Heights bowled in the National Knights of Columbus tournament in Peoria Saturday and with an average of 166, he rolled 564 in singles, 521 in doubles and 529 in 5-man scratch for an 1830 total with handicap.

while bowling a respectable 2974 series, behind a 636 series by George Stone of Deerfield and 631 by Bill Harris of Wheeling.

Meanwhile, Bill Bond Men's Wear of Rolling Meadows dropped a pair to last place Bill Cook Buick and fell into second place a half game behind Cook County Mobile Homes with four nights of play remaining in the second half.

This sets the stage for next Saturday's clash between the one-two teams on Bill Bond's home Country Lanes in Lake Zurich at 6:30 p.m.

COOK COUNTY Mobile Homes got off to a tremendous start with its record 1158 game. Oberg paced his quintet with the night's high individual game, 268, on his way to high individual series. Zimmerman rolled 245 and Sasso and Christensen 225 apiece. Rogers, who had the game's low score, 195, roared back with a 267 effort to pace the second game triumph. Teammates Sasso and Oberg shot 208 and 200, respectively.

In the final game, Christensen fired 214 and Zimmerman 203, but it wasn't enough as Stone recorded a 258 game, Harris 210 and Hec Healey of Northbrook 204.

Bill Bond, battling for the second half crown, didn't meet with such success. No one had a 600 series as the team had a 2740 series. Bill Bond won the opener, 867-837, although no one had a 200 game.

THEN BILL COOK Buick took over. Jim Perna of Rolling Meadows bowled 218 followed by a 203 by John Seidel of Palatine and 201 by Dick Nickol, also of Palatine. Bill Bond had its best

Do-it-yourself Style Show at Our Saviour's

Garden-type tea tables will be set up Sunday from 3 to 5 p.m. in Our Saviour Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, for the sixth annual mother-daughter tea. Highlight of the tea will be a do-it-yourself fashion show and models will be women and chidren of the church.

Hand-sewn and hand-knit clothing will be shown as well as mother and daughter outfits. The show will be divided into four categories: suits and coats, sportswear, casualwear and formals. Musical background will be apropos to the type of clothing being shown.

Also on the program will be members of the Carol choir, who will sing under the direction of Mrs. Robert Wolff. Mrs. Jerome Downing will be soloist and Miss Judi Anderson will play the violin.

CO-CHAIRMEN of the event are Mrs. Harry Wickstom, Mrs. Edward Stein, and Mrs. Hjalmar Meyer. Child models include Julie and Scott Garrison, Karen Steuber, Rebecca and David Petersen, Susan Johnston, Greta and Mark Hermanson, Lisa and Wendy Swenson, Susan Barbara and Laura Wray, Sheri Wolff, Kristen and Karen Ahnquist, Bonnie Jean and Heather Ann Gerrard, Leslie and Colleen Peickert, Karen and Debbie Carns, Martha Cook, Tolly Wallace and Laura Evig.

Teenagers: Carolyn Neas, Nancy Neland, Alene Posselt, and Martha Sorgatz. Women: Mrs. Daniel Anderson, Mrs. Vern Heim, Mrs. Aub Johnson, Mrs. Robert Johnston, Mrs. Marlin Peickert, Mrs. William Steuber, Mrs. Burton Elvig, and Mrs. Nathalie Wallace. (A

Part-Time Village Attorney Proposed

The long-awaited report of a committee appointed to study legal needs of the village was presented to Arlington Heights trustees Monday.

Submitted by Trustees Samuel Wit, Eugene Schlickman and Melvin Kurtz, the report made four recommendations which were accepted by a 4-2 vote of the board.

THE recommendations are as follows:

(1) a part-time village attorney should be continued;

(2) the village attorney should be compensated on a yearly salary basis;

(3) the board of local improvements and village manager shall be given the power to select the attorney for special assessment projects, and

(4) the office of village prosecutor shall be separate and apart from that of village attorney.

IT WAS NOTED the attorney's salary would cover only the normal load of corporate work, and that the expense of litigation and special projects would be handled on an hourly basis.

Trustee Wendell Prunty asked, "Wouldn't it be difficult to draw the line between the 'salary' and 'hourly' work?"

Trustee Robert Bukowski asked for an "integrated approach" in suggesting the authority to hire an attorney remain solely with the board of trustees.

IN THE VOTING, both Prunty and Bukowski cast "no" votes.

Trustee Schlickman termed the report a "good, moderate approach" and said it will stand "on its merit."

The legal committee was appointed May 16, 1960, and charged with defining the needs of the village, reviewing the present organization, and making recommendations. (A

Former Resident Heads Hospital

Robert Marsh, former Arlington Heights resident, has accepted a position as administrator of Warren A. Candler hospital in Savannah, Ga., effective May 1.

He and his wife will be guests of honor at a farewell dinner Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bronwell, 403 N. Douglas.

Marsh was director of Blue Cross and Blue Shield in West Virginia before coming to Arlington Heights. He also served as administrator at Staats hospital and clinic in Charleston.

WHILE SERVING as assistant administrator at Chicago Wesley hospital, Marsh continued his studies at Northwestern university and has completed his study for his master's degree in hospital administration.

Warren A. Candler hospital in Savannah is a 200-bed facility, the oldest on the eastern seaboard, having been founded in 1819. Mr. and Mrs. Marsh will move to Georgia next week. (A

VIRGINIA TERRACE

A dinner party was held Sunday afternoon in the home of Jane and Don Von Ebers, 1410 N. Illinois, in honor of two of their children, Suzanne Marie, who was celebrating her second birthday, and Timothy, who was baptized earlier in the day in ceremonies conducted by Rev. John Lane in St. James Catholic church. In attendance as godparents were Mr. and Mrs. Irv Bedard, Northlake. Also present to share in the combined festivities were the Bedards' two children, as well as the Von Ebers' other sons, Steve and Don.

An after-school party was held Monday for Debra, daughter of Mary and George Maybee, 1251 N. Wilke, and among those wishing her a happy ninth birthday were her sister, Kathleen, brothers, Michael and Timothy, Susan Zimmerman, Holly McWhinney, Christine Ratchek, Cheryl Wheat, Susan Pohle, Marilyn Hacker, Kathy Slaughter and Jean Kellogg.

Mrs. Alice Bower, 1333 N. Race, enjoyed a pleasant visit recently from her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Robert Bower, and grandchildren, Jeanne, Joe, Jim, Jennifer and Johnny, who flew here during the Easter vacation period from their home in New York.

On Easter, Mrs. Bower entertained at dinner in honor of Pat and the children, and guests included her two daughters, their husbands and nine other grandchildren, namely the Raymond Nitch family, Arlington Heights, and the John Evers family, Prospect Heights, as well as Pat's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Beier, Wheeling. Pat's sojourn here also included getting together with many friends and former neighbors, as she and Bob are former Terrace residents.

IT WAS A combination birthday dinner party Sunday in the home of Ellen and Bob Wiley, 1329 N. Race, as their daughters, Patricia and Debbie, celebrated their second and first birthdays, respectively. Patricia, 2 April 13, and Debbie, 1 April 17, were properly congratulated by their sisters, Mary Anne and Susan, brother, Michael, and paternal grandmother, Mrs. Ann Wiley, Elmhurst.

A company transfer to Hammond prompted the move last Saturday of Dorothy and Dick Chase, 1301 N. Chicago, and their children, Pamela, Patricia and David, long time Terrace esidents. Friends and neighbors wish them well in their new home located on the far south side of Chicago.

A circus birthday cake was the center of attraction at a buffet dinner party held Sunday for April, daughter of Darlene and Bob Krug, 1212 N. Race, 2 April 13. Guests included her brothers, Bobby and Jeff, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Krug and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fargeson, and aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tandel, Chicago; and aunt, uncle and cousin, the Tom Cartolano family, Lake Zurich.

Maternal grandparents, Park Ridge, and aunt, uncle and cousins, the Gerald Tapp family, Park Ridge, helped celebrate the third birthday of Nancy, daughter of Jean and Rev. Maynard Beal, 1440 N. Race, at a dinner held last Sunday. Also present were her brothers, Danny and Chris.

A DUAL celebration was held over the weekend in honor of the "sweet 16" birthday of Cassandra, daughter of Lorraine and Ray Kunstman, 1309 N. Chicago. Thirteen friends and classmates, including her sister, Rae, were on hand Friday evening at a party which included a scavenger hunt, followed by dancing and a late buffet supper. Sunday, because foul weather precluded a visit from friends for a birthday dinner party, Lorraine and Ray treated Cassandra and Rae to dinner at the Milk Pail, Dundee, with birthday cake being served later at home.

The weekend of April 8 was special to Cheri, daughter of Carol and George Clarkson, 1259 N. Chicago, as she shared her eighth birthday celebration with her maternal grandmother, Mrs. John Fertig, who, with Cheri's grandfather, visited here from their home in Cincinnati for several days. Mrs. Fertig's birthday was April 4, while Cheri's was April 14. Thus, last Saturday the Clarksons entertained her sister, Melanie, Roxanne Kuhl, Karen Garland, Patty Fairfield, Linda Cech, Linda Brown and Barbara Warner at a party.

Birthday club member Evelyn Schmitt was honored in the home of Adelaide Fairfield, 1333 N. Illinois, last Friday evening, and properly toasting the celebrant were LaRue Reed, Charlene Bang, Mary Kale, Jo Lampasona, who now lives in Palatine, Doris Koser, Helen Marineau, Barbara Bade and Shirlee Pircher. After enjoying dessert and coffee, the girls presented Evelyn with a birthday remembrance.

Her favorite dinner was the order of the day for Ruth, daughter of Ruth and Ed Broderick, 1233 N. Illinois, as she celebrated her 12th birthday April 13. Also wishing her many happy returns were her brothers, Edward and Bill.

Shirley Vogtritter, 1208 N. Race, welcomed home her husband, Robert, recently after he had been in Denver for more than four weeks, during which he was a part of the pilot training program resulting from the Capitol-United air lines merger. First on the agenda for them was a Saturday night out, which was enjoyed by dining at Henrici's O'Hare Inn and a round of the late hour spots.

Village Clerk Ordinance OKd

The adoption of an ordinance pertaining to the office of village clerk was approved unanimously Monday by the Arlington Heights board of trustees.

The ordinance designates the clerk's job as part-time, sets a salary at $150 a month, and authorizes the clerk to hire a deputy clerk. (A

List Books Young Adults Most Like

Young people during 1960 were reading more about political and sociological problems in the world today than ever before, according to Miss Edith Lindsey, of the staff of the Arlington Heights Memorial Library.

Miss Lindsey said this week that a list of "Interesting Adult Books of 1960 for Young People" released this week showed that for the first time since World War II, young adults in the 14 to 19 year age group had turned away from narratives about the war.

The compilation was made by the committee on selection of books of the Young Adult Services division of the American Library association following a nation-wide survey of 46 high school and public library specialists in young adult reading.

The final 20 titles, covering the entire output of adult books, were chosen from the 100 nominations submitted.

THIS YEAR'S selections read like a world guide, with no fewer than 12 books about foreign lands, such as Laos, Greenland, England, the South Seas, Russia, Africa, and the Orient.

Personal experiences, biographies, space exploration, and stories about animals, also interested the young people during 1960. Eight suspense tales topped the fiction field.

Titles included on the list, which is available at the Arlington Heights Memorial library, are as follows:

Dr. Schweitzer of Lambarene—Cousins, The Kingdom Within—Caulfield, The Lovely World of Richi-san — Bosworth, Man High—Simons, Mistress of Mellyn—Holt, The Night They Burned the Mountain—Dooley, Ring the Night Bell—Magnuson, Storm the Last Rampart — Taylor, To Kill a Mockingbird—Lee, To Moscow—And Beyond—Salisbury, Wait Till Next Year — Robinson, The Waste Makers —Packard. Saturday evening Kay and Paul Rateike, 400 Larkdale, and Joan and Lee McCamam, 422 Larkdale, saw "The Flower Drum Song" at the Shubert theatre. (ACM

Present Officer's Slate At Newcomer's Luncheon

The newest in spring millinery was much in evidence last week when Arlington Heights Newcomers club members held its monthly luncheon at the Patio restaurant, south of Wheeling.

Highlight of the luncheon was the introduction of the slate of officers to be elected in May. Mrs. Robert Kishbaugh and Mrs. James Voelz are running for president and Mrs. Wood Edwards and Mrs. Fred Walworth for vice president. Mrs. Charles Aldag and Mrs. Laddie Janda will be running for recording secretary. and Mrs. Richard Hughes and Mrs. Donald Kjerland for corresponding secretary. The post of treasurer will be filled by Mrs. Dean Sanderson or Mrs. William Strelow.

MRS. JAMES Voelz promised a gay evening of dinner and dancing for those who attend the "Three Coins In A Fountain" dance this Saturday evening at the Vernon Hills country club. Proceeds from this dance will be donated to the Clearbrook School for Retarded Children and the Mark Lund Hilltop House.

Following the luncheon, cards were played with bridge prizes going to Mrs. Henry Parker, Mrs. Dean Sanderson and Mrs. Joseph Nickoden. Other prizes were awarded to Mrs. Richard Snapp, Mrs. Lyle Mullvain, Mrs. Richard Hughes, Mrs. C. Nast and Mrs. Quentin Sharp.

ANY NEW resident of Arlington Heights is invited to attend one luncheon or evening meeting as a non-member and then is eligible for membership. Anyone desiring more information about the club and its activities may contact Mrs. Neil Werner, Cl 5-9330. (A

4-H Girls Tour Hawthorn-Melody Dairy Farm

The Baste and Taste 4-H club of Mt. Prospect, visited the Hawthorn Melody Farm Dairy on April 3. We witnessed the milking of the cows, which was very interesting. We all had our lunch so we could stay all afternoon.

There was a ghost town which all the girls found amusing, and a children's zoo which contains very many different types an animals. Many girls took photos for their collection of pictures, which will help them with their project on photography for this year.

We are now working on our act for "Share the Fun" which will be a success if everyone wishes us luck. (ACM

OK Hearings Prior to Annexations

Arlington Heights trustees concurred with the plan commission Monday in voting to amend the comprehensive zoning ordinance to provide that public hearings be held prior to the annexation of land.

According to village president Harold E. Carlson, the pre-annexation hearings will give the village better control of annexed acreage and "let developers know in advance how their land should be zoned."

Zoning hearings have been held after annexations in the past, Carlson noted. (A

Ray Lemke New Boat Club Head

Changing of the watch of the Dock Wallopers Boat club, Arlington Heights, took place at the April meeting of the club, when Ray H. Lemke took office as commodore, Walter Krause as vice-commodore, Theda Knuepfer, treasurer, and Virginia Lemke, secretary. All are of Arlington Heights.

A nautical theme was carried out throughout the evening, after guests had been welcomed by a "port" light as they entered the driveway. Entertainment was provided by Jack and Dorothy Flaherty, who showed colored slides taken on their recent trip to Nassau.

Lillian Krause, Arlington Heights, and Onie Schroeder, Wilmette, social co-chairmen, are making plans for a dinner meeting in May, when a program for the coming boating season will be submitted. (A

ARE You One of the Many Families Who Are Planning to Buy a Spinet Organ Soon?

If you are, you are about to experience a new thrill. The pleasure and satisfaction of creating your own music at home just can't be surpassed for relaxation and pure enjoyment.

Before you buy, however, you should give some thought to what you want in an organ.

The fine pipe organ, which we all accept as the standard of excellence, produces four distinct families of voices. They are, Flute voices, String voices, Reed voices and the most useful of all the Diapasons. The diapason is the beautiful full organ voice that you are familiar with in the church organ.

Many organs on the market today produce only the flute voice. Why? Well it is a very pleasant, smooth sound and all in all a very satisfactory organ tone. All the stops on these organs are derived from the flute tone and consequently all the stops regardless of their names have an overtone of the flute from which they come. They are then, of course, synthetic tones.

The Famous CONN ORGAN however is designed to give you a sound that many experts sometimes confuse with a fine pipe organ. The CONN ORGAN alone gives you individual tone generation for every note on the organ just as the Pipe Organ gives you a pipe for every note on the organ.

The CONN ORGAN alone gives you the same four families of voices that the fine pipe organ gives you. Namely the Flutes, Strings, Reeds and the Diapasons. These voices are all additive. In other words when you use a flute voice and add the strings to it you hear two voices instead of one voice of a different timber.

Another important feature that is available only on the CONN ORGAN is the authentic octave couplers. These couplers are no secret since they have been used on pipe organs since the year 1500, but in order to have couplers the instrument must have INDIVIDUAL TONE GENERATION for every note on the organ.

What is the value of these couplers? Well, they enable the amateur, as well as the professional, to play as many as four notes with one finger, or twelve notes with three fingers. You can easily see why the CONN ORGAN alone can give you the full, rich, big sound of a fine pipe organ.

Jacobsen Turbocone

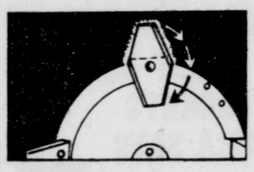
This is the Jacobsen Turbocone. It features a cutting frequency double that of ordinary bar-type mowers—cuts smoothly, cleanly, with a vacuum-like lifting action that leaves your lawn swept clean. Blades have hardened cutting edges for long-life with a minimum of wear—are reversible for economy and replaceable when necessary.

But the Turbocone is only one of the features of this Jacobsen rotary mower. There's a crankshaft warranty good for a year, a 2-bushel capacity grass catcher,* and a husky, powerful engine that just won't give up no matter how rough the going.

Seven different Turbocone models available. Come in and see them soon.

*Available at extra cost.

Turbocone "Air Lift" action literally draws up limp or trampled grasses and weeds—cuts them evenly, cleanly.



One special bolt and nut is used to attach each Turbo blade to the disc at a central point so that the blade will turn away or retract from the impacted object.

Close coupling between the engine and Turbocone provides added protection against damage.

Basement Fire Seriously Burns 2 Men

by HELENE BRISTOL

An explosion and flash fire placed two men on the Northwest Community hospital critical list Friday.

Rushed to the emergency room with 35 per cent of his body covered with second-degree burns was George Gabrielson, 705 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights. Thomas Donohoe, 709 S. Chestnut, suffered burns over 30 per cent of his body. Both men are reported "much improved" this week by hospital authorities.

The explosion occurred while the men were cleaning a basement floor with benzine. Police and fire officials assume the benzine vapor was ignited by the furnace pilot, causing an explosion and a flash fire which enveloped both men.

SEVERELY burned when a tractor radiator cap blew off, spouting hot water on his face, Henry Bugner was treated at the hospital emergency room Saturday. The 19-year-old youth, who lives on Rt. 1, Prairie View, was treated for first and second degree burns.

The weekend snow storm proved a hazard for drivers, both in and out of cars. Francisco Fuentez, 621 N. Franklin, was admitted to the hospital with a back injury received while pushing his car out of the snow.

Hitting his face on the steering wheel when his car slid off the road into a tree stump, Robert Grupe, 216 Jefferson rd., Roselle, was treated at the emergency room.

Young Christopher Carr, 8, of 865 W. Hillside, Palatine, is in the hospital with a fractured left leg. The boy slipped off the curb in front of a bus Thursday.

AN AUTOMOBILE accident at Rts. 12 and 53 April 12 brought four persons to the hospital emergency room. Admitted for observation was Mrs. Vera Cierocke, 121 Third st., McHenry. Her husband, Frank, was released after examination of an injured left knee.

Mrs. Bessie McAllister, 120 Bonnie-Brae, Mt. Prospect, received bruises in the accident and was examined at the emergency room. Miss Patricia Cannon, 15, of 397 Bernard dr., Buffalo Grove, had facial lacerations which were sutured before her release.

A nine-year-old Rolling Meadows girl was admitted to the hospital after she was hit by a car April 11. Patricia Matzke, 2307 Hawk lane was reported in improved condition and responding to treatment.

IN SPIT OF SNOW, springtime is playtime and accidents follow in the wake of play.

Stitches were taken on a cut on the chin of David Auge, 801 N. Pine, Arlington Heights, when the five-year-old child was hit by a swing.

A swing also proved the villain for Mary Ann Hudec, 2, of 269 Bode rd., Roselle. The little girl fell from a swing, fracturing her left leg.

Falling on a stake at Boy Scout camp brought Vernon Silley, 14, of 142 Bothwell, Palatine, to the hospital emergency with a severe cut on his right wrist.

TWELVE STITCHES were taken on the lacerated right hand of Richard Teske Jr., 14, of 1400 N. Yale, Arlington Heights, Saturday. The youth was injured when sliding while playing ball.

Baseball was also a dangerous sport for Paul Wegwert, 8½, of 3707 Bluebird lane, Rolling Meadows. The boy was hit in the mouth with a baseball bat, cutting both lips.

Multiple fractures of the nosebones was the emergency room finding for another ball victim—Walter Bednarz, 10, of 1640 W. Central rd., Arlington Heights. The boy was hit in the nose with a ball.

Even athletics in school can prove dangerous. Peter Hoffman, 14, of 1038 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights, fractured his left index finger while tumbling at school. A foam-rubber splint was applied at the emergency room.

A cut forehead was the result of a fall from a bicycle for Mary Amato, 4, of 37 Waben lane, Schaumburg. X-rays, stitches and dressings were her reward at the emergency room.

STICKS AND stones (and falls) may break bones, according to the old rhyme. The emergency room list of broken bones included a fractured right finger for Robert Hulquist, 2308 Central rd., Rolling Meadows. Hulquist broke the finger when a concrete slab fell on it.

Thomas Wright, 5302 S. Woodlawn, Chicago, fell from a scaffolding, fracturing his right leg. After treatment and application of a plaster cast in the emergency room he was transferred to a Chicago hospital nearer his home.

A fractured finger, complete with foam rubber splint, is being displayed this week by Daniel Markoya, 9, of 2805 Flicker, Rolling Meadows. A cast also marks Mark Schwieber, 5, of Rand and Dundee rds., Palatine. The boy fell and fractured his left collarbone.

Earning a living can be just as hazardous as playtime. Richard Schroeder, 279 N. Greenwood, Palatine, cut his finger at work. Stitches were taken at the emergency room for the deep cut.

HENRY SEETCH, 355 S. Burton, Arlington Heights, cut his right arm while closing a window. Bernard Quintiiliani, 632 S. Highland, Arlington Heights, punctured his leg while cutting meat.

A piece of metal was removed from the arm of Albert Archambault, 1318 Twenty-fourth st., Melrose Park. He received a puncture wound of his left arm when a piece of metal on which he was working flew up and lodged in the arm.

Aspirin is almost as popular as candy as a snack for some young children.

Kristine Kaywood, 6, of 705 Eastwood, Mt. Prospect, was brought to the emergency room after eating baby aspirin.

Baby aspirin was the tasty tidbit which brought two-year-old Daniel Cucio, 396 Anita pl., Wheeling, to the emergency room. Adult aspirin tablets were the taste of Debra Gobrecht, 3, of 704 Russell, Mt. Prospect.

SEVERAL OTHER accidents involved young children. Mark Steffen, 4½, of 3715 Wren lane, Rolling Meadows, cut the tip of his nose on a metal paint stirrer.

Christopher Bates, 19 months, of 402 Chestnut, Arlington Heights, pulled a small dresser over, cutting his forehead and bringing him to the emergency room.

An overnight stay in the hospital was the result of two cut fingers for Russell Polcer, 20 months, of 105 N. Fairview, Mt. Prospect.

It might have been strange noises, or even the lack of any noise, which brought Mrs. Jean Wood, 218 N. William, Mt. Prospect, to the emergency room. Mrs. Wood had a foreign body removed from her ear.

The bells were ringing, but four-year-old Bonnie Weinberg did not appreciate the sound. The young girl, who lives at 1812 N. Mitchell, Arlington Heights, had a small bell removed from her nose at the hospital emergency room.

Q. How does one properly eat mussels?

A. If steamed, they're held in the fingers and sucked out—without too much noise, of course. If pickled or smoked, they're served on toothpicks.

READING SANDWICH board worn by "picket," Mrs. Joseph Clemens, is Mrs. Adolph Wiegand, chairman of the annual spring luncheon of Arlington Heights Woman's club. The luncheon will be held May 3 at Brookwood country club and tickets are now on sale from members of the committee or by calling Mrs. Wiegand at CLearbrook 3-1500. The program is called "A May Myth" and details are being kept secret to "mythefy" the guests.

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

Fate Plays Trick

Dear Peg:

It was our turn to have the monthly play for our drama group of play-reading couples and we selected the play Private Lives. Nancy and Rome and Rol and Shirley agreed to take the four leading roles and to come to our house for a rehearsal on the Friday before the third Friday meeting night. We've found that the final production will run much more smoothly if we are able to rehearse in the setting to be used the night of the play and to have on hand the necessary props.

Now, the first act of Private Lives takes place on the terrace of adjoining rooms in a French hotel. So, terrace furniture was needed to add the touch of authenticity. Since we have no elegant French furniture, I decided that our weather beaten old white yard furniture would have to do. The day before the rehearsal, I carried in a couple of chairs and a table from the yard, wiped them off a little and arranged them at one end of the room, with all the living room furniture shoved to the other end.

Really, wouldn't you think fate would be kind enough not to let anyone come calling with the living room in such a strange turmoil? Not in my case! With the room torn up and the children playing on the furniture, the doorbell rang and in walked my district captain from the Guild with tickets for me to sell. Instead of just handing them to me and going, she wanted to see the whole house. I'm not sure she ever did understand the explanation I gave her for the condition of the living room.

Next to arrive was an old classmate, who now lives in Milwaukee and gets down to Chicago about once a year. She always stops to see me on her way in. Usually she calls first—this time she surprised me. She had never seen our house and was anxious to—I tried to explain that the living room is much more attractive when the yard furniture is out in the yard.

Nor was this the end. My neighbor brought her visiting Mother over to see our lovely home. I know when I once more get everything in order, no one will stop by . . . I tell you, you can't win!

My love

U. of Chicago Clinic Head Speaks to Hospital Group

THURS., APRIL 20, 1961

Ray Everett Brown, superintendent of University of Chicago clinics, was guest speaker at the spring luncheon meeting of the second district Women's Hospital auxiliaries of the Illinois Hospital association held at Pioneer Park April 13. Northwest Community hospital women's auxiliary served as hostess for the event.

Mr. Brown spoke about factors affecting hospital costs to a group of 175 men and women representing 18 hospitals in the north Chicago area. He has held his present position since 1945 and prior to that had been president of the Chicago Hospital council in 1952-53.

His active roll in hospital work is evident in his past record. He served as president of the American Hospital Administrators.

THE ALL-DAY meeting began with registration, coffee and rolls at 10 a.m. followed by a short business meeting. Workshops were conducted before lunch by the Lake Forest women's auxiliary who explained successful procedures for a thrift shop and by the Highland Park Women's auxiliary on gift shops. Mr. Brown addressed the group following lunch. The group then adjourned to the Northwest Community hospital where tours conducted by volunteers in the Northwest Community Hospital women's auxiliary, culminated the day's events.

The preparations for the meeting and plans for the luncheon were made by members of the Northwest Community Hospital Women's auxiliary, Mrs. Alec Proctor, Palatine, chairman, and Mrs. J. S. Svoboda, Arlington Heights, co-chairman and their committee. (S

Arlington Sweethearts Say Vows In St. James Service

An Arlington Heights pair, Miss Darlene Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Hoffman, 22 S. Waterman, and Robert Lobojko, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Lobojko, 611 E. Euclid, exchanged wedding rings and vows in a service held December 26 in St. James Catholic church.

White and red poinsettias adorned the altar for the 2 p.m. rites performed by Fr. Roth; Sister Mary Amabelia served as organist. Attendants from Arlington Heights were Miss Frances Lobojko, maid of honor; Mrs. Gerri Hoffman, Mrs. Stella Krysh and Mrs. Carol Rauch of Carpentersville, bridesmaids.

ALL WERE gowned in red velvet sheaths with matching peau de soie overskirts. In contrast they chose white feathered headpieces and fur muffs which were trimmed with white tea roses centered in gladioli and accented with berries and holly.

Carrying an identical bouquet was 7-year-old Jackie Hoffman, flower girl, dressed in floor-length red velvet with peau de soie cummerbund. Mrs. Hoffman's chantilly lace beige sheath and jacket were accented with green accessories. A sea blue dress and hat of peau de soie with aurora borealis accents was the choice of Mrs. Lobojko. White carnations and roses, intermixed with holly and berries formed their corsages.

MISS HOFFMAN approached the altar on the arm of her father wearing an ensemble of French imported chantilly lace over nylon tulle and satin. Finished lace and sequins trimmed the neckline; the skirt ended in a chapel train with tulle ruffle.

Her crown was made of aurora borealis and small seed pearls which held a fingertip veil of French imported illusion lace. Feathered carnations with white rolled velvet streamers, red berries and green holly circled a single white orchid, forming the bridal bouquet.

TWO OF THE bride's cousins, Charles Bencic and Paul Tossman Jr. served the groom as best man and usher. Other groomsmen were Richard Hoffman and George Krysh, uncle of the groom. All are residents of Arlington Heights.

After the ceremony 250 guests feted the newlyweds at a reception in the local American Legion hall. There the groom announced plans to return to army duty; he is now stationed in Germany.

The bride attended Arlington high school and is now employed at the National Tea Co. in Wheeling. Mr. Lobojko is a graduate of the same school. (Jenart Studio

Arlington Hts. Women Install Officers; Plan Library Tea

Mrs. Clarence Hendrickson, president of seventh district of the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, was the installing officer for the new slate of officers for the Arlington Heights, Woman's club. Installed were: Mrs. Ben F. Carns, president; Mrs. Z. R. Rogozinski, first vice president; Mrs. Roger Burke, second vice president; Mrs. Orville Anderson, recording secretary; Mrs. Everett Nelson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. William Chalmers, treasurer. Directors will be Mrs. Wendell Prunty, Mrs. Donald Thompson.

All members of the Arlington Heights Woman's club are invited to an open house and tea April 24 in Arlington Heights public library, sponsored by the literature study group under the direction of Mrs. John W. Schaff, chairman. Mrs. Charles Stadelman will give a tour and lecture on the many interesting things to know about your library. The open house will begin at 1 p.m. instead of the usual hour, so it will not conflict with regular Library hours.

A NEW set of the Encyclopaedia Britannica will be presented to the library at this time, a gift from the Arlington Heights Woman's club. The club has had an active part in helping the library, since 1896, when a handful of women got together to form the "Ladies Reading Circle."

This group later affilliated and became federated in 1899 and now is the oldest club in the seventh district. From the beginning the library was the center of the club's interest and activity. The club yearbook of 1896 lists 150 books, mostly fiction.

Through the years the club has kept an eye on its pet project by donating equipment to the library as it was needed. In 1949 club action was taken to join the General Federation "Build a Better Community Contest." As a result of the effort put forth by the Club, plans for a new and adequate public library building was started. The new library became a reality in 1952. Mrs. Evelyn Stadelman reports that the library now has in excess of 35,000 books.

A display of scrapbooks of the Arlington Heights Woman's club will also be on display. Reservations may be made by calling any committee member, Mrs. R. W. Blair, CL 3-4373, or Mrs. O. F. Davenport, CL 3-8707. (S

Theme of the seminar will be "Secretarial Public Relations Initiates New Goals." All secretaries from northwest communities and the northwest side of Chicago are invited. Lilliam Loster, CLearbrook 3-4263, or Lorraine S. Leseberg, FLanders 9-0791, are taking reservations. (S

St. Peter Fun Fair Is Friday

Friday night April 28, will be an evening of fun and entertainment for all ages, young and old, according to committee members of the "Fun Fair" to begin at 5:30 p.m. in St. Peter Lutheran school, Highland and Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights.

Dart tossing, shuffle board, "cake walk" and various ball toss games and skills have been planned a prize or consolation prize for each contestant. The "cake walk" is fashioned after the familiar "musical chairs" and the prize is to be a home baked cake; each new game gives another player a chance to win a cake.

REFRESHMENTS will be ready for those who come early for supper fare. Barbecues, hot dogs, coffee, milk, pop, ice cream and doughnuts will be on sale during the evening.

The public is invited. (S LOADING CAR TRUNK with items for their rummage sale tomorrow, Friday, are Mrs. Norman Hoym and Mrs. Sheldon McCandless, members of the ladies auxiliary of Arlington Heights Elks lodge 2048, sponsors of the sale. Refreshments will be served all afternoon and evening and will include hot dogs, popcorn, soft drinks, cake, coffee and home-made taffy apples in a real country atmosphere. Committees are working under the direction of Mrs. Joseph Bobka, chairman. (S

Quite Contrary by Mary

Just a Little Snowflake

MUCH AS I TRY TO CONVINCE everyone that I am strictly a hot house plant, everyone acts as though I were really an intrepid adventurer. I hate the elements but I am continually forced to brave them.

We had been invited about ten miles away to visit fellow voyagers so we could exchange views and movies. And, let me tell you, we are fast running out of people who want to look at our movies. Just mention movies around this neighborhood, and we find ourselves quite alone. Consequently, we were looking forward to a new and appreciative audience.

The day of our outing dawned dark and dreary. The heavens opened and snow snowed. And, it snowed and snowed and the wind blew and blew. The radio kept announcing that roads were closing up and I kept telling Father to call and suggest another time. Like some time in mid-July when the most it can do is rain. He kept sort of pooh-poohing me but did make a call. Then he and our host-to-be pooh-poohed together and hung up.

It kept getting worse and worse and I got nervouser and nervouser. At best, I am a noisy companion on a ride. At worst, I just never shut up. Of this I warned Father. After another phone call, where they both scoffed and maintained that mere weather was not going to keep them apart, I could see that we were going to attempt the trip as long as even one road was open.

And, that's what was open. One road. What Father and host did not know was that I went prepared for any emergency. Thank heaven for large purses. Surreptitiously I cached into my voluminous bag such little dainties as our toothbrushes, my make-up, cold cream, clean socks, slacks, hairbrushes, scarves and a bit of hardtack in case of a real emergency.

With the merry cry of MUSH, we were off in a swirl of snow. Two hours and many skids later we drove up in front of host's house and proceeded to skid into his neighbor's ditch. As we stomped into their house, I greeted them with a fond "hello" and a "where do I sleep." And, would you believe it, they thought I was being funny. But now they know better.

ENJOYING THE PEPPY dance tunes of Art Helm's band at Rolling Meadows Chamber of Commerce dinner dance were Mr. and Mrs. Cy Campbell. The police chief and his wife were among the guests at the charter night affair, when first officers of the new organization were installed.

SPARKLING GAIETY was the mood at the Rolling Meadows Chamber of Commerce charter night dinner dance April 8. Mayor John J. Woods, honorary member of the Chamber, found it easy to cast governmental matters aside for the evening. His companions here are Mrs. Woods, left, and Mrs. James Mackin, wife of the city attorney. Business Women Plan To Induct Members

The Business and Professional Women's Club of Mt. Prospect has a busy schedule planned for its April meeting being held tonight at the Elks club in Des Plaines, according to Dorothy Nastav of Mt. Prospect, hospitality chairman of the group.

After dinner, which will be served at 6:30 membership chairman, Bernice Bosma of Mt. Prospect advises a ceremony will be held at which six new members will be inducted into the club, by President Kathaleen Walters of Mt. Prospect.

The six women who will pledge themselves to uphold the principles and objectives of elevating the standards and promoting interests of women in business and the professions are: Kay Buchanan of Barrington; Terry C. Hickey, 312 N. Wille, Mt. Prospect; Idilia L. Jurco, 217 Windsor, Arlington Heights; LuVerne M. MacCallum, 205 S. Pine, Mt. Prospect; Anita Robershaw, 316 N. Elmhurst, Mt. Prospect; and Marjorie R. Simpson, 306 N. Main, Mt. Prospect.

WHEN THE induction ceremony is concluded the election of officers for the 1961-62 term will be held. "There hasn't been any 'electioneering' but this will be a stimulating evening for the women attending, nevertheless," commented Miss Walters.

Hazel Gardner, first vice president and Marian Baesel, recording secretary, both of Mt. Prospect, attended the state convention of BPWC in St. Louis April 14 through 16 and will have a full report on the activities there. (S

Sorority Activities

DELTA GAMMA

Members of the Chicago Northwest Suburban Delta Gamma Alumnae association will close the year with two major social affairs.

Husbands will be guests at a cocktail party Saturday evening, Apr. 29, in the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Kaufman, 805 Goodwin, Park Ridge, beginning at 8.

A DESSERT meeting to close the year will be held May 1 in the home of Mrs. Robert Hayes, 614 E. Sha-Bonee, Mount Prospect. A short business meeting will precede the wrapping for mailing of eyeglasses collected by DG alumnae in their "New Eyes for the Needy" campaign.

Mrs. Neil Quinn, vice president and program chairman, will present the schedule for 1961-62. Co-hostesses with Mrs. Hayes are Mrs. James Campbell and Mrs. Marshall Field Jr., both of Mount Prospect.

Delta Gammas interested in attending either or both functions are asked to call Mrs. William Yaeger of Arlington Heights, CL 3-9402, or Mrs. Robert Hayes of Mount Prospect, CL 9-3522.

KAPPA DELTA

Northwest Suburban Alumnae association of Kappa Delta will meet Monday at 8 p.m. in the Barrington home of Mrs. H. W. Bruins, with Mrs. Robert Dallstream of Lake Zurich as co-hostess.

Following the annual election, members will assemble programs for Kappa Delta State day to be held on April 29 in the Woman's club of Evanston. Kappa Deltas from all over the state of Ilinois will gather to hear Mrs. Theodore Wedel, one of the most energetic religious and civic service workers in the country.

AT THE present time Mrs. Wedel is vice president of the National Council of Churches and the first woman to serve as chairman of the Broadcasting and Film commission of the National Council of Churches. Her theme for Kappa Delta State day will be "Women in the Changing World."

Among the group representing the northwest suburbs will be Mrs. Roy Riser of Park Ridge, national chairman of the Hospital committee.

Any Kappa Delta alumnae in the area interested in attending the Monday evening meeting are requested to call Mrs. John Gessert, CL 3-5360, for transportation. (S

ALPHA OMICRON PI

Alpha Omicron Pi northwest suburban alumnae will hold a rummage sale in South Park field house, Des Plaines, April 28 from 7 to 9 p.m. and April 29, from 9 a.m. to noon. Chairman for this money-making event will be Mrs. Wilbur Mottweiler Jr.

Any alumnae or friend wishing to donate clothing, housewares, toys or jewelry may contact Mrs. Mottweiler at 1904 Bonita dr., Mt. Prospect, HE 7-4417.

KAPPA KAPPA GAMMA

Seven Kappas from the Northwest Suburban Alumnae association of Kappa Kappa Gamma were hostesses this week at a tea held in the Drake hotel for all members of the Area council. The northwest suburban group is chairman for the council this year and acted as hostesses to 14 other alumnae groups in the Chicago area. Attending from this vicinity were Mrs. John Trees, Mrs. Fred Empkie and Mrs. Alan Macdonald of Arlington Heights and Mrs. Arvid Hanson of Mt. Prospect.

KAPPA ALPHA THETA

The Smith home is a replica of an 18th century plantation house located in Warrenton, Va., and is furnished with antiques of the period. The program, presented by Mrs. Smith, will be "The Interior Decoration of an 18th Century Room, Primitive or Formal."

New Thetas in the area are invited to contact Mrs. Norval Stephans, CL 5-2242.

ALPHA XI DELTA

Two Elk Grove Village women will be installed this evening, April 20, when Alpha Xi Delta junior alumnae group holds its installation of officers in the Evanston home of Mrs. R. Green.

Mrs. C. Sechler is the group's new corresponding secretary and Mrs. Alan Granskog, the new social and program chairman.

PANHELLENIC

Mrs. Jack Sneeden, 302 E. Berkshire, Mt. Prospect, is assisting with the sorority information party planned by Northwest Suburban Panhellenic association for 2 p.m. Sunday, April 23, in West Park field house, Des Plaines.

The party is for college-bound senior girls and their mothers and will serve to acquaint them with the 29 sororities that comprise the National Panhellenic conference. A similar party is being given by Wheeling Township Panhellenic.

Mrs. Robert G. Savage, 36 Wildwood dr., Prospect Heights, a member of the Northwest Suburban group, will be on the panel that will discuss sorority know-how and rushing procedures.

Final meeting of the Panhellenic group will be a luncheon May 11 in Little Traveler restaurant, Geneva. Sorority women interested in attending may call Mrs. Sneeden at CLearbrook 5-8321.

Alpha Theta

All Kappa Alpha Theta alumni clubs and active chapters in Illinois and Wisconsin will be represented at the district 2 Theta convention to be held April 21-23 at Beloit.

Rush Chairman Mrs. David Gow of Arlington Heights will be among those attending. (S

ALPHA DELTA PI

A social evening with a serious purpose is being planned by the Gamma Beta alums of Alpha Delta Pi sorority.

Spring flowers, blossoming from table decorations and members' hats, will set the theme for the Gamma Beta spring dessert card party to be held in Northwestern university chapter house Tuesday, April 25, at 8 p. m.

A bake sale the same evening will supplement proceeds from the card party, which will be used for a scholarship award to an undergraduate member of the sorority.

PRIZES FOR bridge and canasta will be given, according to Mrs. James Homer of Arlington Heights, president of the group.

Here's HAUGH to Plan a Party

A Bloomin' Flower Party

by DOLORES HAUGH

The calendar announces Spring - so maybe the weather man can't read - and every bloomin' thing is blooming and since April showers bring May flowers, why not capitalize on the situation and use it for a theme of your May birthday tot, feminine gender, of course, or your bridge luncheon.

INVITATIONS

Cut out brown construction paper flower pots, double folded. On the inside paste the stem and leaves of green construction paper with a bright colored tulip or jonquil. Measure your standard envelope so that the invitation will fit. Write the following verse inside the flower pot.

O the flowers that bloom in the spring, tra la,
Have this little message to bring, tra la.
A party there'll be
At a little past three
We hope you will join in this thing, tra la.

State date, place and occasion. Use this as an alternate third line if time differs: A party there'll be, but not without thee.

MENU

The menu should, of course, be done with as many flowery ideas as possible. A petal cut tomato filled with tuna, chicken or shrimp salad and bearing a real flower on top, or one of the versatile plastic flowers that are so inexpensive and which can be washed and reused, adds a garden appearance when placed on the table.

Rose radishes, bright red crab apples, tender green onions artistically arranged can give a flower arrangement in itself. A jello salad with turnip-petaled daisies with carrot centers and placed in a square pan can be arranged if only a tiny bit of liquid is put into the pan and slightly thickened; then make your arrangement of vegetable flowers.

Pour the cooled remaining jello over the first portion which is set firmly. Remember, the mold will be inverted so plan accordingly.

Butterfly rolls and butter with flower imprint rounds out the menu. For dessert use the smallest available clay flowerpots and insert with paper dixie cup. Fill with various flavors of ice cream and cover with chocolate shot. Insert plastic flower and serve with flower-shaped cookies.

DECORATIONS

The table can be a veritable flower garden. Use a green cloth and if you have new white fences, the 12 to 16-inch ones, fasten them together and fill with all garden flowers, plastic or real. Nut cups resembling clay flowerpots with gum drop blossoms can serve as nameplace cards.

A bright toy wheelbarrow makes an excellent package holder for a birthday or shower event. Favors of tiny garden tools or toy sprinkling cans carry out the theme. For prizes, use packages of seeds, fancy gardening gloves or lollipop flowers, depending on the event and age level of guests.

ENTERTAINMENT

For the children's party, pin the flower on the stem. Balancing jellybeans on a knife and depositing them in flowerpots, and a lollipop flower hunt are just a few variations of the old favorites.

For bridge, tallies, scorepads and prizes will be flower bedecked.

So have a bloomin' good time at your flower party. (S

Hoffman Women Plan Luncheon

Tickets are now on sale for the fourth annual luncheon and fashion show of Hoffman Estates Woman's club, to be held Saturday, May 13, at Villa Venice. A. Martins Leaving On European Tour

Guests of honor at a bon voyage party Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Martin of Martin's Hair Fashions, Mt. Prospect, who are leaving Saturday from O'Hare airport for a European tour. The party was given by Mrs. Rene Wallenmeyer, one of the Martin salon employees, in her Des Plaines home and featured a buffet dinner and movies of Europe.

Guests were all the employees of the salon, including the salon's chiropodist and his wife, Dr. and Mrs. J. Gable.

The Martins will arrive in Paris Sunday morning and while in France they will entertain relatives in that country. Their tour will continue from France by rented auto to Spain, Italy, Switzerland and other countries. The couple will return by French liner to enjoy the luxuries of a ship board voyage. (S

Pair's Romance Culminates In Home Ceremony March 17

A friendship shared by a local young couple at the Pure Oil Co. soon was to blossom into a meaningful romance and on March 18 reached its highest peak in double ring wedding rites conducted in the home of the bride's parents.

Dr. Hughes B. Morris was officiating pastor at the 7 p.m. service which united Miss Joanne Barbara Merz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. Kenneth Merz, 633 S. Chestnut st., Arlington Heights and John F. Brogn Jr., son of the senior Brogns, 608 Oriole lane, Mt. Prospect.

Given in marriage by her father, Miss Merz wore a champagne box style lace over taffeta suit with matching shoes and veil hat. Her bridal bouquet consisted of white miniature orchids surrounded with ivy.

A SIMILAR suit but in navy blue was worn by the maid of honor, Miss Kathleen C. Sowinski of Palatine, who chose pink accessories and carnation corsage. The bride's mother was gowned in orange silk sheath while Mrs. Brogn selected a full skirted silk print. Both had white orchids.

Among guests at a dinner following for family members and friends in the Tam O'Shanter country club was Kenneth N. Niebuhr of Arlington Heights, best man.

The newlywed pair honeymooned in Florida for two weeks and are now residing with the bride's parents, awaiting completion of their own home this summer in Hoffman Estates.

A graduate of Arlington high school, the new Mrs. Brogn also attended the University of Illinois for two years. (S

District Juniors to Elect Officers Tonight at YMCA

Seventh District Junior Woman's clubs, members of the Illinois Federation of Woman's clubs, in Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Elk Grove Village, Mt. Prospect, Northwest, Rolling Meadows and Wheeling Junior Woman's clubs, will meet Thursday, April 20, at 8:15 p.m. in Northwest Suburban YMCA for election and installation of new seventh district junior officers.

This is the last meeting of the year and has been designated the annual meeting as well as guest night. Mrs. Thomas R. Houde, of Kankakee, state director of the Illinois junior clubs, is to be present to install the new officers. Guests include all presidents and past presidents of the seventh district women's clubs and all district officers and chairmen.

Special guests will be the newly formed Schaumburg Junior Woman's club who will form a car caravan to attend the meeting.

REPORTS will be heard from all seventh district junior club presidents, from the retiring seventh district junior director, Mrs. Myron Hartley of Mt. Prospect and from Mrs. E. E. Lechelt, Arlington Heights Juniors, chairman of the February Flair benefit for Clearbrook School for Retarded Children.

In lieu of a program, a reception will be held to meet the new officers after the meeting.

Hostess clubs for the evening will be the Des Plaines Juniors, Mrs. Herb Claeson, president, the Northwest Juniors, Mrs. Gerold Block, president, and the Wheeling Juniors, Mrs. Donald Swanson, president. (S

Foreign Country Program Thursday Eve for AAUW

"The Status of Women in Burma, South Africa and South America," featuring three women speakers who have lived in these countries will be the program tonight, April 20, for the Northwest Suburban branch of the American Association of University Women at 8:03 p.m. at South Park fieldhouse, Des Plaines.

Speaking on South Africa will be Mrs. Don Bedford of Mt. Prospect, who was a citizen of the country until becoming a United States citizen 10 years ago.

Mrs. E. R. Carlson of Prospect Heights will speak on women's status in South America where she taught home economics in Montevideo, Uruguay for several years at a foremost girls' school during the 1950's.

MRS. O. J. TINZMANN of Glenview, will talk on Burma, where as a daughter of missionaries, she received her elementary and secondary education.

Miss Joan Shaw of Chicago, program chairman, has been elected president of the branch for a 2-year term beginning next fall. Other officers elected are Mrs. Carlson, first vice president; Mrs. James Parkhurst, Des Plaines, treasurer, and Mrs. B. C. Graham, Arlington Heights.

The annual joint board meeting of new and old members will be held May 2 in the Park Ridge home of Mrs. H. P. Milleville. (S

Cousins to Share Birthdays

Sharing birthday honors every March 27 will be two little cousins, Suzanne Carol and Robert William Sampson Jr., who were born on that day in Lutheran General hospital. They were delivered by the same doctor and their mothers shared the same hospital room.

The babies are the children of brothers, Paul and Robert Sampson. Suzanne, second daughter for the Paul Sampsons, also has the distinction of being the second girl born into the Sampson family in 10 generations. Little Robert, first child for the Robert Sampsons, 414 W. Chatham, Arlington Heights, is the 51st boy in the Sampson family.

THE PAUL Sampsons, who live at 2205 Fulle st., Rolling Meadows, also have a son, 3-year-old Paul Jr. Their first daughter, Lori, 2, shares her birthday with her father and both she and Suzanne were born on Mondays.

The Paul Sampsons and the Robert Sampsons are all graduates of Arlington high school.

Paternal grandparents of the babies are the N. George Sampsons of Arlington Heights. Suzanne's maternal grandparents are the Henry F. Langs of Glenview and Robert's are the Arthur Lindahls of Arlington Heights.

MRS. PAUL SAMPSON AND SUZANNE

MRS. ROBERT SAMPSON AND ROBERT JR.

MRS. CLARENCE HENDRICKSON, president of the seventh district IFWC and Mrs. Arlie I. Pierce, Jr., president of the Mount Prospect Woman's club discussed some travel folders during last week's "Champagne Fantasy Into Spring" luncheon and fashion show at Villa d'Este.

Satire on Fashions For Elk Grove Club

"The Shape's the Thing," a comedy satire on women's fashions beginning with the year 1905 to the present, with songs and dances interspersed to illustrate various styles prevelant at these particular times, will highlight the open meeting of the Queen of the Rosary Altar and Rosary society Wednesday, April 26, in the school building at Elk Grove blvd. and Victoria lane in Elk Grove Village.

Miss Leona Pick, who will perform for the group, launched her career as a ballet dancer. She has appeared in musical comedy in New York City, road companies, summer stock, theatre, legitimate stage, radio and night clubs.

LEONA PICK

IN THE LAST five years, she has divided her time between teaching ballet, dramatic arts and appearing before women's organizations.

New members are needed in the Altar and Rosary society and all women of the parish are urged to attend the meeting.

Engagements

Barbara Bragman

Announcement was recently made by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bragman of Alexandria, Va. of the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Aileen, to Don Allen Plank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Evrell E. Plank of Arlington Heights.

Miss Bragman is a junior at Carleton college, Northfield, Minn. and Mr. Plank, a graduate of Arlington high school, will graduate from Carleton in June.

A wedding date has not been set.

Gail Wiltshire

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Gail, to Vance Vorhees, son of the Vance Emery Vorhees of Prospect Heights, are Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Wiltshire of Arlington Heights.

Miss Wiltshire was graduated from Arlington high school and Moser Secretarial school and is now employed by Ekco-Alcoa Containers, Inc., Wheeling. Mr. Vorhees was graduated from the New Mexico Military institute and is now a student at Purdue university.

A wedding date has not been set.

Roberta Hill

An August 19 wedding is being planned by Miss Roberta Hill and Robert Siegel, son of the Frederick Siegels of Arlington Heights. The couple's engagement and approaching marriage is announced by Miss Hill's parents, Dr. and Mrs. Cyrus E. Hill of Arlington Heights.

Miss Hill was graduated from Arlington high school and will receive her degree in education from Illinois Wesleyan university in June. Her fiance, also a graduate of Arlington high school, will receive his B. A. at Wheaton college the same month.

The wedding will take place in First Methodist Church of Arlington Heights.

Lee Vogel

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Vogel, 620 Echo lane, Palatine, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Lee, to David Kolzow, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kolzow of Detroit.

Miss Vogel will be graduated in June from Concordia Teachers college, River Forest. Her fiance, who is presently teaching at Luther High North, was graduated from Concordia and also attended Northwestern and Wayne City universities.

No wedding date has been set.

Movies Are Getting Sillier Than Ever

By JIM PHILLIPS

If you ever wondered what happened to Easter—it went thataway, partner. If you ever wondered what happened to the colorful phrase, "Get More Out of Life—Go To A Movie," it's back again, and it sounds sillier than ever before. Here are a few of the reasons:

Black Sunday: Wicked witchcraft, vicked — er, I mean wicked vampires, ogle-eyed corpses, and other make this picture everything a zombie would enjoy—unfotunately, Paddockland isn't populated by such individuals (outside of TV addicts), and therefore the movie will leave most of its audience a little puzzled.

The main reason is the plot: somewhere along the line, a vampire is living a very contented life (living?) until the cross guarding her tomb is destroyed. This is when the gal (the vampire is a female, I think) starts taking revenge. There are a few choice bitings here and there and before you know it—or want to know it—the movie is over.

This is one picture that could have been very good if it hadn't been for the fact that the scriptwriter made everything so obvious. If you'll remember the thriller, "The Thing," the most terrifying parts were those in which the audience had to imagine for itself what was happening or going to happen. "Black Sunday" dies a death because it lacks what "The Thing" had. I mean, when you've seen one vampire, you've seen them all. Capsule Comment: "Too much bitter from the writer!"

Sins of Rachel Cade: What did poor Rachel do? Well, first of all she went to darkest Africa as a missionary: secondly, she repulsed the love of a nice, kind, gentle, serious, virtuous, and slightly dull miitary man; and she fell in love with a real gone guy who's got adventure written all over his khaki jeans; and last but not least, she got pregnant.

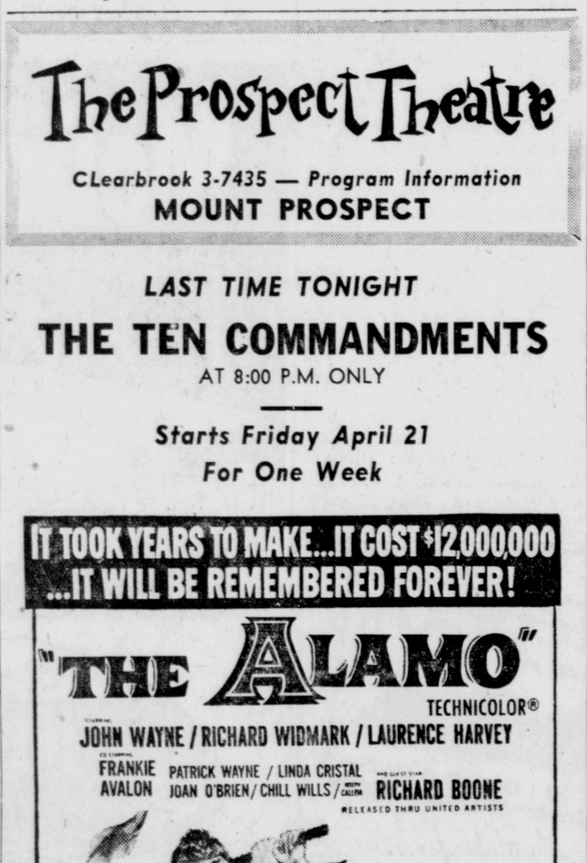
Well, after you've caught this technicolor ditty, you'll probably come to the conclusion that misguided Rachel (Angie Dickinson) perpetrated only one major sin—she got into the movie in the first place. The big tragedy seems to be that somewhere in the deep, dark jungles of this missionary-work-doesn't-go - with - sex film, Rachel's story just becomes another congoleum soap opera.

HERO Peter Finch comes through the dramatic - drenching in excellent fashion with a fine portrayal of the devoted soldier, and Roger Moore is also fairly good as the lover boy. Angie Dickinson's Rachel Cade is weak, and much too unbelievable at times. If you're a female, you'll say to yourself, "Why catch the next boat for Liverpool?"

In the picture, you'll also find Woody Strode (the slave-gladiator of Spartacus)—he's getting to be one of the finer Negro actors in Hollywood—but playing a witch doctor is no way to keep himself in the limelight.

Again, "Rachel Cade" could have been good— it had many of the attractive elements of Metro's "Mogambo" —but it just couldn't unwrap itself from the soap sudsiness of "Nora Drakism." Capsule Comment: Missionary, Missionary, Quite Contrary, How Does Your Lovelife Grow?"

The Academy Awards: Last year has been novel in my opinion, because it has produced the most unqualified qualifiers for Oscars that American audiences have ever witnessed. Leading the pack for the best movie was "The Alamo." How or why, many of us will never know. Janet Leigh's nomination for supporting lady in "Psycho" is proving to many that you have to be butchered in a shower before you'll make any headway at Oscartime. Although this column is being written previous to the awards, I'll bet my last popcorn box that Trevor Howard doesn't get anything but a smile for his performance in "Sons and Lovers" and the pic itself ends up running second best to "The Sundowners" which was good, but not that good. Oh, well, there's always Disney!"



JOHN WAYNE makes his debut as a producer-director with the $12,000,000 Technicolor production of "The Alamo" for United Artists release. Wayne also stars as Col. David Crockett in the epic film which opens April 21 at the Prospect Theatre.

Playwriting Contest Open to Suburbanites

Aspiring playwrights in the Chicago area and other parts of the country are invited to submit full length plays for consideration in the first annual play writing contest sponsored by Des Plaines Theatre Guild, Inc., it was announced this week by Mrs. N. T. Grose, 1583 Ellinwood, Des Plaines, president of the 15-year-old northwest suburban community theatre group.

Entries may be comedy or serious drama in prose or verse but must be previously unpublished or unproduced, according to the rules of the contest which has a deadline of November 1, 1961.

The winner of the playwriting contest will receive a cash award, the amount of which will be announced later, and the winning play will be produced by Des Plaines Theatre Guild, Inc., in March, 1962, as part of their regular season of five productions.

THE THEATRE Guild plans to select a panel of judges outside the group's membership to judge the scripts submitted, according to Mrs. Grose, and it is their hope to secure a nationally famous playwright or producer to act as final judge of the contest.

Details of the contest will be announced in national theatre publications, continues Mrs. Grose, who points out that a number of famous playwrights including Eugene O'Neill, Tennessee Williams and William Gibson, received their start by writing for a community theatre group similar to the Des Plaines Theatre Guild.

Gibson, who wrote the recent Broadway hit, "Two for the Seesaw," recently remarked: "The amateur theatre in this country is an inexhaustible seedbed of new talent, and virtually every professional actor, director or playwright today got his early encouragement and training in the community or university theatre."

Officers of the Theatre Guild voice the hope that their playwriting contest will be the means of fostering a wealth of undiscovered writing talent in this area, the group's president continued.

THE DES PLAINES Theatre Guild, which was founded in the spring of 1946 by a group of six couples for the purpose of gathering together to read plays for their own enjoyment, now has season members from 18 suburbs and all parts of Chicago.

Five plays are produced each season which starts in September and concludes in May. Professional directors are hired by the group for each play.

The Guild is currently in rehearsal for "The Gazebo," a comedy, which will be presented Apri 21, 22, 28, 29 and May 5 and 6, at Rand Park, 2025 Miner Street, Des Plaines.

Further details of the playwriting contest may be obtained by writing to: Playwriting Competition Committee, Des Plaines Theatre Guild, Inc. Box 84, Des Plaines, Illinois. (Bill

Drive-In Theater To Open in June

Construction started last week on the western suburb's newest drive-in theatre, the Cascade Outdoor, located on North Avenue (Route 64) at Prince Crossing road, a few miles west of Wheaton.

The Cascade Outdoor is scheduled for opening the latter part of June and will offer first-run film programs. Because the Cascade is planned to be a family theatre, special attention will be devoted to children.

With a screen 75 feet high and over 125 feet wide the Cascade will offer the finest in projection.

The Cascade Outdoor is located on a 23 acre site and will initially accommodate 1200 cars with a proposed expansion in the future to 1600 car capacity. (Bill

PADDOCK BILLBOARD

"MY DAYS with Paddock were never like this," says Bud Booth, former associate editor whose latest endeavor is as publicist for a new cafe theatre production, "Mere Bagatelles," which opened last Thursday, for an extended run at the Silver Cloud, Milwaukee at Belmont, Chicago. With Booth is one of the stars of the show of original comedy in skits, Jean Sanders. Booth formerly resided in Rolling Meadows. (Bill

'Gazebo' to Conclude Guild's 15th Season

When "The Gazebo" opens its three weekend run tomorrow night, Friday, April 21, at Rand Park fieldhouse in Des Plaines, three northwest suburban residents will be making their acting debuts in Des Plaines Theatre Guild productions.

Appearing in the cast of this hilarious, action-packed comedy which closes the Guild's 15th anniversary season, will be Edward Murphy, 201 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights, Mrs. Jeannine Jakala, 615 N. Elmhurst, Mt. Prospect, and Mrs. James Beall, 211 Winston, Palatine.

Performances of "The Gazebo" will continue on Saturday, April 22, and the following two weekends, April 28 and 29, May 5 and 6, with curtain time at 8:30 p.m. Rand Park is located on U. S. 14 (Northwest Hwy.) 2025 Miner st., Des Plaines.

APPEARING in the leading roles of "The Gazebo" as Elliott Nash, TV mystery script writer, and his wife actress Nell Nash will be Ed Sauer, 725 N. Delphia, and Charlotte (Mrs. Kenneth) Kenzel, 1325 Elliott, both of Park Ridge.

Sauer was originally directing the comedy-mystery for the Guild, but in a last-minute "show must go on" switch, he took over the Elliott Nash role when the leading man, Walt Newton of Des Plaines, was called to Texas for a commercial film assignment. Now sitting in the director's chair for "The Gazebo" is James O'Reilly of Crystal Lake, who directed "Ladies In Retirement" for the Guild last fall, and just completed the starring role of the bandit in "Rashomon."

OTHERS IN the cast of "The Gazebo," fifth and final production of the Des Plaines Theatre Guild's most successful 15th anniversary season, include Art Watson, 136 a farmer in Elk Grove, died April 7.

20 Years Ago—April 11, 1941

Oakwood, Des Plaines, George Carlson, 624 S. Lincoln, Park Ridge, Joe McAuliffe, 811 N. 5th, Maywood, Jerry Bernstein, 7343 Davis st., Morton Grove, and two Guild newcomers from Niles; Jack Porter, 7912 Octavia, and Wayne Miller, 8641 N. Milwaukee.

Tickets to "The Gazebo" may be obtained in limited numbers by calling Guild ticket chairman, Mrs. John B. Clark, VA 4-8019. Best selection is for the opening night and first Saturday, April 21 and 22. Single admission price is $2.

Information about the Des Plaines Theatre Guild's 1961-62 season may also be obtained from Mrs. Clark, or by writing Des Plaines Theatre Guild, Inc., P.O. Box 84, Des Plaines. Five productions, including an original play, will be presented next season, and list of titles and dates will be sent to all interested residents as soon as the schedule is completed. (Bill

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS:

Klehm's Nurseries have lately set up a new gasoline engine to pump water for their hot houses.

A sewer was laid on the east side of S. Evergreen from Campbell to the big sewer last week.

Siegel, Cooper & Co. will deliver goods free of charge to their customers at Arlington Heights.

The Military Band of Arlington Heights will give a grand Easter Ball in A. Kellings hall, Monday evening. Tickets 50 cents, supper extra.

Visit the new cottage in E. P. Mueller's sub-division. It is a model, which including a lot 50x140 ft., can be purchased for only $1,000. A small cash payment and $15 a month will secure you this handsome home.

With only one ticket in the field, the only excitement at the village election will be the vote for or against waterworks. Unless Arlington Heights wants to be a backwoods town we should adopt modern progressive issues. We should have both waterworks and electric lights. They will greatly increase the value of home property.

SCHAUMBURG:

L. Schoenbeck's hog that he bought of Herman Lichthardt about two years ago weighs 640 lbs. Hogs are on the boom and getting scarce in Schaumburg.

ELK GROVE:

Mr. Louis Busse has purchased the old Barnes place. He expects to tear down and build up very soon.

The Lutheran church choir will give a German-American entertainment at Arlington Hall, Friday evening, April 19.

Henry Stuve of Bensenville and John Heinrich of Orchard Place have each bought 160 acres of land in Arkansas. John Kleinschmidt went to Stutgard, Ark. and bought a quarter section of land; he intends to move there next fall.

PALATINE:

H. C. Hitzemann shipped a carload of potatoes this week. The village scraper was out for the first time this year Thursday.

The Modern Woodmen had a social last Saturday which was a big success. Miss Mary Putnam gave an instrumental solo, vocal solo by Miss Elnora Arps, cornet solo by Miss Blanch Schirding; Recitation by Charles Julian and Charles Lytle; Charades by everybody.

QUENTIN CORNERS:

Some folks say the roads are the worst they ever knew.

Lots of sore arms and ankles here on account of vaccination last Sunday.

Hired men and girls seem to be hard to find this season. Several are still trying to find them.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS:

Editorial Musings: The prospects now look as there is to be a hot election on April 18. Three petitions have been filed nominating seven candidates for trustee and only three vacancies are to be filled. Every vote counts and the three candidates receiving the most votes will have to carry the burden of responsibility. Our village board has worked in absolute harmony the past six months, voting unanimously on all matters. They have secured the best possible sewer plans, spending much valuable time and their private funds to save expense to the village. They have the confidence of the people and there is no reason why they should not all be reelected to finish the work they have started and be held responsible for the results.

Two weeks of delayed winter weather arrived late. March went out and April "came in like a lion." The past ten days have given us alternately snow, mud, and freeze-up. The ground got so dry last fall and winter that we need this wet weather to moisten the earth so things can grow this season. Crop prospect are good. 4" snow on Monday; Monday a freeze-up; Tuesday rain, mud and town election; still cloudy but the sun will be on deck soon and the farmers will have to hustle with their seeding.

Re-elected without opposition in Wheeling township were F. W. Muller, town supervisor; Herman Garms, highway Commissioner; Jacob Fritsch, School Trustee.

There are two complete school tickets from which the voters, both men and women, can take their choice. We don't pretend to know the issues if any, and have no advice to offer. All the candidates are our friends: for president of the Board of Education: Theo. Militzer, N. M. Banta; for members of the Board of Education: Fred Sieburg, John Boeger; Uriel Reese and Julius Flentie.

James Wayman is lighting the street lamps during the absence of his grandfather, C. H. Fairchild, who was calld to Waterloo, Iowa, by the death of his brother George.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS:

Slogan Night is April 12. The weather permitting the first open air community meeting to be held this year will occur in the postoffice square. Nearly a hundred citizens have submitted proposals and 65 of that 100 are now in the hands of the slogan judges; those few words, full of pep, will hereafter announce to all the approach of Arlington Heights, will be flashed upon the screen Tuesday night for the first time. The city song will also be shown and the entire company will have to memorize it before the evening is over.

Why take up your rugs for a spring beating? Wm. Sebastian wil loan you a vacuum cleaner.

PALATINE:

W. F. Schroeder commences the manufacture of his own ice cream Saturday, when prices will be 50 cents a quart; 25 cents a pint; 13 cents and 2 cents for sodas and Sundaes. It is going to be 18 per cent cream—none better.

We note by the Wheeling township treasurer's report that some of the people down that way had so much faith in the coming of the Northwest Highway that they have paid $790 out of the township funds to purchase two strips of land. We also note in another column that Mt. Prospect is going to have a regular playground for their children. About 5 or 6 years ago, we heard G. H. Arps and others suggest such a thing for Palatine.

30 Years Ago—April 10, 1931

WHEELING TOWNSHIP:

Quite an argument developed at Wheeling town meeting upon the report of Mr. Garms as road commissioner. Walter Fiene of Arlington Heights, in the hauling business, asked if he might have a chance to haul crushed stone on the roads. Mr. Garms stated that he is getting crushed stone now, of standard quality, delivered and spread promptly on immediate notice, for $2 a ton; material, spreading and quick service all included; also that the company would wait three years for their money. He also said that local men in his experience had proved generally undependable; that they as likely as not would not work when called upon, had to be chased after; the material was not uniform; and would demand their money at once in spite of taxes being uncollected. He said he would be willing to grant the business to any local man that would meet the price and give the service. A motion was made by Supervisor Grandt that the home people be given the preference whenever possible. Although it was little more than a gesture, it was passed. Mr. Garms said, "I am elected to save money for the town and do the work the best way it can be done, and am going to do it."

God Omitted From Schools

In reply to your editorial as to the clergy confusing the issues of the Harvard university proposal of federal aid to education, submitted by President John F. Kennedy, I submit this letter.

For the first 75 years of our country we had no public schools as we know them today. Most of the schools were government supported, (local government). One of the first types of schools in the United states were the missionary schools of the Far West and the Southwest conducted by the missionary priests of the Franciscan Order. These schools were conducted by them, under certain laws of the Spanish Government. On the East Coast of the United States, one of the first Parochial schools was opened by Mother Seton, in about 1815. about 1815.

HORACE MANN in the middle of the 19th Century was the modern proponent of the Public school as we know it today.

While President Grant was in office there was an attempt to secure an amendment to the constitution to give the Federal government control of the education.

In 1920 in Michigan, there was a proposed change of amendment to compel all children to attend a public school.

In 1923 Oregon passed a law compelling all children to attend a public school. It was declared unconstitutional.

Now Gentle Editors, the way I see it, is that you are not aware of all the facts of either the history of education, nor of the law as it has developed in the field of education.

I BELIEVE that your cartoon of the national interest being chopped down by clergyman is both funny and pathetic at the same time. Most clergymen I know are not in that good of shape. The pathetic thing is that you would deny a citizen the right to speak out on something that he has the right to speak about, and probably with a little more eminence than you because of the background of his education compared with yours. I do not believe that either the ownership of a newspaper or a degree in journalism make you a genius in all fields. It is a point of Logic that what you say without proof may be denied without proof.

In your editorial of 3/30/61 you allege that the controversy of federal aid to education will fragment our society, (Hogwash) and our public school system. (Hogwash again) Our public school system is failing and has been for some time and it will get worse before it gets better. A number of people on the school boards think that the remedy is to spend more money and the system will automatically purge itself of the ills that it has. The first thing that a newly married man has to do is to budget his money. The fundamental problem in education is to first teach a child his responsibility to his creator, then all the rest will fall into line. All law and order stem from this premise.

Our public school system did not start failing until God was taken out of the classroom. In a court of law you ask God to witness that you tell the truth, and our coins have the motto IN GOD WE TRUST.

A clergyman has the same right to speak out in defense of his principles as you have in yours. Our rights as citizens will be impaired only so long as there are people who believe that they do not have the right to speak out.

As a taxpayer I took offense to your editorial in that you would have me believe that a defeat of this bill would destroy our public school system.

MR. ROGER Freeman of the Institute of Social Science Research stated, "The existence of a national classroom shortage is pure fiction." I believe that the goal should be more education for the money and not vice versa.

President Kennedy's proposal will never be the cure for the poor showing of USA students in both college and on their first jobs. Russia has forged ahead in education because the basic three Rs are being taught. We are at war with them because they have dropped the fourth R, Religion.

It is refreshing to be accused of not having a single position on a public matter. It would be likewise refreshing that you consider the Catholics as taxpayers with an equal voice in public matters.

Children's Ridicule Bothers Mother in Prospect Heights

Prospect Heights —

We are a new family in Prospect Heights. We moved from Chicago four months ago to this town. My husband and I have four children. Three of them go to Prospect Heights school district 23.

Since we moved, my children have had a lot of trouble with children calling them names and pushing them around. My 10-year-old daughter has been called weird and creep, and my 5-year-old, who goes to kindergarten, has been told they will cut her up in little pieces. Frankly I'm very disgusted at this point.

I've talked to many other mothers in this community and found most of them have had the same trouble.

MY DAUGHTER came downstairs late one night crying she couldn't take all this ridicule anymore. She cried 2 hours telling me her troubles. It was very heartbreaking. We never had this trouble in Chicago and I'm mystified about all of it.

Getting back to the other mothers, one of whom had to keep her son off the bus and drive him to school every day. Others have had trouble because the boy's hair was red or another family happened to come from the south.

I realize children can be cruel and I have been told I would be better off if I just forget it, but I can't. This is ridiculous. Why should new or old families to the community have to put up with obnoxious children.

I can't see how a whole community can overlook the fact that their children are ridiculed so much.

MY 5-YEAR-OLD was so happy to go to school. But like today, she came home and said two children were pushing her on the bus and saying they would cut her up. She said she was crying on the way home. This I think is disgusting.

I feel if there were stricter supervision in the school grounds at recess and also on those buses, there would be fewer unhappy children.

I can't see why adult supervision by teachers and bus drivers especially couldn't prevent all this. When the children reach a certain age, the parents can't always be around to teach them good manners. Teachers and other adults have to take over and help. Why should playgrounds be a free for all? Why should bus drivers ignore the fact that there is pushing and disobedience on the bus?

If children can't get supervision from adults, who can they get it from?

I called a teacher on this, and he admit and he did admit that there was a lot of bickering out here. Why?

We are the richest nation in the world. We have everything we could hope for in the world. Schools, churches, and nice homes. So what does everyone do when there's trouble? They sit back in their foam cushion chairs and say, "So what."

CHILDREN ARE children and they'll outgrow this. But even though most people want their children to behave they need help. We can't ride the buses or stand in the school yard watching our children. Why can't the children be watched carefully? Is there a law that won't permit it? Will it hurt their personalities or give them inferiority complexes if they can't act like savages?

I want an answer, and I would like it to be in your newspaper; that is, unless your chairs are made out of foam rubber too.

Mrs. Jack Greco
Prospect Heights

What's Answer To Poor Need?

WASHINGTON, D. C. —

Is it still possible for me to get a copy of your series on "The Poor?" I have read about it in my husband's copy of the Quill Magazine, and it fits so exactly into what I have been thinking about here in Washington.

We have endless "studies" and "reports" and "statistics" — and there it rests. Congress says the District overstates its problems and wastes its resources. People say they really live "back in the States" and give there, and our problem grows and grows.

WE KEEP madly scrambling to do at least part of the job of keeping up with results and never can spend any more time, thought, money and action on causes of problems.

I want so much to see how you handled your presentation, and most of all I so very much hope you now will try to formulate — perhaps I should say stimulate—some clearer statements and awareness of why these things exist and multiply. Are only bad things self-perpetuating?

WE SPEND literally millions and millions of dollars just here in Washington picking up the pieces. Is there no way to stop at least some of the tragedy? Your experience with this series must have given you some ideas. Please share them with those of us who believe in "the essential dignity of man."

Urges Defeat Of School Aid

Rolling Meadows—

I am writing in regard to the federal aid to education bill currently under discussion.

As a citizen and resident of the state of Illinois I urge our legislators to vote against this federal aid bill. I believe the bill to be unfair and will tend to discourage initiative in the American people. The people of the state of Illinois have accepted their responsibility to educate their children by taxing themselves to build sufficient schools and pay their teachers a reasonable salary. I believe it to be grossly unfair to require people of states such as Illinois to pay Federal taxes to support schools in states where people do not make a sincere effort to finance their own education programs.

I REALIZE that Illinois is a wealthy state by comparison to certain of the states which would benefit the most from a federal aid to education bill. However, people of these so-called poor states, which provide only one-half the amount of money per pupil that is provided per pupil by the state of Illinois, do not have any trouble spending as much money for liquor, cigarettes, and gambling as do the people of Illinois. If the American people can spend in excess of 10 billion dollars annually for liquor and cigarettes alone, there is no valid reason for these people to fail to support their own schools.

Our country has become strong, I believe, because Americans of past generations did not depend upon the government to come to their aid every time they encountered financial difficulties. They sacrificed for the things they obtained, and therefore, had pride in their accomplishments. I ask you to fight against these many Federal Aid programs which, if passed, will tend to make the American people a mass of weaklings who turn to the government to solve all of their problems. A nation composed of dependents cannot remain independent.

Park Board Issue Raised

According to what I read in the Rolling Meadows Herald, the site best suited for construction of the swimming pool which was voted and passed on April 4, is in the vicinity of Salk school.

However, one week before voting, another report (you may say a "modified" to an extent) reached my domicile. I have heard or read nothing to contradict it, and the rumor is continuing. It is worded something like this: Although the site by Salk school is the best suited for construction of the $225,000 swimming pool proposed, the ground is not sufficiently sound to support it. To say the least, I find this somewhat disturbing (inasmuch as I am about to be taxed for it).

I ALSO understand that the park board intends to begin construction of the swimming pool first, and then continue with the rest of the park. If the statement about the site is correct, what will it cost the citizens of Rolling Meadows for construction of this fabulous pool? The entire cost of the bond ($340,000)?

As I understand it, the pool will have to be "floated" upon swampy ground bringing about the possibility of the cement cracking after a hard winter freeze. If the pool is to be constructed upon piling, won't the piling have a tendency to slide and crack the pool when it is filled, because of the additional weight of the water? This is the same land that has no homes close to it because of the bad footing.

On the other hand, if the park board is intending to complete the park and then begin construction of the pool, where is the money to come from for the additional cost of putting the pool on solid ground? There is no provision made for purchase of additional land. Perhaps they will use the $50,000 already available to the park district. And then again, maybe the fee to be charged for admittance to the pool will cover the cost of necessary repairs, like reconstruction every six years.

AFTER YEARS of balancing the family budget successfully, I am afraid I have to concede this budget-balancing to a higher source because "it don't figure nohow."

Perhaps I am writing too much, too late. And then again, I may be terribly misinformed. Inasmuch as I have submitted this query to the entire world (the world concerned with this particular pool) I do wish someone on the Rolling Meadows park board will be kind enough to reply through this same medium.

Taxpayer with no money to "Salt the Creek."

Red Cross Fund Drive Succeeds

Once again with your generous help and cooperation, the annual residential Red Cross fund drive in Addison has been brought to a successful close. Our chairman, Mrs. Janice Sturm, and I wish to thank you at the Register for an excellent job of publicizing the campaign these past months.

Thanks also go to the citizens of Addison who contributed. All of us who were part of the drive are grateful for their response; and other fellow citizens who will have need for Red Cross services in the next year, have even more reason to be grateful.

THE OTHER people most responsible for the success of the campaign were the volunteers who did the work. Thanks to all of you.

The co-chairmen of the business fund drive, Mr. Hubert Loftus and Mr. Richard Laux, have not been able to close the books on their portion of the campaign yet. Returns have been slow and Mr. Loftus requested that I remind the businessmen that the drive is still in progress.

Again thanks to the public-spirited members of this community and to your newspaper for the fine support for this worthy organization.

Reader Raps Federal Aid

I believe that those favoring aid to private education fail to understand what many of us are trying to say regarding aid to private schools, which as I see it is this:

Our forefathers came to this country seeking freedom to worship as they saw fit—we have that freedom.

However, you must admit that the reason for the establishment of private and parochial shools was solely for the indoctrination of particular religions or personal gain.

THE BASIC knowledges can be obtained in the public schools in our country—which have been established to teach our children—and are available for ALL if they choose to use them.

If because of personal beliefs we prefer that our children attend private schools, then I don't see how possibly we should feel that we should be aided by public funds. Remember it is from personal choice that our children attend private schools, and I am sure that once aid is given to private education, you would find many schools and conflicts springing up all over our country.

I AM SURE the editors of this paper have this in mind when they seem to show discrimination. They are trying to follow a middle road as an American, not as a member of any sect or religion.

I would agree, however, with Marguerite Stitt Church in her recent Bill NR340, which she has introduced in the House of Representatives — "To allow a taxpayer a deduction from gross income (to a point) for tuition and other specified expenses paid by him for his education or the education of his spouse or any of his dependents."

However, what we are opposed to is "generalized federal aid to education." Namely the inclusion of private schools or institutions in aid to public education.

Reader Hails Birch Society

Arlington Heights—

I read Dick Hoffman's column on the John Birch Society in the April 6 Arlington Heights Herald. Very interesting! In closing you said, "I have to get my Communist membership card punched." You might as well, Mr. Hoffmann.

There are two ways to help Communism: Join the party and work for them, or do nothing. Since you consider the John Birch Society such a big joke, what are you doing to stop the Communist conspiracy here in the United States of America? Why not run a series on Communism to inform the people, who as a whole do not know much about the Communist party of the USA, what it is, how it works, what its objectives are.

By the way, Mr. Krushchev promised to bury you. The odds are in his favor. What positive action are you taking?

Be a Pleasant Neighbor, Too

It's coming on growing weather, and spring also means newcomers with their children and pets. This means re-educating the children free from city streets and disregard for properties to respect boundary lines and respect others' properties—plants, trees and ponds. Jumping hedges is expensive, too.

You parents could help your neighbors and be more welcome neighbors if you taught your children to walk on the walkways and if you kept your pet cat or dog under control.

I know you don't want your children or other children and pets ruining your newly-seeded lawn and newly-planted shrub. Neither do your neighbors, so be a pleasant neighbor and cooperate, please.

Park Board Shares Credit

Rolling Meadows—

The Rolling Meadows park board believes a large share of the credit for the success of our recent referendum is due to the Herald for the publicity given our efforts.

The board particularly appreciates the cooperation given by Mrs. Hester Klein whose interest and suggestions were particularly helpful to our group of amateurs.

Many thanks for your assistance.

S. B. Henson,
Chairman,

Police Are Doing Duty

I read the article "Safety Is Most Important Issue" by Anthony Dolatowski in last week's Enterprise. I have to disagree with you, Mr. Dolatowski, but I happen to know that police do not sit around for two or three hours catching speeders with radar. I agree that safety is an important issue, but without police cruising around there would not be any safety.

You stated that people are more careful when they see police cars cruising around, but in my opinion people should be careful at all times when behind the wheel of a car. I have seen with my own eyes officers making sure that there is not trouble in the town by breaking up crowds of kids on the streets at night, after a dance or what have you at the school or elsewhere.

With a limit of only 10 officers in town, I feel they are performing to the best of their ability. I surely hope the other people that read your letter do not feel the same way you do.

Candidate Says Thanks for Aid

Arlington Heights—

It was a pleasant surprise to be informed that I was successful in my campaign for the position of Wheeling township board of auditors. I contribute a good part of this success to the endorsement received from Paddock Publications and assure you that I will discharge the duties of the office in an honorable manner.

Publicity Is Appreciated

New York—

It was only when I opened a letter which was handed to me just as I left for the Catholic Educational association's convention in Atlantic City that I realized the wonderful publicity you had given us in relation to our new girls high school in Rolling Meadows.

I hope you will pardon our seeming ingratitude—we certainly would have said "thank you" sooner had we known. But better late than never—so please accept our sincere thanks. We are mailing the clipping to our Mother General in Rome since she was in the group who first visited Rolling Meadows and has taken a vital interest in every phase of the developments.

Quotoons

The reason there's always room at the top is so many people become satisfied long before they get there.

All a man has to do to develop 20/20 vision is to be able to spot the other fellow's good points.

When it comes to making a good husband a woman's work is never done.

Silver linings would be more popular if bank tellers would cash them.

An ideal husband is one who treats his wife with the same consideration he treats his pretty secretary.

Friends that you can buy are a dime a dozen, and each one of them will short-change you if given a chance.

Television has done a lot for many people, especially those who manufacture living room furniture.

Love is one bug that makes a man act foolish no matter at what age it bites him.

The secret of getting along with others consists in mastering the art of getting along with yourself.

Sometimes the best eraser in the world turns out to be a stroke of somebody else's bad luck.

Most people can take a joke . . . . until you unknowingly tell them one of their own.

A smart girl is one who can hold a man at arm's length without losing her grip on him.

The wrong way to make your boss feel like a new man is to loaf on the job.

The easiest way to find a parking space is immediately behind a fellow who just beat you to it.

Greater Voter Interest Urged

Rolling Meadows—

As a precinct captain for the Republican party, I understand there is only one Republican organization in Palatine township. This includes Rolling Meadows of which Jackson L. Boughner is committeeman. This office is highly respected by precinct captains.

This gentleman hired myself and other devoted Republicans to uphold the Republican name and party for what it is as a group, not as individuals. As a precinct captain I consider it my duty to keep the people informed as to where their tax dollars go, when to register and anything else that may be important to them.

I REGRET to say that some so called Republicans that have been replaced as precinct captains were undoubtedly very confused and could not wait until the proper time to take action to satisfy their personal problems.

In my estimation, people are very intelligent. For this reason I am sure that in future elections we will see a more interested voter exercising his or her right as an American citizen to vote.

Little League Event Is Hit

Arlington Heights—

On behalf of the Arlington Heights Little League, I want to thank the Arlington Heights Herald for the splendid coverage given our pancake program.

As you know, this year was the most successful Aunt Jemina Pancake Day in the history of our annual event. It was through your cooperation, the help of the many merchants, businessmen and citizens of Arlington Heights that we were able to raise in excess of $5,000 to support our village boys activities.

AS CHAIRMAN of publicity, I had very good opportunity to sample the help and interest given the affair by your entire staff. It was more than we expected. I would like particularly to mention the cooperation we had from Bruce Ladd, who handled the stories we passed along.

All in all, we who are connected with Little League have once again found a real friend in Paddock Publications — another example of the fine service you render this community.

Population explosions . . . decentralization . . . changing patterns of living . . . out of these emerges a new power—the suburban newspaper—serving all factors. It is the vital, dynamic force in communications to its community and therefore to the nation.

The progressive suburban newspaper recognizes its new position, its growing responsibilities. It must keep its readers informed on such important topics as local tax rates, zoning laws, public utilities, schools, local elections . . . on civic projects and problems of community concern. It must report national and urban developments as they relate to its own community progress. It must meet the challenge of leadership.

The Suburban Press Foundation, originating in the Chicago area, is a membership association of progressive suburban newspaper publishers banded together in a cooperative research and development program. Its primary objective is to help publishers determine and meet their responsibilities to the suburban people . . . to suburban business and industry . . . and to the entire suburban community.

INEXPENSIVE WANT ADS HAVE A WAY OF WORKING FOR EVERY ONE

Good Landscaping Provides Home With Individuality

"Often people move from the city to the suburbs because they want to get away from the rows and rows of apartment buildings and formal streets, but then they find that the mass production and city ordinances have developed almost the same thing in our modern suburbia. The great need for individuality can be solved in only one way, and that is good landscaping. Here is a chance for each home owner to create some of his own personality and get away from that look-alike appearance," said the manager of America's largest nursery in Dundee.

To get this individuality you must start with a plan to eliminate guess work. To do this get a squared paper and a good sharp pencil, each square representing one square foot; or if your property is larger than this scale will afford, let each square represent a larger number, such as 2' or 3'.

START OUT by drawing your property lines and locate your house in relation to these lines. Also locate walks, driveways, or any existing trees on the property. Now you are ready to locate the features of your new garden plan. Use symbols in showing the different plants that are being used in your planning. You will need symbols to show shade trees, flowering shrubs, low and tall growing evergreens, and ground covers. Each symbol will be different in shape and size to define types of plants. You will also use symbols to show patio areas, additional walks, fencing, reflection pools, garden lightings, retaining walls, and other garden structures of interest.

The main thing your planning will do is to assure you proper planting distance between plants, the correct selection of plants, that will give you year around beauty and decrease your maintenance problems. It is so much easier to make changes and corrections on paper than costly corrections in planting or construction work. Your landscape plan can be executed at your leisure and over a period of years. Plan your landscape and watch a picture of beauty unfold before your eyes. Remember landscaping increases your property value but not your taxes.

If you would like to get more specific information on landscape plans, go to your reliable nurseryman or to a landscape architect. (BB

Palatine Resident Ends Service At Post Office

Richard L. Handlin, 255 N. Mozart ave., Palatine, retired March 31 after serving more than 31 years with the Chicago postal service according to Chicago's Postmaster Carl A. Schroeder.

For the past 10 years Handlin has been a supervisor in station operations and for the last three years worked at Chicago's Dunning postal station as supervisor in charge of its huge carrier force.

Prior to his advancement to supervisor he served as a carrier for 20 years at the Jefferson station.

HANDLIN HAS been married for 35 years and has two children and three grandchildren. He is a member of the National Association of Letter Carriers.

During his retirement he expects to spend many of his leisure hours gardening and fishing for both salt and fresh water fish.

On the day of his retierment Handlin will receive the post office department's coveted "Honorary Recognition" certificate for meritorious accomplishment and devotion to duty.

The award will bear the signature of Postmaster General J. Edward Day and Postmaster Schroeder. (BB

ARE WE OLD FASHIONED

In some ways—yes! Our "new" offices are styled with the warmth and comfort of Colonial styling. Our informal sales approach is old fashioned too, with a genuine, sincere interest in doing a better job of serving home-buyer and home-seller. Our facilities, however, are as modern as today's news. Our staff, pictured below, are all experienced, licensed real estate BROKERS with complete "know-how" regarding values, neighborhoods, schools, and all other matters so important when you are buying or selling real estate.

There's no guesswork when you deal with Arlington Realty, Inc.

The charm of an English Tudor will strike you the moment you enter the front door. Downstairs is large living room with fireplace, separate dining room, kitchen with breakfast area, powder room, screened porch and 1 bedroom or den. Upstairs are two large bedrooms and full bath. Wooded Scarsdale location. Outstanding value. $26,900

3 bedroom Ranch, South Side Arlington Heights with 1½ ceramic tiled baths, large living room with fireplace, large screened porch and full basement. This is a quality home we have just listed and you must see to appreciate. $27,900

If you like beautiful large grounds (80x190), but don't want country living, this might be your new home! Three bedrooms, 1½ baths, family room 13x14 and paneled, lovely kitchen with dishwasher and disposal, full basement and unbeatable location. $33,500

Three bedroom Colonial has full basement, separate dining 'L', attached garage, inside and out it's in tip-top condition. Two blocks to Park or Wayside school, 3 blocks to South school or Pioneer Park. Just listed at only $21,900

Charming and immaculate home on beautifully landscaped grounds 96x132, a short jaunt to downtown Arlington Heights. 1st floor den, 2 large bedrooms up, 1½ ceramic baths, 2-car garage plus many things you'd expect only in a more expensive home (fireplace, breakfast room, etc.) Just listed at only $20,500

Without doubt, one of the most pleasant homes we've ever listed! A 3-bedroom Ranch of brick and stone, full basement with 37x15 recreation room, patio and oversize 2-car garage, but this only begins to tell the story of this fine home. Mason Named As Associate

James A. Mason, 772 Stephens dr., Palatine, recently joined the staff of the Chicago City Missionary Society, 19 S. LaSalle st., as research associate.

In cooperation with Rev. John R. Schwenke, assistant general director, Mason will be responsible for developing the society's recently organized research and planning program.

"The research and planning program is designed as a research facility for service to the planning programs of the society and the interests of other denominational groups in Chicago," said Rev. Donald L. Benedict, general director of the society. "The department will coordinate its work with that of other religious research and planning agencies in Chicago."

RANDALL H. Cooper, exective director of the Chicago Central Area Committee, is chairman of the research and planning committee.

Mason is a former director of Lutheran Research and Survey, an inter-Lutheran research agency in the metropolitan Chicago area; and a former staff member of Benton House, Chicago.

He received the bachelor of arts degree from St. Olaf college and the bachelor of divinity degree from Union Theological seminary, New York. He also studied at the University of Oslo, Norway, and the University of Minnesota.

MASON was recently reelected treasurer of the Opportunity Council, Inc., northwest suburban human relations group. He is a member of Our Saviour's Lutheran church, Arlington Heights.

He is married and the father of three children. (BB

Entrance to Home Should 'Welcome'

"Nothing else grows in beauty and value like trees and shrubs about your home and will continue to give you pleasure for many generations," said a local nurseryman.

If you are a do-it-yourself gardener with a limited budget, as most of us are, I would suggest that you start with a basic plan. The first steps will be to show you how to make your entrance more inviting. This will be followed by "Don't Cover your Beautiful Windows," "Unite your House with the Ground," "Your Front Yard is More Important than your Parlor," "Patios are for People," and "Back Yards are Going Glamorous."

In all of these articles the do-it-yourself gardener will find something new and exciting that will help create a landscape plan that will reflect your own personality.

ENTRANCE plantings should enhance and lead the eye to the front door. Plantings should soften harsh lines. Plants that are used at entrances, and close to the house, should be of a low nature. Seldom should a plant exceed five feet in height, especially when used close to the foundation of a one-story house. When selecting plants for this area, do not select plants with bright colored foliage, as they will only distract and take away from the overall beauty of your entrance.

It is most important that plants used should accent and focus attention on the entire entrance area.

The porch or stoop can be concealed and made more beautiful by proper placement of low-growing evergreens. Plants concealing this area, as seen from the street, will add a softening touch. Ideal small trees for entrance plantings are: Upright Yews, Junipers, Redbud, Birch, Hawthorne, and Carolina Silver Bell. Plant these at least six feet from the foundation. These distances are ideal for excellent entrance effects, especially if ground-cover plants are used underneath the trees.

WHEN YOUR guests view the plantings close up, you should have features of interest that will draw favorable comment. This could be an interesting rock with a vine growing on the front side. A group of specimen flowers is a beautiful attraction, or a tub with a large Bonsai. Crushed stone or colored pebbles will often add great interest.

Thousands of people see the outside of your house, especially the front yard, to every one that sees the inside. (BB

Realtors' Code Protects Buyers

What is a realtor?

The Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, observing that next week is Realtor Week, pointed out that a realtor is more than just any real estate broker.

The term is a registered trademark which can be used only by an active member of the local real estate board who thus is pledged to abide by a strict code of ethics.

"It isn't the fact that a man is licensed and sells real estate that makes him a realtor," stresses the group's executive secretary, Doris Kendzie. "It is his acceptance into membership by the local board and the National Association of Real Estate Boards: his signature on his application pledges his willingness to abide by the rules and adherence to the code of ethics."

THE REALTOR pledge includes promises to "protect the individual right of real estate ownership and to widen the opportunity to enjoy it," "to be honorable and honest in all dealings," "to seek better to represent clients by building knowledge and competence," "to act fairly towards all in the spirit of the Golden Rule."

The Northwest Suburban Board of Realtors, organized in 1944 with a membership of 41, now boasts a total membership of 438. The jurisdictional territory of the board covers 12 cities and villages in eight townships and over 280 square miles in the northwest suburbs.

Officers for 1961 are President Herbert H. Walbaum, Barrington; Vice President Arthur C. Kelter, Prospect Heights; Secretary Charles K. Burval, Park Ridge; and Treasurer Jack Keller, Arlington Heights. (BB

Freedom of Information Is Challenge to Newsmen

"Don't be afraid of public officials who refuse to stand up and be quoted," George A. Brandenburg has told journalism students at Northern Illinois university.

Speaking recently to the Journalism Student Association, the midwest editor of "Editor and Publisher" also advised students going into newspaper work "to be aware of closed door methods and off-the-record remarks."

Freedom of information at all levels of government continues to be a challenge of the press, he said.

A 30-YEAR veteran with the newspaper trade journal, Brandenburg also said that consolidation of newspapers makes it appear that we have a vanishing press.

"It's true there are fewer newspapers than before but they are better ones," he added.

Brandenburg said that during his career he had seen a new Chicago metropolitan paper born (the Chicago Sun, which later became the Sun-Times). He noted that the Sun-Times bought the Chicago Daily News and the Chicago Tribune bought Chicago's American and that Chicago's four newspapers are now put out by two big publishers.

"I'm afraid one (of the big publishers) might have to give in to the other but I hope not," he said, adding: "I hate to see a newspaper fold. It is a tragic thing to see."

BRANDENBURG also listed other changes he has seen in the past 30 years. They included:

1. Editors changing from by guess and by gosh ways of editing to skillful methods.
2. Greater emphasis on the use of pictures.
3. The rise of the locally-edited Sunday magazine section.
4. The Associated Press Managing Editors' critical analysis of AP news reports which, he said, has "probably done more than anything else to make editors and reporters conscious of good writing."
5. Rejuvenation of the editorial page.
6. Circulation managers come into their own by achieving net income from circulation.
7. Newspapers presenting a united front in meeting advertising competition from television and radio.
8. Use of run-of-paper color in answer to TV.
9. Consumer studies.
10. Effective newspaper promotion managers.
11. New printing and typesetting methods. (BB

S. S. Kresge Coming To Mt. Prospect

Randhurst Center, slated for construction on Euclid ave. in Mt. Prospect, will be the site of the S. S. Kresge company's first store in that locale. Kresge, one of the largest retail variety store chains in the world, will join Montgomery Ward and other firms planning stores in the 100 acre shopping development 24 miles northwest of the loop.

The proposed new Kresge store will cover over 30,000 square feet and will be a self-service operation. Construction is supposed to begin late this summer and is scheduled for completion in the fall of 1962.

THE NEW Kresge store will offer shoppers a wide selection of items from established 5 cents to $1 assortments of notions and novelties also higher priced lines of nationally advertised electrical appliances, power tools, power lawn mowers, hi-fi sets, radios, small furniture and fashion apparel for the whole family.

Construction of the new Randhurst store marks another step in the Kresge Company's dynamic expansion plans. Recently the chain opened its first Puerto Rico Kresge stores located in 37 states, the District of Columbia and Canada. (BB

Lower Insurance Rates Predicted for Car Owners

Lower car insurance rates are forseen by the President of the nation's largest auto insurance company, which has already cut $6,000,000 from its policyholders' premium bill.

Edward B. Rust, president of State Farm Mutual at Bloomington, Ill. said further cuts are likely in 1961 providing claim costs continue downward. "Insurance rates and the traffic accident toll march hand-in-hand," he said, "and stepped-up traffic safety efforts in many large cities are beginning to pay off in lower insurance costs for many motorists. In a few areas where accident experience has worsened, rates may go up, but overall picture is good."

Rust's comments were made in his year-end report on 1960 operations of State Farm Mutual.

LOCAL Agent for State Farm is George P. Tews. He said his company is now in its twentieth year as the nation's largest auto insurer. Earned premiums and memberships rose 8.6 per cent last year to a record $469,117,621.

At the year's close, there were 6,161,433 policies in force, an increase of four per cent over 1959, and State Farm policies covered 12 per cent of the private passenger cars operating in the U. S. Assets reached $639,558,318, or 12.6 per cent over the 1959 figure. Surplus to protect policyholders was increased $50,613,018 to $206,732,643. For the eleventh straight year, claims paid were up, increasing 8.8 per cent to $243,829,851. The company settled a record 2,157,390 claims in 1960. Investment gain amounted to $19,794,536, compared with $16,164,447 a year ago. Underwriting gain rose from $15,916,341 to $55,711,235. (BB

Here's How to Reduce Summer Humidity

"It's not the heat, it's the humidity," will be a phrase repeated many times this summer. And correctly so!

Studies have shown that people tend to be uncomfortable when humidity is too high or too low. Where does humidity come from? In the home, much of the moisture comes from the outside air. In fact, summer air is usually "loaded" with moisture.

A GOOD PART of your home's humidity will come from normal living activities. Simply cooking three meals a day for a family of four will release about 33 pints of water per week. Washing those dishes will send another pint of water per day into the home.

Mopping floors, taking a shower, washing and drying clothes, and many other every-day occurrences cause humidity levels inside the home to rise. People themselves also add humidity! A family of four will evaporate 11 pints per day into the air.

Here are a few suggestions which will help you somewhat in reducing your home's humidity level. Ventilate your kitchen with an exhaust fan when you cook. Vent your clothes dryer. Add a low-cost basement dehumidifier.

ALL OF THESE suggestions will help, but for complete humidity control you need a whole-house dehumidification system. Here's how dehumidification works. Hot, moisture-laden air is brought into contact with cold coils. When air is chilled, it loses moisture. You can actually see it dropping off the cold coils. This process literally wrings moisture from the air.

Conventional air conditioners cool air and in the process dehumidify it. On hot, moist days, this principle works fine. But, what happens on these clammy days when the home's air conditioner doesn't have to cool?

The conventional air conditioner will operate only when the thermostat calls for cooling. As a result, the conventional air conditioner cannot take moisture out of the air when the temperature falls below the normal setting of from 72 to 75 degrees.

NOW, WHAT DO we do to get whole-house humidity control? We can still dehumidify the air by cooling it, but this would make our homes uncomfortably cold. But, if we re-heat the cool, dehumidified air, we can maintain complete comfort in the entire home.

The problem of providing control over both humidity and temperature is solved with Mueller Climatrol's exclusive Humidity Control Air Conditioner.

This unit is designed to perform under three basic conditions. When the days are warm and humid, the unit operates as a conventional two horsepower air conditioner, cooling the home and removing 5½ pints of water per hour.

When temperatures soar, the capacity of the unit automatically doubles, giving four horsepower cooling and removing up to 11½ pints of water per hour.

THE UNIQUE feature of this unit is in the third condition. When the weather is mild, but very humid, the unit will provide dehumidification only at the rate of 6 pints per hour. (For comparison, a basement dehumidifier will remove only 1½ pints or less per hour.) Under this condition, heat produced by the unit itself "re-heats" the house air for efficient and economical operation.

Mueller Climatrol's unit is designed for whole-house air conditioning and humidity control. You can set your temperature and level of humidity and the equipment will automatically maintain them all summer long. (BB

NW Council Has Airline Guest Speaker

Northwest Industrial Council held its March meeting last Wednesday evening at Dick's Corral, Arlington Heights, reports Richard B. Peterson, publicity chairman.

After dinner the group was addressed by Jack Kanash, manager of employee relations for United Airlines, who gave members an insight into the recent strike of flight engineers against several major airlines. His program was followed by a question period.

The council meets bimonthly and is open to representatives of business and industry in the northwest suburbs. Richard Bruce of Ekco-Alcoa Containers, Wheeling, may be contacted for further information. (BB

Grant Hospital Signs Contract For New Pavilion Addition

Grant hospital's $2,700,000, 142-bed addition came closer to reality this week with the signing of a contract between the board of directors of the hospital and the Mayfair Construction company.

The new south pavilion, as the addition will be called, will be built on the northeast corner of Geneva terrace and Webster ave., and will adjoin the existing building located at 551 W. Grant place. Construction will begin the week of April 9-15, 1961, and the building is expected to be occupied by October, 1962.

JOSEPH F. OSTEN

THE NEW addition will bring the total number of beds at Grant hospital to 320.

"This is Grant hospital's first expansion in 33 years," Joseph F. Osten, president of the board, who lives at 1627 N. Baldwin road, Inverness commented as he signed the contract. "The hospital has been able to inaugurate a brand-new concept in hospital organization — progressive patient care — in an old plant dating from 1897, 1913, and 1928, but we sorely need new facilities and beds to keep pace with the growing needs of Chicago's north side," Osten added.

The new addition will have a 20-room outpatient department, including sizable emergency room facilities, an entire floor devoted to a surgery suite and a delivery suite, another floor for Maternity patients, and three floors for medical-surgical patients.

The new outpatient department will make it possible for the hospital to accommodate three times the present number of outpatients annually. Grant hospital's 35 weekly clinics, which handled some 17,000 outpatient visits in 1960, comprise the only complete, hospital-operated outpatient facility north of Chicago ave.

The entire 110,000 square feet of the new addition will be air-conditioned. The majority of patient rooms in the south pavilion will accommodate two patients, but there wil also be eight private rooms and four 4-bed rooms. Every room will have a private bath, with tub or shower faciities.

An unusual feature of the south pavilion will be the double-corridor construction of patient floors, which gives each patient room one or more windows. Rooms will line the east, south, and west sides of the rectangular building. Two corridors, paralleling each other and the east and west sides of the building, will be divided aong their entire length by a central core which serves as a service area. The service area will contain utility and storage rooms and a center "island." In this "island" will be located the nurses' station and doctors' chart room, both of which open onto the corridors on either side.

The existing building will be modernized and re-equipped to coordinate it with the new building. The addition will make possible the enlargement of the Dr. Egon W. Fischmann memorial premature baby station, expansion of the Uihlein memorial Laboratory, enlargement of the pediatric service, addition of a short-term psychiatric unit, and the addition of a fourth unit for long-term, continuing care patients in the Progressive Patient Care program. Palatine Office Receives President's Recognition

The Prudential Insurance company's Palatine district office 235 N. Northwest hwy., Palatine, has been awarded the company's President's Citation in recognition of its outstanding achievements during the past year, according to James E. Rutherford, vice - president in charge of the company's Mid - America operations, Chicago.

Under the management of Henry C. Bauer, the office ranked among the top 10 per cent of Prudential's more than 600 district offices in the United States and Canada in sales in 1960.

PALATINE has won the award in each of the three years since the office was established in 1957. In addition to the office award, two members of the staff won citations based on individual performance. They are: Staff Manager, F. J. Thiel, and G. B. Keough, an agent.

The Palatine district is one of 19 Prudential offices in Illinois and Indiana receiving 1960 President's Trophy or Citation awards. For the fifth successive year, the Mid - America home office ranked number one among Prudential's eight regional home offices in the United States and Canada.

Elk Grove Man Takes Part In Mobilgas Economy Run

James B. Snyder Elk Grove Village, marketing representative for the Mobil Oil company, participated as an official in the nationally publicized 1961 Mobilgas economy run which took place this month between the west coast and Chicago.

Arranged by Mobilgas under the auspices of the U. S. Automobile club, the economy run is designed to obtain performance information on the operating characteristics of standard model automobiles. All major auto manufacturers enter this annual contest which originated in 1903.

SNYDER'S responsibilities as an official involved the escort and guidance of the auto contestants from Odell, Illinois to the junction of U. S. route 66 and the Tri-State tollway. Illinois State highway patrolmen and Chicago police escorted the cars on the last lap of the run to Soldier field where Snyder made seven first-place awards to winners. He also assisted in the final compilation of statistics.

Commencing in Los Angeles on March 11 and terminating in Chicago on March 16, this year's economy run represented the longest and most grueling driving course of its type.

Sixty-six 1961 autos were impounded and guarded in a Los Angeles garage 24 hours prior to the starting date to prevent any alterations in their standard specifications. For the entire six-day event each car carried a non-professional driver, assistant driver and a USAC judge whose job it was to insure that contest rules were observed.

A PRE-DETERMINED route was not known by the drivers until the morning of each day. Drivers were required to maintain a strict time and mileage schedule throughout the entire economy run. The stress and strain of this rigid schedule was such that the average driver would most likely be unable to endure the full six day period.

Snyder lives with his wife, Jodi, and their two sons at 217 Victoria lane in Elk Grove Village where he is presently a candidate for board trustee in the April 18 municipal election. (BB

Institute Held In Wisconsin

Edward Viksnic, production manager, Charles Bruning Co., Mount Prospect, recently participated in a University of Wisconsin management institute dealing with production and material control.

Twenty-one production officials from companies in five states were enrolled for the three-day meeting, conducted by Management Institute (MI) of UW extension. Conferees came from Illinois, Minnesota, Michigan, Ohio and Wisconsin.

DISCUSSION leaders for the sessions were topflight specialists from firms in Chicago, Milwaukee and Minneapolis.

Prof. Frank H. Reighard, supervisor of manufacturing management programs for MI, was coordinator of the program. Founded 17 years ago, the University's MI is known as a pioneer in management education and has one of the most comprehensive programs in the nation.

Chek-Chart Appoints Editor

Appointment of Gerald R. Johnston, Arlington Heights, as editorial director, has been announced by Huntington Eldridge, president of the Chek-Chart corporation, publishers of automotive, truck and tractor lubrication guides and accessory handbooks.

Formerly chief of public relations for the Air Force's Air Materiel command and director of the Public Relations College of the Air university, Johnston for the past six years has been public relations specialist for Dodge division, Chrysler corporation, and editor of the division's dealer publications. Previously he had served in various editorial capacities on Michigan daily newspapers, and is the author of more than 400 magazine short stories and articles.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnston and their two sons, Wayne, 6, and Kenneth, 3½, will reside at 1405 N. Illinois. A third son, Stephen, is a student at the University of Michigan. (BB

H. R. Flack Completes Training

Howard R. Flack, 230 Bloomingdale rd., Itasca, local representative for Mutual of Omaha and United of Omaha, has recently completed the comprehensive insurance course offered at the National Sales Training school session in Omaha.

Flack was chosen for the national sales training school through a selection interview analysis. On the average, only one out of eight applicants is able to pass the rigid entrance requirements.

He is associated with the Ray Carpenter agency in Aurora.

Summer Camp Jobs Offered

The northwest office of the Illinois State Employment service, 5306 W. Lawrence, is again offering through its summer camp placement section to help college students over 17 years of age, as well as teachers, obtain summer employment, John J. Brownlee, Manager, announced today.

For an enjoyable summer outdoors and an opportunity to develop camping skills, college students and teachers may contact the ISES office immediately.

Applicants are asked to either write to above address or phone AV 3-2544 for an application form. There is no charge to either the applicant or employer for this service.

WALGREENS GARDEN headquarters gets family into the act. "Togetherness" is not an empty word when the King family of Mount Prospect stocks up on lawn and garden needs at Walgreen's new self-service rrugstore in Mount Prospect Plaza at Rand and Central rds. Whether it's shopping or doing the work, everybody pitches in, including Mr. and Mrs. Joseph King, 20 S. Edward st., Carolyn (standing) and Patricia and Paul (in cart).

Elk Grover Joins Ranks Of Hamburger Champions

An Elk Grove businessman named Jack Wiese not only sells more hamburgers than anyone else in Elk Grove, but he is part of an impressive 31-state organization that has nailed down the national hamburger championship.

Wiese is operator of the McDonald's Drive-In at the southeast corner of Oakton st. and Higgins rd. in Elk Grove, where the 15-cent hamburger still reigns, inflation not withstanding.

McDONALD'S 100 million hamburgers throughout the nation in 1960 alone and total sales since the first McDonald's was opened in April of '55 passed the 400 million mark back in September.

In addition to holding the 15-cent price line despite a general 20 per cent rise in the cost of living in the past decade, the chain keeps a constant check on the food itself and works with the American Meat institute to insure top quality.

Another secret of McDonald's success is the unique guidance provided by the central headquarters in Chicago, which shares its tested principles of quality, service and business procedure with the local operator.

BESIDES THE training he got before opening his McDonald's Drive-In, Wiese has a 200-page handbook which covers every aspect of the operation. One of McDonald's full-time field supervisors occasionally drops in to talk over business problems and there is close contact with main headquarters.

McDonald's success story is still being written. Future expansion plans call for an eventual total of 1,000 units throughout the country, all selling 15-cent hamburgers on the same streamlined "no frills" basis as Wiese is doing in Elk Grove. (BB

Cerebral Palsy Workers Given Recognition

John M. Sacuto, executive director of United Cerebral Palsy, stated that total contributions received in the 53-Minute March held in the four county Chicago area amounted to $30,000 more than last year.

Community chairmen and neighborhood captains received leadership awards last week from United Cerebral Palsy at a meeting held in the Crabapple restaurant, Old Orchard.

THE FOLLOWING women of the Paddock area were presented miniature trophies for their work during the January march: two Arlington Heights residents, Mrs. George Bolas, 630 S. Beverly, chairman; and Mrs. Robert Swain, 512 S. Waterman, captain.

From Palatine, Mrs. Edward Berlin, Freeman rd., and from Wheeling, Mrs. Gerald R. Stevenson, 168 Center ave., both of whom were captains.

Du Page county chairmen were Mrs. Alfred Cantieri, 237 W. Natoma, Addison, and Mrs. Robert Symanietz of 380 Elmwood ave., Wood Dale.

Garden Feature At Walgreen's

Walgreen's Mt. Prospect Plaza self-service drug store will feature garden equipment "at the kind of prices a man won't be afraid to tell his wife," caims manager Peter Maggio.

Maggio, in pointing to the approaching yard work, promised suburban green thumbs "the key to a button-poppin' lawn and garden."

Included in the store's stock will be lawn spreaders, an economical 20 inch rotary power mower, garden hose, grass seed, fertilizers, and lawn furniture. (BB

Remus Completes Study Course

Melvin A. Remus, 741 W. Kenilworth, Palatine, was one of 19 district representatives to recently complete the course of study at the life insurance school at the home office of Aid Association for Lutherans in Appleton, Wis.

The school consisted of analysis and discussion sessions on basic life insurance principles, their application to modern day problems, and the most recent AAL insurance programs available. Current and future trends in life insurance also were treated.

Remus is a member of the Delford T. Precht agency, Decatur, and serves synodical conference Lutherans of this area. (BB

Evergreen Spraying, Care Steps Outlined

"Your landscape plantings can become one of your most important investments in your home, so protect its increased value by spraying to keep down insects and disease," said a local nurseryman.

When you realize how easy it is to care for your trees and shrubs, you wonder why it is so often neglected. The modern hose-end sprayers offer the do-it-yourself gardener easy, foolproof and effective means of controlling bothersome insects and fungus problems. Your garden store or trusted local nurseryman is the best source of both equipment and information. All modern garden centers stock both hose-end spray equipment and the necessary spraying materials to deal with your problems.

MANY LARGE books have been published on the subject of insect and disease control for plants, but from the home owners vantage, it is enough to know that most of the insect problems narrow down to Evergreen Red Spider and most of the disease problems to a form of simple fungus.

Before any plan is made to spray or dust your evergreens, it is wise to make certain that failure of the plant to present normal, healthy appearance does not trace to lack of water, lack of fertilizer or even insufficient light. Not infrequently, many people mistake winter burn and mechanical damage from snow and ice for insects. If you are in doubt about the cause for unhealthy appearance, consult your local plant dealer before you purchase spray equipment or spray materials.

Evergreen Red Spider is almost too small to be seen with the naked eye; appearing like specks of dust when a branch is tapped over a sheet of white paper. The easiest method of identification is to "smear" these dust-like specks on the paper and then inspect for a very characteristic greenish - yellow stain from the insects themselves. Dust will leave streaks on the paper that look just like dust or dirt, while the spider mite will leave this greenish streak. Evergreen Red Spider is best controlled with one of the "general sprays" offered by most manufacturers.

This general spray will contain four or five specific toxic materials, which provide a broad spectrum of killing power. Most are entirely safe to use when applied according to manufacturers instructions. Since these materials are poisonous, care must be exercised to keep them away from children and pets. Discard any mix not used, because it will deteriorate and lose its killing power once diluted with water.

FUNGUS disease problems are frequently difficult, even for the trained nurseryman to identify, but again, almost all will respond to the newer types of fungicides offered, mainly, for the control of Black Spot on roses. These new types contain either Phaltan or Captan, both of which are extremely effective and very safe to use.

Very occasionally, evergreens are attacked by the chewing type of insect. Damage of this sort is readily visible and most always done by fairly large and easy to see larvae. "General Sprays" will give good control of these chewing insects, as will DDT and other contact poisons. With this type insect, thorough wetting of the foliage is essential and each plant should be sprayed until it drips.

Basic instructions are always given by spray material manufacturers, and these should be supplemented by specific help from your local nurseryman, who is familiar with the problems and stands ready to help with advice, equipment and materials.

LIKE ANY good builder of a home, the do-it-yourself gardener must have a landscape plan. Any reliable nurseryman can help you with a simple plan that will save you money in the long run and give you that professional look. First decide on a limited area to be landscaped, such as an entrance, under window, or corner planting. If you already have part of your landscaping done, then make a plan for the remaining spots, such as the back yard or the patio. This plan can take in simple groupings, or the more elaborate plan, which could provide for special fencing, rock gardens, patios, etc.

Most important, take out a paper and pencil and make a rough sketch of your ideas. This will not only save you money in the long run, but prevent the misplacement of large trees where there is only space for a small plant.

How often you have seen a home with a beautiful, large tree directly in front of a picture window, because the home-owner didn't have the heart to remove the tree after it grew too big. (BB

Don't say... BLACK DIRT!
Say... FERTILIZED SOIL!

Ordinary black dirt has usually been laying for years without being fertilized . . . and is usually exposed to many varieties of weeds. SO . . . while dirt may be black and rich looking it doesn't necessarily mean it is fertile, and it probably will contain weeds.

Our FERTILIZED SOIL is a mixture of organic fertilizer, composted cow manure, clean top soil, and humus, thoroughly integrated, blended, and processed to make it WEED FREE and completely ODORLESS.

The New FERTILIZED SOIL is ideal for topdressing lawns and costs less than good black dirt alone. Place your order now! FREE DELIVERY.

Pontiac Presents 2 Tempest Models

Pontiac Motor division's new Tempest series has been expanded to include two smartly styled two - door coupes that are scheduled to appear in Pontiac dealer showrooms during the latter part of April, it was announced by S. E. Knudsen, GM vice president and general manger of the Division.

One of the new coupes to be introduced will have front bucket seats and custom interior trim as standard. This model will have full carpeting on front and rear floor areas.

THE other Tempest coupe will have conventional split back, bench-type front seats and standard interior and exterior appointments. Both will measure 0.4 inch less in overall height than the Tempest four-door sedan announced last Fall. Their superb two-door styling gives the new coupes a distinctive sports car appearance. As with other Tempest models, exterior decor trim options may be selected by the customer.

The standard trim two-door coupe interiors are offered in four colorful trim combinations in check weave, color fast Potomac cloth with Jeweltone Morrokide panels. The custom trim two-door coupe interiors are of solid Jeweltone Morrokide in five color combinations. A wide range of glowing exterior colors are available in tough and durable Magic-Mirror acrylic lacquer.

Representing yet another new personality for the motoring public, the two coupes will offer the husky four-cylinder Tempest engine ranging from 110 to 155 horsepower, using either synchromesh or automatic transmissions. With the engine at the front and the transmissions at the rear the Tempest possesses equalized weight distribution for excellent handling, comfort, safety and performance.

INCLINED at 45 degrees, the 195 cubic inch, four-cylinder Tempest engine is adapted from Pontiac's big, time proven V-8. Power is transmitted from the engine to the transaxle by a unique, flexible drive shaft that virtually eliminates the floor tunnel. A lighter weight V-8 aluminum engine may be selected at the customer's option.

Contributing greatly to the smooth Tempest ride is the independent four - wheel suspension system that cushions the unitized body by an ideal combination of coil springs and shock absorbers. Fifteen inch wheels give excellent road clearance, ride and improve fuel economy, while enhancing the car's appearance.

Among the Tempest accessories and optional equipment offered are windshield washers, dual speed windshield wiper motor, air conditioning, power steering, radio, heater, back-up lamps, economy and performance axle ratios, instrument panel cushion and E - Z - Eye tinted glass. (BB

Arlington Man Presented AMVET Achievement Award

National Commander Harold Russell of the American Veterans of World War I and Korea (AMVETS) announced this week the five highest AMVETS awards for achievement in fields ranging from world peace to Americanism were awarded April 8 at the fourth annual AMVETS awards luncheon.

The event was attended by 1000 delegates a guests from all over t nited States who were attending the annual Spring meetings of the AMVETS National Executive committee and its subordinate bodies April 8-9.

Inscribed silver helmets which are replicas of World War II military headgear were presented in the following categories:

WORLD PEACE AWARD — to former UN Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge for exceptional and courageous contributions to universal peace.

AMERICANISM AWARD — to former Governor LeRoy Collins of Florida for exceptional and continuing contributins to the American way of life and his unwavering adherance to moral right.

A SPECIAL SILVER HELmet — to Bob Hope as Ambassador of Entertainment to America's armed forces and for his dedication in sustaining during 20 consecutive years the highest degree of morale among American GIs serving around the globe.

DEFENSE AWARD — to Leo A. Hoegh, former director of Civiliam Defense, for outstanding leadership in developing the Civil Defense strength of the United States.

REHABILITATION AWARD — to Dwight D. Guilfoil, Jr. 633 S. Burton, Arlington Heights, president of the Paraplegics Manufacturing company, Bensenville, for exceptional contributions in the field of rehabilitation of disabled persons.

The AMVETS peace award presented to Lodge has been given in the past to ex-President Eisenhower, the late Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, former Vice President Richard Nixon and to Dean Rusk during his prior service in the State Department.

Previous recipients of the AMVETS Americanism award incude ex-President Harry S. Hoover, Rafer Johnson and Van Cliburn.

One other Special Silver Helmet award similar to this year's citation for Bob Hope has been previously presented. It went to the late General George C. Marshall.

World's Largest Lawn Spray Service Works For You!

Look into your garage at the chemicals and equipment you have bought. Then think how you use them only occasionally, if and when you get the chance. Think what you have ALREADY SPENT — without a planned method, program, or allocation of time — trying futilely for effective control of crabgrass and weeds. THEN compare THIS — probably wasted money and effort — with our amazingly low charges for REALLY DOING these jobs. Very often, General Spray's prices for service work are LESS than YOU pay for materials alone!

Girl Scout Cookies Utilized In Three Flavorful Desserts

SUCCESSFUL HOMEMAKING

by LOIS SEILER

THE EXPRESSIONS on the faces of Palatine Brownies, Peggy Hill, Alison Hall and Linda Hallquist, attest to the fact that the Brownie Berkshire Pudding they are preparing is a mighty appealing dessert! Girl Scout Scot-Teas are used as the crust for this rich chocolate refrigerator confection. (SH

Hundreds of Brownies and Girl Scouts throughout the area will be selling their Girl Scout Cookies this week. Although they are delicious in their own right, these cookies can be utilized in recipes, too, and you may wish to try one or more being featured today.

The recipes have been furnished by the Girl Scout Council of North West Cook County, and two of them were tested recently by Palatine Scouts.

Intermediate Scouts, Cathy Jensen and Christy Wallace, from troop 488, made the Minted Brownie Pie while Brownies, Peggy Hill, Alison Hall and Linda Hallquist, from troop 612, prepared Brownie Berkshire Pudding.

Delicious (and very popular) Girl Scout Mint Cookies are used in the Minted Brownie Pie. This is a meringue-like dessert which consists of beaten egg whites, crushed cookies and chopped nuts. Baked in a pie tin, the dessert is served topped with whipped cream and garnished with curls of unsweetened chocolate.

Scot-Teas, a crispy butter cookie, are crushed and used as the crust and topping for the delectable Brownie Berkshire Pudding. The filling for this refrigerator dessert is a rich chocolate butter cream dotted with chopped pecans. Chuck-full of calories, this is an elegant taste treat!

ANOTHER unusual dessert recipe is Green Angel Delight, which calls for crushed chocolate and vanilla sandwich cookies. These are used to line a baking dish which is then heaped with a mixture of whipped lime gelatine and evaporated milk with chocolate bits folded in.

Light and refreshing, this dessert is refrigerated until ready to serve.

All of these recipes are suitable for a bridge or late evening dessert, but mothers of Brownies and Girl Scouts will want to try one for a family meal. And let your daughters help, for making the dessert will give them almost as much satisfaction as tasting it!

Minted Brownie Pie

19 chocolate mint cookies
4 egg whites
Dash of salt
1 cup sugar
½ teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped nuts
½ to 1 cup heavy, cream, sweetened and whipped

Chill cookies in refrigerator for several minutes. Break, cut or roll between folds of waxed paper to make even crumbs.

Beat egg whites and salt together until soft peaks form. Gradually beat in sugar, beating until stiff peaks form. Fold in cookie crumbs, chopped nuts and vanilla.

Spread in a buttered 9-inch pie pan. Bake in a 325 degree oven for 35 minutes. Cool thoroughly.

Spread whipped cream over the top and chill for 3 to 4 hours. To serve, garnish with curls of shaved unsweetened chocolate.

Brownie Berkshire Pudding

1 cup granulated sugar
3 squares Baker's chocolate
4 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
½ cup chopped pecans
1 cup crushed Scot-Teas

Cream butter and sugar. Melt chocolate, cool and add to creamed mixture. Add eggs, one at a time, beating five minutes after each addition. Blend in vanilla and pecans.

Spread bottom of buttered 9 by 9 inch pan with ½ cup cookie crumbs. Pour in chocolate mixture and sprinkle remaining crumbs over the top. Let set in the refrigerator for 12 hours.

Green Angel Delight

2 cups crushed sandwich cookies (chocolate and vanilla)
½ cup melted butter
1 14-ounce can or 1 2/3 cup evaporated milk
1 3-ounce package lime gelatine
1 ¾ cup hot water
1 cup sugar
¼ cup lime juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup chocolate bits

Mix butter and cookie crumbs. Line shallow baking dish with crumb mixture. Whip milk which has been chilled in freezing compartment.

Dissolve gelatine in hot water. Add sugar and lemon and lime juice and stir until sugar is dissolved.

After gelatine is partly set, whip until fluffy. Fold in whipped evaporated milk and chocolate bits.

Pour over cookie crumbs and place in refrigerator until ready to serve.

PUTTING THE FINISHING touches on a delicious Minted Brownie Pie are Girl Scouts, Cathy Jensen and Christy Wallace, of Palatine. This recipe utilizes the popular Chocolate Mint Cookies which Scouts are selling this week.

Week's Best food buys

Weather puts a damper on some seasonally new - arrival fresh fruits, to restrict this segment of the produce market on the weekly University of Illinois consumer service bargain buy list. Otherwise, few price-supply-quality problems confront consumers in retail food value selections for the week ending April 22.

Beef again rates as the major retail meat value as both wholesale and live markets note jockeying in supplies and quotes in an extra effort to stimulate consumer demand.

Moderately supplied pork and lamb continue on the spot-bargain buy list, against slow local demand and slightly lower costs for some cuts.

FRYERS and turkey prices continue lower, too, with limited promotional interest dulling the fryer picture and over-abundance holding turkeys in the doldrums.

Stewing hens are better supplied and find some feature attention. Eggs firmed in wholesale cost on increased processor demand, but hold steady at retail.

Fresh vegetable supplies continue relatively good, the tender salad greens being the best in consumer position. Weather problems that tend to ration fruit supplies also build some pressures under several staple vegetables.

IN GROCERIES, some tomato products and frozen orange juice currently register at new lower-cost levels.

The U of I value list, minus fruits, reads: meats—beef roast and porterhouse, sirloin and round steaks, ground beef, lamb leg roast and pork loin roast; poultry—turkeys and fryers; produce—tomatoes, lettuce, radishes, salad greens (endive, escarole, romaine), celery, potatoes and green beans.

Pricing showed few if any surprises, the only retail tag change being made on featured items. New promotional quotes include: beef—round steak 69 cents up, sirloin 79 cents up, porterhouse 89 cents up. Blade cut chuck roasts 39 cents up. Ground beef, 49-55 cents.

Pork—rib portion cuts 29-39 cents, loin, 39-49 cents. In half cuts, with fewer chops taken out, ribs range 39-49 cents and loins 49-59 cents on promotion. Without promotion, center cut chops range 85-89 cents, fresh boston butts 49-59 cents and spareribs, 49-55 cents competitively.

LAMB—general prices are steady, but spot promotions continue, with 69 cents as a top level on leg roasts serving as an indicator.

Poultry—fryers hold a 35-37 cent consensus range but drop to 27 cents on promotion, while 45 cents tags show on Beltsville and hen turkeys up to 14-pounds, and 39 cent quotes cover most toms.

Stewing hens hold a 45-49 cent general price level except on lighter weights which quote considerably lower.

In eggs, breaker trade activity is 122 per cent over year ago against 13 per cent lower supplies on the week, and storage stocks are short by 44,000 cases, but retails failed to yield and remain at the prevailing 47-51 cent range for grade A large whites.

PRODUCE — in fruits, bananas indicate the only relative market opportunity for relief in prices of most lines this week. Strawberries weather-reduced supplies are not enough to meet demand. Vegetables are more ample, with salad greens outstanding in the low price range. Firmer priced are carrots, cauliflower, sweetcorn, asparagus, better quality peppers, Mexican cantaloupe and Puerto Rican watermelon.

Italian Flavored Macaroni Made With Tomato Soup Mix

When you are faced with an invasion of hungry relatives or friends, an easy-to-fix casserole is the happiest solution to your problem. And to be even more specific, this delicious Tomato Macaroni Casserole, with its fine Italian flavor touch, is ideal for the occasion.

It is the sort of recipe that you can easily double or triple as the occasion demands. The principal requirements are macaroni and a superlative sauce that features a package of tomato vegetable soup mix.

The wide variety of vegetables in the soup mix not only gives flavor and color to this dish but adds extra nutritional value as well.

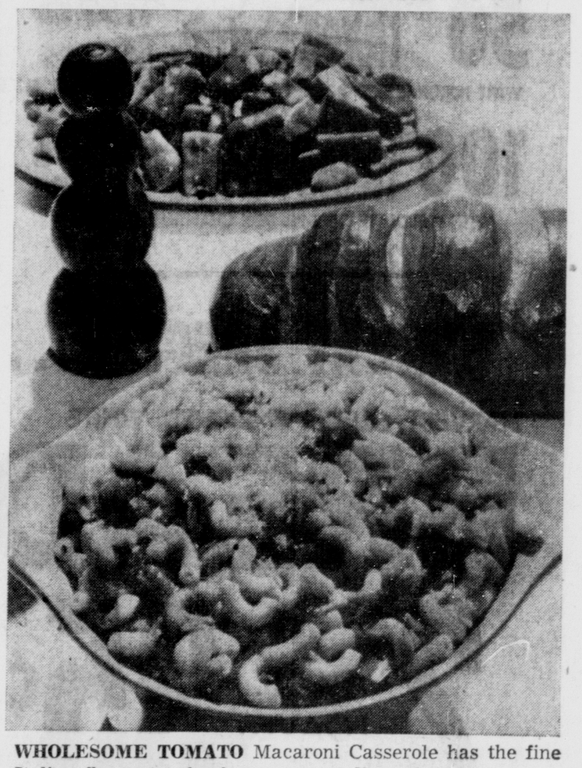
Served with green beans and herb buttered Italian bread, this is a menu the cook will enjoy as much as her guests.

TOMATO MACARONI CASSEROLE

1 cup uncooked elbow macaroni
2 tablespoons chopped green pepper
¼ cup chopped onion
1 small clove garlic, minced
1½ tablespoons olive oil
1½ cups boiling water
1 package tomato vegetable soup mix
¼ teaspoon oregano
½ teaspoon sugar
1 can tomato sauce
Parmesan cheese

Cook macaroni according to package directions. Saute green pepper, onion and garlic in olive oil. Add boiling water, soup mix, oregano, sugar and tomato sauce. Bring to a boil; simmer 10 minutes.

Combine sauce and cooked macaroni, pour into 1½ or 2 quart casserole. Sprinkle with Parmesan cheese. Bake in a moderate 350°F. oven 20 minutes. Serves 4 to 6.



WHOLESOME TOMATO Macaroni Casserole has the fine Italian flavor touch of oregano, garlic and green pepper. The sauce is most unusual since it is made with a handy package of tomato vegetable soup mix.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

by Edward Rentz

We in America have a great inferiority complex about our food for some inadequate reason or other. We seem to feel that Europe and the Near and Far East have the exclusive rights to good cuisines. Just why this should be, I'm at a loss to explain.

Just look at what we in this country have contributed in the way of good food to the diets of the Old World. There's the luscious red, and always welcome, tomato. And how about corn, found grown by the Indians when the Pilgrim fathers landed? Where, indeed, would the Irish be without the American potato?

Feed-Grain Program Key to Price Outlook

By L. H. SIMERL

Many farmers are asking about prospects for market prices for 1961 crop corn. The answer seems to depend largely on the extent to which farmers participate in the new feed-grain program.

If a large share of farmers sign up, corn prices seem likely to rise to within about 10 cents of the support level. If only a small share of farmers participate, prices may range around 80 to 90 cents a bushel.

FIRST, suppose that farmer participation is high, say 50 per cent in the seven leading corn states. Nonparticipating farmers would produce only about 2,500 million bushels of corn. This would be about 1,000 million bushels less than the quantity that will be needed for feed, industry and export. This amount would have to come from CCC stocks and from farms that participate in the program.

The CCC will sell enough corn to make up part of the deficit. It will be authorized to sell about half as much corn as would have been produced on the diverted acres, say 140 million bushels. The CCC could take over the export market and sell around 200 milion bushels more. Finally, it will sell corn that is in poor condition.

The Secretary thus has considerable leeway in selling CCC corn. We may recall, however, that Congress recently turned down a request for permission to make general sales of corn at less than 105 per cent of the support price. CCC officials will keep this in mind when making their sales plans. We believe that sales from CCC stocks would not be enough to meet market demands with prices as low as $1.00 a bushel. The additional corn needed would have to be drawn from farmers who could get price support loans.

IF HALF of the farmers in the seven leading corn states participate in the program, they will have over 1,100 million bushels eligible for price support. This is twice as much as has even been put under price support in any previous year. Farmers will take out price support loans until the market price rises so close to the support level that there is little or no advantage in taking the price support. The market price will tend to stabilize at that level. This may be around 10 cents below the support level.

Now suppose that participation in the feed-grain program is low, say only 25 per cent in the seven leading states. Production on nonparticipating farms would provide around 3,200 million bushels of corn. This would be only about 300 million bushels less than probable domestic and export needs. Sales from CCC stocks and from "overrun" production on participating farms could easily make up the difference. Market prices might then remain well below the support level, perhaps below $1.00 a bushel. (FM

Futures Markets May Be Useful in Advance Sales

A University of Illinois agricultural economist this week called farmers' attention to the futures markets as a means of selling their grain crops ahead of harvest, or even ahead of planting.

T. A. Hieronymus cited the April 6 market quotation in which the effective price for corn delivered at country elevators in mid-February 1962 was $1.11. The price for soybeans delivered next February was $2.33.

THESE PRICES may or may not be good sales, Hieronymus points out. Prices could be higher or lower next February. But farmers who are worried about prices a year from now can assure themselves of about $1.10 for corn and $2.30 for soybeans by selling futures.

Here is how the operation works: The recent quotation on March 1962 corn futures was $1.21. At this time of year, cash prices to farmers will be about 10 cents below this figure. So a farmer who wants to sell March futures would net about $1.11 when delivering to his local elevator. If the cash price next winter declined to $1.00, the farmer would sell his corn for this price. Then he would buy back his March futures contract, which would be about $1.10. He would get $1.00 from the cash sale of his corn and make 11 cents a bushel profit on his futures trade, so his total return would be about $1.11.

IF THE CASH price was $1.20, March futures would be about $1.30. He would have to buy back his futures contract at a loss of 9 cents a bushel. Subtracting this from the $1.20 cash price he received, he would net about $1.11.

The recent March soybean futures price was about $2.47. The difference between futures and cash is about 14 cents a bushel. So a farmer could sell March 1962 futures now and be assured of about $2.33 a bushel for the crop he delivers next winter.

Current futures prices reflect the combined judgment of all people in the market about what prices of grain will be a year from now, Hieronymus points out. That judgment now says that corn will be about $1.11 and soybeans about $2.30 to $2.35. The market stands ready to buy at these prices now, he concludes. (FM

Report Reasons for Some Farmers Financial Success

Important reasons why some tenant farmers made financial progress while some did not were reported this week by a University of Illinois farm management specialist.

Donald G. Smith drew these conclusions from a study of 30 operators who had made financial progress and 29 who had not during the period from 1955 to 1959.

The operators who made progress increased their farmland by 25 acres; the others had a reduction of four acres.

OPERATORS showing progress increased their corn and soybeans by 31 acres, while those making no progress increased by only 17 acres. The operators making progress intensified their cropping program, but they had only 68 per cent of their farm in these crops.

Those who made progress expanded livestock. The livestock inventory jumped $9,400 compared with only $1,400 on those farms where operators made no progress.

Although operators showing progress had less debt in 1955, each group had $8,800 debt in 1959. So the group showing financial progress actually borrowed $1,800 more than the other group.

THE GROUP showing financial progress boosted their net worth by $9,900 during the five-year period. Those showing no progress saw their net worth drop by $1,800.

Change in assets made the difference. The operators showing progress increased their assets from $21,300 to $35,600. The operators showing no progress raised their assets only $600.

Debts amounted to only 21 per cent of assets at the beginning and 25 per cent at the end for those who made progress. Those with no progress began with a debt of 34 per cent of total assets and increased it to 44 per cent.

Operators showing progress were more efficient managers than those showing no progress. They produced higher yields per acre and had higher returns for each $100 worth of feed fed to livestock.

BY MAINTAINING efficiency, by farming more land more intensively and by increasing volume of hogs and beef, the successful group achieved higher net income per hour of labor and also increased their capital assets.

The two groups in this study were about the same age, had families of the same size and the productivity of soil on the farms and years of farm experience were about equal.

Smith made this report before the Illinois Bankers Agricultural Conference at Urbana. (FM

Up and Coming on the Farm

Future Farmers of America — FFA — 4H CLUB

Capri Capers Complete Tour

Capri Capers 4-H group completed its tour of Quaker Oaks research department in Barrington April 7, with a visit to the Ken-l Ration research kennel. The group had previously visited the Ful-O-Pep research farm and the Quaker Oats laboratory.

Four prospective members attended the April 11 meeting of the Palatine Township 4-H which was held in the home of Dick and Mike Biddle on Roselle rd. They were Leslie Johnson, Craig Johnson, Paul Ahola and Gregg Harry.

Mr. Bergman read the 4-H calendar for the coming year which included the 4-H dance April 21 at the Firemen's hall in Palatine.

Ronn Buckley, recreation chairman, is going to look into the possibilities of bowling and roller skating for the club. He is also going to contact the Barrington Pioneers to make arrangements for baseball games during the summer.

Joan O'Connor is going downstate during 4-H club week in June.

Domonstrations were given by Bill Engler, "Making a Wood Box"; Mike Biddle, "Docking a Sheep"; and Dick Biddle, "A Lamb Creep." Dick Biddle also gave a talk on "Some Lambs Need Special Care."

The next meeting will be held in the home of Wayne Freise on Old Plum Grove rd. Kathy Barbera will help serve refreshments. (Fm

4-H'ers Hear Bottle Band

John Yaccina's Bottle Band of Maryville was present at the regular meeting, April 13, of the North Cook County federation.

Also the film, "Youth on the Go." was shown. Refreshments were served by the Happy Helpers of Mt. Prospect and the Snappy 4-H'ers.

Members are reminded of the 4-H dance Friday, April 21, at 8 p.m. in the Fireman's hall, Palatine. Tickers are available at the door. (Fm

Points to Consider In Buying a Puppy

"We should buy a dog." Perhaps someone in your family casually said this after watching the neighbors playing with their frisky dog.

The statement was quickly forgotten, only to pop up again and again until your family began to take it seriously. Finally, the decision was made, "We'll buy a dog as soon as it gets warmer and we can take him outdoors more often."

ONCE THE decision is made, prospective dog buyers must consider several important points, according to Dr. L. C. Helper, University of Illinois veterinarian.

The first point, according to Dr. Helper, is to decide what you want in a dog. Do you want a work dog, pet, watchdog, lap dog or outdoor dog?

"If a man prefers reading to exercise, he'll be happier with a dog that's not very active," Dr. Helper explained. "On the other hand, parents who want a dog for their children may be unhappy with a tiny, fragilyboned dog because children are often too hard on them."

THE SECOND consideration is where to buy the dog. You can save yourself grief and money by asking the local veterinarian about local breeders and pet shops. "Just as in any other field, there are good and bad pet shop dealers, breeders and kennels and the veterinarian usually knows if any diseases are prevalent in a certain establishment," Dr. Helper said.

Other points to consider:

1. Sex. A female is cleaner, more apt to stay home. On the other hand, her license may cost more and special precautions must be taken when she is in heat.

"Spayed females make as good a pet as males," Dr. Helper said. "Contrary to public opinion, a spayed dog's weight can be controlled so that it will not become overweight."

2. FIND out dates of distemper and canine hepatitis vaccinations. Also, find out what the dog was given—anti-serum or vaccination—so that your veterinarian can continue proper treatment. Breeders, according to Dr. Helper, keep a record of these things, whereas pet shops and humane societies may not have such records.

3. Rabies inoculation. If your puppy is three months or older, get him vaccinated.

4. Find out the diet. Unless there is a smooth transition in the puppy's diet, he may become ill. (FM

Q. When one is a house guest, should one make the move to go to bed, or does the hostess make this suggestion?

A. Usually the hostess makes the suggestion. But if the guest is really tired, she herself can properly admit this fact.

Q. Is a woman supposed to precede or follow her male escort as they walk along and shake hands with the members of a reception line?

A. The woman is always received first.

Hints To Home Owners

There's no pat answer to whether a spray or a dust, is better for controlling diseases and insects in home gardens and orchards. Here are some guides from the University of Illinois department of plant pathology:

For flowers: Dusts are better than sprays. They are easier to apply and stick better when the foliage is wet. Special equipment isn't needed either. U. of I. specialists recommend all-purpose dusts for home use. These mixes contain both insecticides and fungicides and control practically all common insects and diseases. For best results, be sure to follow the manufacturer's directions.

For vegetables: Either sprays or dusts are satisfactory, but complete coverage is the important thing. Again, dusts are easier to apply and do not need special equipment. All-purpose vegetable dusts, if used correctly, control both insects and diseases, but home-mixed sprays generally give better disease control. Some basic ingredients for home-mixed sprays are malathion as the insecticide, and maneb, zineb or captan as the fungicide. Specific problems require a more specific mix.

For fruits: Both dusts and sprays may be used. However, sprays usually give more effective coverage and consequently better control on such fruits as apples and strawberries. Fruit specialists say that home moxes are often better than all-purpose sprays. The basic materials needed for a home mix are lead arsenate, DDT and malathion as the insecticides, and captan, zineb and wettable sulfur as the fungicides.

The best times to apply dusts are in the early morning or late evening, when the leaves are damp and the air is still. Sprays however, can be applied any time when the air is fairly calm.

You can get a complete spray schedule for flowers, fruits and vegetables from your Cook county farm adviser's office, Cooperative Extension Service, 201 N. Dunton ave., Arlington Heights, Illinois. (Fm

Down On The Farm

CARL F. MEES

As I was traveling to Urbana last week, for the Farm and Home festival, those with me decided it was time for a coffee break.

We drove up to a small coffee shop in Ford county and my associate said to me, "If there are farmers in this shop, my guess is that they will be talking about the new feed grain program." Sure enough, there were several farmers here, and their topic of conversation was the feed grain program.

There has been much speculation about the number that will participate in the program. I have heard percentages from 40 to 50, but Secretary Freeman, who spoke at the Farm and Home festival, said he hoped there would be an 80 per cent participation. He did say, however, that his colleagues felt that he was maybe just a fraction high, and they had estimated that there would be about 70 per cent participation. I would not venture a guess as to the amount of participation. I think whether a farmer will participate or not depends upon his individual case.

The University of Illinois, farm management specialists, have worked out a special budget farm to help farmers work out their decisions on the program. This farm helps farmers to estimate their income if they participate and if they do not participate. It shows estimated fertilizer and other costs based on detailed research studies conducted by the department. When a farmer has worked through the farm he can see the difference between his income from participation and from nonparticipation.

I have a supply of these forms and would be happy to help anyone work them out for his individual farm, if he so desires. If you would like help, call me for an appointment. My telephone number is CLearbrook 3-6460.

THE PHILOSOPHY that if a little is good, more is better, does not apply to modern herbicides (chemical weed killrs). Many herbicides are selected for certain weeds, and unless the directions are followed carefully, the crop may be damaged.

Here are some precautions to follow: (1) Use herbicides only on crops for which they are specifically recommended; (2) use only recommended amounts, more is costly and may be unsafe if the crop is for food or feed; (3) follow application times suggested on the label and the directions to the letter. Observe recommended intervals between treatment and harvest; (4) wear goggles, rubber gloves and other protective clothing as recommended on the label; (5) guard against possible injury to nearby plants.

Where weeds are a problem herbicides usually more than pay for themselves by increasing yields and they are a big help with weeds that cannot be controlled with normal cultural practices.

TODAY THERE are some 8,000 new food products on the market that were not in existence 10 years ago. No wonder one is confused when he is trying to purchase things today.

We often wonder just how close we are able to plant our crops to gain an advantage in yield. At the University of Illinois, experimental plots last year, corn planted in 20 inch wide rows with a high plant food application yielded about the same as that conventional 40 inch row.

Feed Grain Deadline Set

The Cook County ASC office has announced that the final date for sign-up in the 1961 Feed Grain program is May 26, 1961. Producers who do not sign an intention to participate by that date will not be eligible for price support on feed grains nor for payment on acres diverted from corn production.

Eligibility for price support on soybeans is not tied into the feed grain program. However, producers desiring soybean price support must maintain their 1959-1960 average of soil conserving crops and idle acres. (FM

Carelessness Is Pesticide Hazard

A research entomologist warns farmers that the real hazard they face in using livestock pesticides is their own carelessness. George C. Decker of the Illinois Natural History Survey said that there have been no cases of death or illness in either man or animals traceable to pesticides used according to their label instructions.

PESTICIDES are chemicals used to control insects or other pests on plants and animals.

Thousands and sometimes millions of dollars worth of research stand back of label instructions. Such research is necessary before the U.S.D.A. approves a product for use. Before they grant approval, the manufacturer must present scientific evidence that if the product is used according to directions, it will work satisfactorily without injuring man or other animals and crops, that it's not supposed to harm.

Yet due to irresponsibility, carelessness, delusion and skepticism, pesticides are often mis-used, said Decker. Too, there have been cases when pesticide users, or their neighbors, have wrongly charged pesticides with harming animals or crops. Research men know what quantity of a pesticide that animals or crops can tolerate. Therefore they can readily tell if a pesticide was the real villain in causing injury.

DECKER pointed out that many farmers question such restrictions as "Do not harvest, "Do not feed," or "Do not pasture for X number of days." And some don't follow these restrictions. Yet they are asking for trouble because some pesticides remain in body fat or are excreted in milk unless these restrictions are followed. If the farmer is "discovered." he is subject to legal action and his products cannot be legally sold. (FM

Sea Trip Fun For Children

Wonderful Times Are Aboard Ocean Liner

Thought of taking a cruise on an ocean liner, but putting it off "until the children get older?"

Go now — BEFORE they grow up — suggests Matson Lines, whose luxury liners, the SS Lurline and Matsonia, will be host to the "Suburbia Sea Party" to Hawaii this spring, being organized by Paddock Publications.

Taking children along on ship trips is a bargain, both for the pocketbook, and for parents' peace of mind.

Infants up to a year old, get to travel for a near nothing — $20 anywhere on Matson's routes. Children up to the age of 12 go for half the fare of a parent.

CHILDREN ON a ship are something special to the officers — most of whom are family men. You often see deck stewards enlisting the "help" of some delighted youngster to put away the horses after the horseracing games, or to collect paper cups and plates after a picnic lunch.

The Matson liners provide playrooms, with supervised attendance by motherly stewardesses during certain hours each day at sea. Games are as abundant in these floating playrooms, as in any toy store ashore.

All deck sports, with the exception of trapshooting, are open to children. They probably have the most fun with shuffleboard, a game most seem to find hilarious, since the pushers are often twice their height.

If enough children are aboard, the ship's chef draws up special childrens' menus. (Otherwise, junior portions of the regular adult menu are served).

A typical recent Matson menu for "keikis" (Hawaiian for children) started with a "pirate's cocktail" (orange and pineapple juice with a cherry on top), gave for a choice of entrees a "Farmer in the dell pate" (chopped sirloin steak), "Big wolf's dinner" (lamb chops), "Sitting bull on a board" (a hamburger), "Dog House" (hot dog), or "Sea chicken" (scrambled eggs with tuna fish), with either "Georgie Porgie Pudding" (custard) or "Fairy Food" (ice cream) for dessert.

TRAVEL BY sea is educational, too. Children usually pick up the salty jargon of the sea (foc'sle, bulkhead, etc.) sooner than their parents. Tours to the navigating bridge are open to youngsters. And sometimes they're invited to visit the galley, as well — a special treat since the pastry chef will usually pass out samples of his freshly-baked cookies.

Children also are welcome to join Matson's seagoing hula school.

A trip on an ocean liner is an enlightening and educational experience for a child. Seagulls, gooney birds, flying fish and porpoises will become like old friends.

It's an experience which will be part of him for the rest of his life. (A 14

Modern Etiquette

Q. Just what is a girl supposed to reply to a fellow when he says "Thank you" after they have danced together? Iusually say "You're welcome."

A. Although "You're welcome" is correct enough, it does sound a little trite. I think it's nice for a girl to say in different ways, "I enjoyed it, too," and to sound as though she meant it. Even the girl who doesn't dance very well can make the boy feel so appreciated that he'll come back for another "go-round."

Q. Isn't it proper for a woman to use her maiden name as a middle name after she is married?

A. This is the established custom. In other words, after Joyce Margaret Denton marries William Henry Morgan, she then becomes Joyce Denton Morgan.

Q. What is the best and easiest way to introduce married couples to each other?

A. One good way is merely: Mr. and Mrs. Carson. Mr. and Mrs. Rogers." Or, "Mary and Tom Carson, Helen and Dick Rogers."

SUBURBAN PRESS FOUNDATION — ADVANCING FAMILY COMMUNITY LIFE

THURS., APRIL 20, 1961

The Way We See It

'Playing Politics' With Human Misery

Programs of social welfare are the mark of a dignified society and should not be considered merely as a spending program, Governor Otto Kerner told a meeting of the Illinois Retail Merchants Association last week.

We share the governor's sentiments and hope his words will reach the ears of suburban legislators. For some of these gentlemen, it appears, spend most of their time making political capital out of attacking the administration of Illinois' social welfare programs.

We suspect that much of their concern over trying to cut costs of aid programs through efficient administration hides a basic opposition to aid programs in general.

These representatives talk of the "public dole" and sound the alarm over the approaching "welfare state." They argue that public aid encourages illegitimacy, promotes idleness, and robs the taxpayer.

When these irresponsible charges are refuted by reputable studies made by committees headed by hardheaded businessmen and civic leaders, opponents of aid programs shift to the charge that such programs aren't being administered economically.

Certainly, public funds should be handled judiciously and all spending programs constantly reviewed with an eye to giving better service for fewer dollars.

Just as certainly, we have a responsibility as individuals and as a society to make life meaningful for those victims of an increasingly complex economic and social system.

The helpless young, the forgotten old, the disabled, those thrown out of work by automation, the mentally disturbed, the homeless and the hungry — all exist in Illinois and the nation.

Our fast moving, decentralized society has sped past the day when these people could expect and receive assistance from family, friends or neighbors.

As stated by Gov. Kerner: "The simplicity of government, as it existed a century ago, is forever past because government does now as it did then — it mirrors life."

This life today in a large industrial state, such as Illinois, finds men without work who want to work. It finds thousands of families disintegrated by the stresses of urban life. It finds 2,000 mentally retarded youngsters on a three year waiting list for admittance to institutions.

We feel legislators who oppose programs to aid these people or who would emasculate such programs under the guise of fiscal responsibility are, at best, ignorant of conditions outside their own districts. At worst, they are guilty of playing politics with human misery.

Suburban Libraries Keep Pace with Area's Growth

Northwest suburban libraries are currently observing National Library Week. Theme for the occasion is: "For a richer, fuller life — Read." This prompts us to assess the part our area libraries are playing in bringing the rich, full life to suburban residents.

Elk Grove Village's library was open 10 hours a week in July, 1960. It now remains open 28 hours a week. The library board's president predicts it will be open six days a week, 10 hours a day before the year ends.

The Palatine library is circulating an average of 7,000 books a month, a 14 per cent increase over last year. Since the first of the year, the library has picked up 338 new registered borrowers.

Arlington Heights' library has nearly 15,000 borrowers, over 10 times the number that were checking out books in 1952.

Rolling Meadows' library celebrated its first anniversary in February with over 1,000 families registered.

Mt. Prospect library gained 1,870 readers during 1960. Residents approved by a 3½ to 1 margin last month a $189,000 bond issue to enlarge the library.

A room in Hoffman school will serve Hoffman Estates and Schaumburg as a library. It opened this month with 6,000 volumes.

Wood Dale completed a new library in 1960 with public subscription funds. Roselle is contemplating a new library building.

Wheeling circulates over 1,100 books a month to 1,800 holders of library cards.

From these statistics it should be obvious that area libraries play a vital and growing part in making our communities better places in which to live. In bringing us "a richer, fuller life," they have earned our support.

School Board Candidates Used Irresponsible Plea

Residents of Mount Prospect and Elk Grove Village were recipients of a one page political epistle on the eve of the high school district 214 school board election April 8. The leaflet featured an emotional plea to "keep Arlington from dominating the school board" by electing the Mount Prospect and Elk Grove candidates, Daryl Oldaker and Charles Fyfe.

"Vote for only two," the literature instructed in tones which warned of possible disaster if the taxpayers did otherwise. There was no secret of the leaflet's success. Votes from the two villages more than carried Oldaker and Fyfe to victory.

While school board candidates, like other office aspirants, should be expected to "get out and work" for their votes, we deplore tactics which deliberately mislead the electorate. The leaflet made no mention of the Rolling Meadows candidate, Orville Rumrey, who was seeking another term on the board. He was "lumped" in with the Arlington Heights candidates who, the bulletin implied, were attempting to take over the board.

Even more important, the emphasis on loyalty to the "hometown candidate" is an approach which deserves no one's respect. We should have preferred votes for three good candidates, regardless of home address. We should have preferred candidates who wanted to represent a school district, not one or two villages.

Red's Whirl Around World

Hardware Feat Boasting Is Both Silly and Dangerous

By DICK HOFFMANN

The Soviet Union's orbiting of a space vehicle reminds me not so much of man's great promise but rather of his great capacity for folly.

It brings to mind Arch Obeler's "The Night of the Auk," presented not too long ago on Play of the Week. Obeler (whose "Lights Out" program of radio days some might remember) wrote of how an American space team's triumph of landing on the moon was turned to terror.

The strutting prose of one of the members of the moon expedition triggers the final war, for acting out of fear the enemy, presumably Russia, attacks and the world is enveloped in the rage of the nuclear firestorms.

WHILE I DO not conceive of the United States suddenly in a moment of quipe over Soviet space successes pressing the button to terminate life on earth, the fact that such means of destruction can be readily employed by both sides puts not only our species but most forms of life in jeopardy.

We live on borrowed time as long as an arsenal—beyond all comprehension—exists to eradicate existence. We live in peril not only of war by accident and miscalculation but also of war by misunderstanding and misinterpretation.

This is why the boastful breast-beating of Russian politicians over the trip around the world in 108 minutes is both silly and dangerous.

THE CLAIM that this hardware feat demonstrates the superiority of the "Communist" over the "Capitalist" system is sheer nonsense. In the first place, Russia employs a form of state capitalism in its means of production and distribution of goods. Secondly, capitalism is not a way of life in the West, but an economic system.

The difference in the two systems is that a totalitarian government can mobilize its resources more effectively and efficiently than a democracy. This plus the initial contributions of German scientists is probably what launched the history-making flight.

I don't doubt that if it had been the United States which had achieved this "distinction," there would be politicians in this country happily applying it as a yardstick of comparisons.

THE REMARK attributed to a British scientist that this flight was "the greatest scientific achievement of all time" is an utterance remarkable for its shortsightedness. Man has devised a mechanical means of putting himself in space, but for what reason? Is it to push back the boundaries of knowledge?; is it another adventure man has launched to the new frontiers of space?; or is it merely an extension of political ambition?

If we were to find other forms of life in the distant galaxies of the universe—life which isn't dependent on our particular conditions for existence, but beyond our meager comprehension—would we try to conquer these forms? Would they have to be good Communists or believe in free enterprise to be permitted to live in peace?

As long as poverty and fear and hate and illness and ignorance walk in our midst, how can we regard this space spectacular as the greatest of scientific achievements.

I do not mean to detract from Spaceman Gagarin's splendid display of courage or the fact that this act of applied science is historic in content.

But if the Soviet spaceman had any message for us at all, it was—as he observed us from his lonely vantage point on the rim of man's yearning—his description of the earth's beauty. It was actually unutterable; he said he could not fit it into words.

The first man ever to observe what Columbus had guessed, he saw the curved profile of our land defined by a band of delicate blue made vivid against the black curtain of outer space.

MAN NOW has it within his providence to erase this beauty, to turn it into a bit of cosmic dust. He can bring about the Night of the Auk (the Great Auk, if you haven't guessed, is an extinct bird). I recall a science fiction tale in which a sensitive being on seeing how man had defiled a Martian civilization was reminded of Byron's lines:

So we'll go no more a roving
So late into the night
Though the heart be still as loving,
And the moon be still as bright.
For the sword outwears its sheath,
And the soul wears out the breast,
And the heart must pause to breathe,
And love itself have rest.
Though the night was made for loving,
And the day returns too soon,
Yet we'll go no more a roving
By the light of the moon.

Legislation Aimed To Help Prisoners

by REP. PAUL SIMON

Imagine, for a moment, that you are a prisoner in one of the state's penitentiaries.

After serving part of your term, you might be eligible to receive parole. If you are granted parole, then you have supervision to help you adjust to the new life "outside."

But let's say for one of a number of good reasons — which may have nothing to do with your conduct or rehabilitation — that you are not given parole. You finally are discharged after serving your time, with a little off for good behavior.

You may not have been on the "outside" for 25 years; you might be crippled and blind; you may have all kinds of emotional problems — but you receive not one bit of help from the State of Illinois.

THE PRISONER on parole — generally the one who needs help the least—is given help. The prisoner who is discharged is just dropped flat.

Right now many workers — with no prison record — are having a hard time finding a job — but the fellow with few or no friends, the fellow who must carry the label of being an "ex con", has an extremely hard time to get started. The result is that many in desperation go back to doing the very thing that got them in prison.

Last week I introduced a bill to change this, a bill which has the support of Joseph Ragen, director of the Department of Public Safety, and the support of Eugene Zemaitis, executive secretary of the John Howard Association, the leading group working to rehabilitate men who have served in prison.

THE PROPOSAL would set up in Illinois a law similar to that which the federal government has. A prisoner would be given a "conditional release" 90 days before his discharge. During those 90 days he would be given help and supervision just as any parolee would receive. If he goes bad, he must return to prison to serve out his term.

Those first 90 days are important, since this is when most "repeaters" get in trouble again. This is when they need help the most.

Fortunately, this measure not only makes sense in helping prisoners, but it will save the state some money. Supervising a man costs about one-fifth as much as keeping him in prison, so that during the first two years the plan is in operation, the state will save approximately $500,000.

THERE IS the added saving of keeping some men from returning, making them taxpayers instead of tax losses.

Also, it would reduce our prison population, making it easier for our prison wardens to do a better job of rehabilitation.

No matter how you look at it, this legislation seems to make sense. It saves lives and it saves dollars.

Witty Book On Marriage

Some Sage and Clever Advice to He's, She's

by MARTIN E. MARTY

Assume, for a moment, that this newspaper arrives in the home during the day while husband and father is gone; assume that the eyes of wife and mother have strayed to this column.

Then, let's try an experiment: when Mr. comes home this evening, after dinner, have Mrs. sit him down ceremoniously and say this one magic phrase, "Dear, I've got something to tell you."

Strong men will weep, sure men will stagger, no man will emerge unscathed. It could mean that she has to tell him that Junior has broken the neighbor's picture window or that daughter has flunked algebra or that "mother is coming to live with us. Never is the phrase taken lightly in male ears.

IN A NEW book, "Life with Women and How To Survive It," Dr. Joseph H. Peck, M. D., (Prentice-Hall, $3.50), uses the phrase to title the chapter in which Mrs. tells Mr. that she is expecting.

It is one of dozens of reflections on the coexistence of he's and she's that make up the meat of a witty and often wise book. I have been accused of reviewing too many too-sombre books; this one, indeed, breaks that mold. I am usually reluctant to deal with "self-help" or "how to" books; but again, this one is rather exceptional. But I have other reasons beyond desire to read escape literature for noting this book.

As many readers know, I am a Protestant clergyman, and thus a beneficiary of the tradition of Martin Luther who, with all other Protestant reformers did not find clerical celibacy a virtue and himself married.

I am told that once upon a time Roman Catholic young fellows were taught that Luther started the reformation in order to marry; but Protestant young fellows dismissed that when they learned that it took him seven or eight years after his pronouncements on married clergy to become part of it.

I think both have some point: The Reformer did not want to make a point about his understanding of man, woman, and gender; he also knew what he was doing when he expressed a certain reluctance by a long delay in marrying and becoming interested in a woman (which seemed to be the sequence in his case).

AS I SAY, a good deal can be learned about what man is through an understanding of marriage. "Dear, I have something to tell you." I wonder whether any prophet could throw as much terror or any philosopher imply so much meaning as can any Sweet Thing who uses the phrase.

There is another reason for interest in this book and this type of book. So often our approaches to marriage are seen in a grim, grim, background of complexity. I believe that marriages, and problem-solving in marriages, could be vastly improved if we saw the essential humor involved in the whole situation. This Dr. Peck does, as he discusses cosmetics, homemaking, conflicts of schedule, confusion of personality, and all the rest. and all the rest.

And out of the humor can grow new understanding, new love — the kind of thing marriage counsellors and ministers talk about and hope for in client and congregation. Peck ends on that note, recalling Mark Twain's line attributed to Adam after Eve died, "Wheresoever she was, there was Eden."

Quotoons

You're never quite sure how you feel about a neighbor until you run into him broiling steaks on the backyard grill.

An ideal apartment is one in which the only time you ever hear the people next door is when they laugh.

The most disillusioned girls are those who got married because they were tired of going steady.

The girl who sits back and waits until the right man comes along frequently is left holding the bouquet.

A man is happy as long as he wants to do things even though he knows he could get along without doing them.

Middle age is the time of life when a man starts blaming the cleaners because his suits are shrinking.

Every good doctor knows that some of the best pills he ever gave his patients were dummies.

Grandparents can contribute a lot to a young man's success, especially if they're very wealthy.

When a person says he has a well-trained conscience he usually means it obeys him.

WITH THE EARLY THUMB GETTING THE PLUMS, JUST LOOK AT THESE HOMES THAT HAVE JUST BEEN LISTED

Frankly, it's exciting to have a 7-room brick ranch with a 24x10' knotty pine family room, to offer at $17,900. 3 bedrms. and 2 full baths. The owner of this home has included a new Kenmore automatic washer & dryer, water softener, even awnings, drapes & curtains thruout the home. All on a 100x200' lot a short way from the northwest expressway entrances.

Here in this 5-year-old ranch you will receive many oh's and ah's when you show this home with 3 good size bedrooms, dining room and a semi-finished family room off the kitchen. All this at the unbelievable price of $18,500. The owner has kept this home in immaculate condition with a beautifully landscaped 90 ft. lot.

We're kind of proud to tell you about this 3 bedroom all brick Colonial ranch. This charming home with a full basement & 2-car garage is on a large landscaped corner lot in one of the nicest sections of Palatine. For only $19,900. Plaster walls, hardwood floors, tile bath, fine interior details are all part of this tempter.

Property like this is hard to find. Two beautifully landscaped secluded acres with a top quality 8-room main house, plus a new 4-room apartment in second building that also has a large recreation room, finished hobby room and a 2-car garage. Happiness can be had for all in this $49,750 home. This certinly must be seen if you have both growing children and an "elder statesman" in your family.

Our office is buzzing with activity. Spring buyers are keeping us jumping. We need more houses to sell — we need your home. Won't you please call us today if you are thinking of selling your home and want action. We will look at your property immediately and help you in every way we can with no obligation.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Richard F. Whiting, Jr., who passed away April 20, 1959.
Memories are treasures no one can steal
Death is a heartache nothing can heal
Some may forget him now that he's gone
But we shall remember, no matter how long.

Remember when BILLS WERE PAID FROM A COOKIE JAR?

Today, A Citizens Checking Account Replaces the Cookie Jar – With Convenience, Safety and Economy

Not many families use the old fashioned cookie jar today — except as a place to keep cookies. Because it's so easy to open a checking account of your own at Citizens.

If you have been accustomed to paying bills with money orders you'll never know how convenient a checking account can be until you try it — and you'll never know how much you save in money order charges. It's like carrying a private "money order window" in your pocket.

And did you know that Citizens has a checking account for you that requires no minimum balance, for which you pay only for the checks you use (plus a 15c monthly charge) with all the checks you want supplied free — imprinted with your name.

If you have denied yourself the luxury of a checking account because you thought it "wasn't for you," stop in to see Louis Reedy at Citizens or call him on the phone. He'll explain the two kinds of checking accounts Citizens have to offer and will show you that there is no reason why you should be without one. And if you still like the cookie jar — keep your checkbook in it.
